The Evergreen Mountains of Life.

BY JAMES G. CLARK.

There's a land far away 'mid the moun-
are told,
Where they know not the sorrows of valleys
Where the pure waters wand
of gold,
And life is a treasure
'Tis the land of our fondly roll,
the soul, [illegible] reaches his goal,
Where ages of [illegible] mains of life.
Where the way-
On the everg[illegible] to that beautiful land,
Our gaze [illegible] have told of its bliss—
But oft[illegible] the gald from its gardens are
And oft [illegible] in the desert of this [illegible] sometimes have long'd for its holy [illegible]
Our spirits were torn with temptations
and woes,
And we've drank from the tide of the river
that flows
From the evergreen mountains of life.

O[illegible] the stars never tread the blue heavens at night,
But we think where the ransom'd have trod
And the day never smiles from its palace of light,
But we feel the bright smiles of our God.
We are traveling homeward—thro' changes
and gloom,
To a kingdom where pleasures unchantingly
bloom,
And our guide is the glory that shines thro'
the tomb,
From the evergreen mountains of life.

Humorous.

A Thrilling Romance.

[A Burlesque on the Sensation Stories of the day.]

CHAPTER I.

In a beautiful log cabin in the mountains of old Virginia our tale opens.—Around, nature's loveliness was sublime The lofty trees hung out their green leaves in perfection, and the high rocks caught the gray mists of the morning and pressed them in their rough bosoms until they melted in tears against their sides. A lovely maiden was sitting by the table, combing her hair with a fine-tooth comb—a manly form enters the door, and stealthily creeps up behind her —and—

CHAPTER II.

"Ah! John," exclaimed the lovely heiress of that beautiful cabin and the extensive potato patch behind it, "you ought not to do that way!"

"Lay it all on my love, gal!"

"Love! there's no such thing among folks!"

"The turtle dove,
Only knows we love,"

as the poet sings.

"Then you don't love me?"

"No!"

"No! Jane, call back that word."

"No! oh, no! Come back here! 'Twon't come, John—'tis gone!"

"Then I'm gone, too!"

And the impassionate youth rushes from the cabin like a maniac.

CHAPTER III.

Sadly did the young man run along the road, while the girl, first and submissive in the discharge of her duty.

Meanwhile the youth flew on; the burning fever of his heart maddened in his brain; and he thought of self destruction. Jerking his pocket comb out of his vest pocket, vainly did he endeavor to cut his throat. Nature, however, who had blessed him with a tough skin, proved too strong for him; he rushed to the wagon rut—there was water at least two inches deep, and he flung himself into, or rather upon it. There he lay full five seconds, when Henry Cleft, the father of the gal, passed by.

CHAPTER IV.

He soon unfolded his sad tale to his friend, and finally consented to live if Henry would give him a chew of his tobacco. He returned to the house and in his haggard countenance Jane saw his unhappy condition. He never got over it though. About twenty years after he fell from a wagon, and his neck was broken, for a sheriff had thoughtlessly slipped a rope over his head.

THE END.

WOULDN'T "BACK DOWN."—A good anecdote is told of a man named Bently, a confirmed drinker, who would never drink with a friend nor in public, and always bitterly denied, when a little too steep, ever tasting liquor. One day some bad witnesses concealed themselves in his room, and when the liquor was running down his throat, seized him with his arm crooked and his mouth open, and holding him fast, asked with an air of triumph:

"Ah, Bently, have we caught you at last? You never drink, ha?"

No one would have supposed but that Bently would have acknowledged the corn; not he! with the most grave and inexpressible face, he calmly, and in a dignified manner said, "Gentlemen, my name is not Bently."

—An Irishman who had jumped into the water to save a man from drowning, on receiving a sixpence from a person as a reward for his service, looked first at the sixpence and then at him, and at last exclaimed:

"Well, I'm over paid for the job."

—An editor down South reports himself sun struck, and says he is recovering, though the blow was a heavy one—an eleven pounder.

—"Mother," said a little urchin, about five years old, "why don't the teacher make me monitor sometimes? I can lick every boy in my class but one."

—Two men out west undertook to see which could run the fastest. One was the sheriff, and the other was the thief.

—The lash that a man does not object to being laid on his shoulder—The eyelash of a pretty girl.

—If you think it is an easy thing to square the circle, just go and settle your wife's bill for hoops.

—Did the man who ploughed the sea and afterward planted his feet on his native soil, ever harvest the crops?

—"If you are not careful, wife, I shall lose my temper." "Well, I shall not help you to find it if you do."

Being a Practical Machinist, with sixteen years practical experience in agricultural machinery, is thoroughly competent to put the above machines in order and repair whenever it is necessary; thus saving the farmer the necessity of laying aside his old machines and purchasing new ones, to which expense and inconvenience he is subject by purchasing his machines from parties who are unacquainted with them.

ADVICE regarding the Repairing of Machines and the proper arrangements of the extra repairs, most cheerfully given.

EVERY FARMER

SHOULD HAVE A

REAPER AND MOWER.

He should purchase them where he can get them at the lowest prices;

He should purchase them of a practical Machinist, who can keep them in Repair, and has complete Repairs constantly on hand;

He should purchase them from the Manufacturers' Agent;

He should purchase of the person who is best able to select for him the Machines best adapted to his wants;

He should purchase of him who has the greatest assortment to select from.

The above requirements the subscriber has the pleasure to state he possesses, and respectfully submits his claims for the patronage of the farming community.

SOLUBLE PHOSPHATED

PERUVIAN GUANO,

MADE OF GUANOS OF DIRECT IMPORTATION,

Under the personal supervision and direction of Dr. R. H. STABLER, Chemist, of Alexandria, Va.

THIS FERTILIZER

We confidently recommend as the most permanent and cheapest yet offered to the public. Being composed of

No. 1 Peruvian and Sombrero GUANOS,

OUR OWN DIRECT IMPORTATION FROM THE CHINCHA & SOMBRERO ISLANDS.

WE WARRANT IT in every respect.

The Sombrero Guano,

after being mixed, is rendered immediately soluble, by the addition of Sulphuric acid.—This treatment is universally recommended by the most eminent agricultural chemists. Without it, the action of the two Guanos when mixed is not simultaneous, and consequently comparatively inefficient.

This is the only mixture of the Ammoniated and Phosphatic GUANOS we know of, yet offered to the Agricultural community, in a reliable form.

Price $50 per ton of 2000 lbs.

Orders sent from those who applied the above FERTILIZER to their crops last fall, are satisfactory—so much so, indeed, as to convince us that our Soluble Phosphatic Peruvian Guano will, ere long, be almost universally used in this section, as a substitute for the Peruvian Guano, which, without the addition of Phosphate tends rather to exhaust than permanently to improve the soil.

An Important Letter

From Rev. JACOB SECKLER, well known and highly respected throughout the State of Pennsylvania:

HANOVER, Pa., February 16, 1855.

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & Co., Boston.—Dear Sirs: Having realized in my family important benefits from the use of your valuable preparation—Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry—it affords me pleasure to recommend it to the public. Some eight years ago one of my daughters seemed to be in a decline, and little hopes of her recovery were entertained. I then procured a bottle of your excellent Balsam, and before she had taken the whole of the contents of the bottle, there was a great improvement in her health. I have in my individual case, made frequent use of your valuable medicine, and have always been benefitted by it. I would, however, caution the public against imposition, because there is a good deal of spurious Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry afloat throughout the country.

JACOB SECKLER.

MILFORD, Del., October 25, 1856.

S. W. FOWLE & Co., Boston: Please send me a supply of Wistar's Balsam, as I am nearly out and there is a great demand for it; it is doing wonders; it cures Coughs, Asthma, Whooping Cough and Consumption, without fail. There has never been any of the genuine here until you sent me a lot some time since, but plenty of the counterfeit.

Yours, truly, JACOB Y. FOULK.

PATENT SELF-REGULATING

GRAIN SEPARATOR,

AND THE LATEST IMPROVED

'Iron Tripple-Geared'

HORSE-POWER,

All furnished Complete. If desired, on FOUR Wheels.

THE subscribers desire to call the attention of the Farmers and Threshermen of Montgomery and adjoining counties to their Improved Machines for the present year. This machine has now been before the public for six years, during which time it has earned for itself the reputation of being the best Separator in use; and we have made some very important improvements and addition, for the present year, which renders it still more perfect, and we take pleasure in recommending it to the public, knowing that it cannot fail to give general satisfaction. We are now manufacturing two different sizes, as follows:

No. 1, the largest size, is 8-horse power, 26-inch Iron Cylinder, Trunk 37 inches wide, with Stacker, delivering the straw 20 feet beyond the feeder and upon the stack 16 feet high, and can be easily managed either to carry the chaff with the straw, or deliver it in a separate place if required. It bags the grain, by reasonable management, sufficiently clean for market, and its capacity, under ordinary circumstances, is from 20 to 40 bushels per hour, or from 200 to 500 bushels per day, using eight horses and the same number of hands; but to force the work, under the most favorable circumstances, it will do considerably more, or, with the same number of horses and less hands, it will thrash and clean as much or more grain per day than any other machine now in common use and with much more ease and agreeableness to the hands.

No. 2 is the same as No. 1, except something less in size and capacity; it is from 4 to 6-horse power, 20-inch Iron Cylinder, Trunk 31 inches wide.

Persons having good Threshers, can have Separators suitable to their capacity, at cheap, at a comparatively small cost. All our machines are sold under a warrantee.

We being practical mechanics, and being engaged in the manufacture of these machines for the last five years, and one of us having the advantage of twenty years practical experience in the threshing machine business, and having in our employ the most skillful workmen, and using the best material, we flatter ourselves that we are now prepared to manufacture these celebrated machines in the most substantial manner.

REPAIRING done in workmanlike manner. All our work warranted to give satisfaction, or money refunded. Orders respectfully solicited.

THE subscriber respectfully informs the citizens of Montgomery county and the public generally, that he still continues carrying on the Brookville, the BLACKSMITHING BUSINESS, in all its various branches.

He is prepared to do HORSE-SHOEING, CARRIAGE WORK, REPAIR, REPAINTS, and all other work in his line, with neatness, durability and despatch.

All persons in favor of encouraging home industry, will please call on the undersigned, and they will be treated to the [illegible] satisfaction.

Thankful for the patronage heretofore bestowed, he solicits a continuance of the same.
