

any justice of the peace in said city of Baltimore, make a full statement of all receipts for weighing, from whom received, and of all disbursements by him made to the comptroller of the State, and shall pay over to said comptroller all balances that shall or may be in his hands, received by him by virtue of the provisions of this act; he shall also keep said pens or yards and said live stock scales in good repair, but to have no power to change the present arrangement of said scales and pens or yards; Provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent said weighmaster from dividing any one of said pens or yards into two or more, should he deem such division necessary, or to take down the elevation of the elevated walk on the south side of said scales.

Proviso.

SEC. 2. And be it enacted, That every weighmaster of live stock in the city of Baltimore, appointed by virtue of the original act to which this is a supplement, shall add to the condition of the bond required by said original act to be given by every such weighmaster to the State, the further condition that such weighmaster shall and will in every particular, fully comply with and perform all the acts and things required of him as such weighmaster, by and in such manner, as to give full force and effect to the provisions of this act.

Further condition.

SEC. 3. And be it enacted, That any weighmaster appointed as aforesaid, shall have power to appoint and employ a clerk at an annual salary of seven hundred and fifty dollars, and an assistant, who shall perform such service as said weighmaster in person or through such clerk may require, at an annual salary of five hundred dollars; said weighmaster shall also receive an annual salary of twelve hundred dollars per annum; all of which said salaries shall be payable monthly out of any monies received by such weighmaster for the use of the State, under the provisions of this act.

Power to employ clerks.

SEC. 4. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect from and after its passage.

In force.
