

1 What is wrong with that?

2 JUDGE CARTER: I feel somewhat like Judge
3 Clapp. I think there ought to be certain limitations
4 written in here on matters of basic importance, and matters
5 that might be influenced by political considerations and
6 not left wide open to the Legislature.

7 THE CHAIRMAN: Judge Carter, how would you do
8 that with respect to the Orphans' Court?

9 JUDGE CARTER: I would make a judgment as to
10 which place it ought to go and write it in the Constitu-
11 tion.

12 MR. ENEY: It is not that simple, because you
13 could then have to spell out what jurisdiction you are
14 talking about when you speak of Orphans' Court jurisdic-
15 tion, you see.

16 JUDGE CARTER: Probate.

17 MR. ENEY: You have to spell out what you are 18 about
18 talking/when you say probate jurisdiction.

19 JUDGE CARTER: What they now have.

20 MR. ENEY: We want to get away from that. We
21 don't want to incorporate in the Constitution what is now
