

1 Senate in normal session could very well say that if
2 the President of the Senate isn't there, the majority
3 leader or so on will serve pro tem as President of 4 the Senate.

5 THE CHAIRMAN: Mr. Miller, may I interrupt?
6 If the rules of the Senate provide that in the absence 7 or in the event of the death or inability to act of 8 the President of the Senate, that the President pro
9 tem should be the President of the Senate, would then 10 not that carry into effect your suggestion without any 11 additional language here?

12 MR. MILLER: Except you have got to say
13 you have to have the Senate convene.

14 THE CHAIRMAN: No. Well, it depends on how 15 the rule is phrased. Did you follow me, Judge Adkins?

16 JUDGE ADKINS: If I understood you, maybe
17 I don't understand Ted Miller's point. What I thought 18 he meant was there was nobody to convene the body or 19 kind of take the leadership of the body once it was 20 convened.

21 MR. MILLER: I am only concerned with an
