By the Petition of Thomas Addison, accompanied by a transcript from the Records of Kent County Court it appears that he was fined by the said Court, at March Term 1828, the sum of thirty three dollars thirty three cents and one third of a cent, for selling liquors on Sunday. The Petitioner states that he has been engaged for the last few years in keeping a small store, and that in August 1827 he invited some friends home with him on a Sunday to enjoy a social glass of grog, and that amongst the number was a respectable Magistrate, and Constable of the County; that they rode up and were also invited into his house; that he believing the prosecution to have been commenced and carried on against him in consequence of an affront having been subsequently given to the Witness who appeared against him, by refusing to trust him. He therefore prays to be released from the said fine. And sundry respectable citizens of the said County, having recommended him to Executive Clemency — We do hereby remit the said fine.
