

person taken thereon, the court, on motion of the attorney-general or his deputy, shall order judgment against such sheriff for the amount—1795, ch. 74, sec. 4, . . . . .	327
Judgment may be entered on motion against a sheriff or collector refusing or neglecting to pay over money levied, collected or received, or which ought to have been paid—1797, ch. 43, sec. 1, . . . . .	347
Judgment may be entered in the same manner by a sheriff or collector against his deputy—1797, ch. 43, sec. 2, . . . . .	348
Judgments and decrees against the estate of a deceased person shall be wholly discharged before any part of other claims—1798, ch. 101, sub ch. 8, sec. 17, . . . . .	393
On reversing any judgment, or part thereof, at law, the court of appeals empowered to give the proper judgment—1800, ch. 69, . . . . .	430
To be enforced by execution as by the other court—1800, ch. 69, . . . . .	430
Judgment when to be entered, on motion, on the bonds given by county clerks for money due to the state—1800, ch. 82, sec. 4, . . . . .	432
Fees on rendering judgment allowed to a justice of the peace—1801, ch. 74, sec. 30, . . . . .	462
Executors or administrators not bound to notice or discover any judgments, &c. against the deceased, but the creditors thereon to exhibit their claims as other creditors, subject to be barred in like manner—1802, ch. 101, sec. 8, . . . . .	474
Judgments on suits transferred to the county courts not to be reversed for want of legal form in the record—1806, ch. 41, sec. 2, . . . . .	540
On reversal in the court of appeals, the writ of procedendo, when necessary, to go to the county courts then established, &c.—1806, ch. 90, . . . . .	544
Directions concerning attachments with clause of scire facias, and writs of scire facias on judgments in the late general court, or to be rendered in the court of appeals—1806, ch. 90, sec. 2, p. 544; sec. 3, . . . . .	545
Judgments on verdict not to be stayed or reversed for any defect of form or substance in any writ, or for any variance, or for defects in any count in the declaration, so that there be one good count—1809, ch. 153, sec. 2, . . . . .	589
Judgments on verdicts to carry interest on the damages as in cases of confession—1809, ch. 153, sec. 4, . . . . .	590
Same as to judgments for small debts—1809, ch. 153, sec. 5, . . . . .	590
Directions concerning executions on judgments rendered in the court of appeals—1810, ch. 156, . . . . .	602
No judgment to be reversed in the court of appeals, because it was entered for a greater sum than the damages laid in the declaration—1811, ch. 161, sec. 3, . . . . .	605
Amendment may be made by entering a release upon the record of the excess of damages—1811, ch. 161, sec. 3, . . . . .	605
Certain cases in which the court of appeals may direct such judgment to be entered as the nature of the entry or amendment may require, &c.—1811, ch. 161, sec. 4, . . . . .	605
All judgments by default to carry interest in the same manner as those upon the finding of a jury—1811, ch. 161, sec. 5, . . . . .	605