

1 DR. BURDETTE: Are you talking about putting 2 a period after the word, printed, in the last sentence?

3 THE CHAIRMAN: No.

4 DR. BURDETTE: One-day session is out as 5 worded here by the third calendar day after introduction.

6 THE CHAIRMAN: Mrs. Bothe's suggestion was 7 to strike the last word, introduction, and put, printing.
8 Mr. Case objected to that because then the bill could 9 be passed on the first day of the session. If it had been 10 printed in advance of the session, he says, and Mr. Scan-11 lan suggests an amendment which accommodates both of 12 those things, that the bill had laid on the desk of the 13 members for at least three days.

14 MR. MILLER: There is one complication that 15 we ought to consider, and that is the bill may be 25
16 pages long and only two or three words changed in the 17 final amendment, but if you have to wait three days after 18 it is all reprinted, if it is an important matter, it is 19 very obnoxious. I think the members of each House
20 could take care of it without too much in the Constitution.

21 THE CHAIRMAN: I don't think this would prevent
