

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Page. |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|
| Where actions are entered, agreed, struck off, discontinued or abated, or are otherwise ended before final judgment or decree, the proceedings shall not be recorded, unless at the request of the plaintiff or defendant, or his agent or attorney, signified in writing to the clerks, and if recorded without such request no fees shall be payable therefor—Nov. 1779, ch. 25, sec. 10, . . . . .                                                                                            | 154   |
| Every officer mentioned by this act shall set up, and constantly keep in the most public place in his office, a fair table of the fees thereby rated and established, under the penalty of £50, for every month's neglect—Nov. 1779, ch. 25, sec. 10, . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | 154   |
| On refusal or neglect by any person to pay the officers' fees, the sheriff, after the 10th of August, may distrain his goods and chattels, and sell them after five days, at public auction, to be done without fee or reward, and the overplus returned to the debtor—Nov. 1779, ch. 25, sec. 17,* . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                    | 155   |
| On such refusal to pay, or on neglect or refusal to shew goods to be distrained, &c. the sheriff may take such person in execution for the sum due—Nov. 1779, ch. 25, sec. 18,† . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | 155   |
| The sheriff shall, on or before the 20th October yearly, pay to each creditor all the money he shall or might have received in satisfaction of their several and respective debts—Nov. 1779, ch. 25, sec. 18, . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | 155   |
| If payment is not made, the sheriff shall forfeit and pay to the party grieved double the money, if he shall sue the sheriff only, to be recovered in the manner therein prescribed—Nov. 1779, ch. 25, sec. 18, . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | 155   |
| If the party sues on the sheriff's bond, he shall recover only his debt, interest and costs—Nov. 1779, ch. 25, sec. 18, . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 155   |
| So much of this act as requires fees of officers to be delivered to the party before the first day of May, repealed, and the sheriff shall not execute for the same, until after the expiration of sixty days from the time the fee shall be delivered, unless such person is about to abscond or conceal his effects, and non-residents or not assessed may be required to pay the fees at the time of rendering the service, or give security for payment of the same—1822, ch. 219, . . . . . | 787   |
| Attorneys' fees by this act are leviable by execution as other officers' fees, and the sheriffs are obliged to levy and execute the same—1715, ch. 48, sec. 1, . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 41    |
| No prosecution shall be commenced for any penalty or forfeiture under this act, unless within one year—Nov. 1779, ch. 25, sec. 19, . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 155   |
| All fees and allowances to officers and others, given in tobacco, shall be paid in tobacco at 12s. 6d. per hundred, or in specie, valuing dollars at 7s. 6d. at the election of the person charged—Oct. 1780, ch. 23, . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | 163   |
| Officers' fees in special courts, viz.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |       |

* See note thereto.

† See 1822, ch. 219.