

Question. In connection with any organization?

Answer. In connection with the Baltimore County Horse Guards, I believe.

Question. Do you know whether he had any official position in the company?

Answer. I believe he was lieutenant.

Question. Do you know whether that company was in armed hostility to any authority or power, if so, to what?

Answer. No; I could not say positively.

Question. Where was their head quarters?

Answer. They had no regular head quarters; the generally congregated at Ady's Hotel; they met in the hall for business.

Question. Was there any place there where the officers of the company had their rendezvous, and could be found?

Answer. They could find them generally any place about the hotel.

Question. State what they were doing during that time; whether they were rendering any military service of any kind; if so, what was it?

Answer. On Saturday the 20th of April, the whole company left there to go to town; they came back that night; on Sunday night they picketed the road from Towsontown to Cockeysville.

Question. Did the company wear any badge aside from their uniform?

Answer. Yes; there were some small badges worn.

Question. Do you remember what it was?

Answer. Yes; a Southern rights badge, printed on ribbon, or something that way.

Question. Were you at Cockeysville during the time when any forces were there?

Answer. Yes; I went there on Monday morning.

Question. What was the Horse Guards doing?

Answer. They were picketing the road and bringing information to town.

By the Committee.

Question by the Committee. Do you pretend to say by that, they were watching the manouvers of the troops at Cockysville?

Answer. Yes; when I was at Cockeysville; I heard Nicholas, and think Charles Cockey, cursing the troops when they passed out of Cockeysville.

Direct-examination resumed.

Question. Were they members of the Horse Guards?

Answer. Yes.