

1 DELEGATE MANDEL: Either active or permanent.

2 THE CHAIRMAN: That brings us over to Question 12. We may come back to some of this. When and 3 how often should reapportionment and/or redistricting
4 occur? Can you do it after each decennial census?

5 SENATOR JAMES: What else?

6 DELEGATE HARDWICKE: Well, in fooling around
7 with congressional redistricting, I found a number of 8 states have every two years, and I think that is a
9 helpful thing in Kansas, and the Federal Court in Kansas
10 permitted the Kansas census to be used in determining 11 the congressional districts. This has a very sensible
12 effect because you don't have the jarring upset as you
13 have when the thing is done every ten years.

14
15 For example, if you do it every two years, the 16 change is gradual and you can make allowance for it. If 17 it's done every ten years, you suddenly find that someone 18 has gone from eight delegates to six delegates, and this 19 would help a lot with your planning and zoning people in 20 the counties and so forth. I don't know what the cost
21 would be, but I think this would be a very desirable
