

L. H. Journal Original will passe as it is, and leave the Amendments to the next meeting of Assembly That soe the places being knowne building may goe forward, and the Jnconveniencies arrising Vpon this bill may the sooner be found, & consequently remedied, since it ought not to be surmised that either of the houses will obstinately refuse their Concurrence to promote soe greate a good as the safety of the province to which this bill tends by the Vote of both houses—
