

1 JUDGE BRUNE: Mr. Chairman, I am sorry, I
2 missed this. Are you taking up (b), of Paragraph 3?
3 Before you leave (b) --

4 THE CHAIRMAN: I skipped that. Do you want to 5 go back to that?

6 JUDGE BRUNE: I want to inquire why you chose
7 7 instead of 5?

8 THE CHAIRMAN: I think the thing was that,
9 first of all, I think we are influenced by Judge Prescott's
10 expression of opinion on it and secondly, we felt that 11 this intermediate court will take some time to get
12 started, and we really don't have the experience with it,
13 and that until that time, we should keep the present
14 seven-member court. Bob, do you have anything else to 15 say on this?

16 MR. MARTINEAU: No. I was just checking this.

17 MR. INVERNIZZI: Statistically, most States
18 have seven.

19 JUDGE BRUNE: I am well aware of that. I am
20 now operating in a State, one composed of five and the other
21 seven.
