So the amendment was laid on the table.

The Speaker was then about to put the question on the adoption of the original resolutions,

When Mr. Ridgely rose to a point of order, that by the vote just taken the original resolutions, as well as the amendment, were laid on the table;

The Speaker was of a different opinion, under the particular circumstance of this case, from which Mr. Ridgely appealed.

The question on being put, shall the opinion of the chair, stand as the judgment of the House;

On motion of Mr. Legrand,

The yeas and nays were ordered and appear as follows:

AFFIRMATIVE.

So the House sustained the opinion of the chair.

Mr. Risteau moved the previous question,

Mr. Tuck called for a division of the question; and that when put, the question be taken on the resolutions separately, to enable him to vote for the 4th resolution;

The chair decided that it was not in order now to call for a division of the question;
