

Application for such license shall be made to the Commissioner of Labor and Industry by any member of a family desiring to do such work in any room or apartment of a tenement or dwelling house. Such application shall designate the location of the room or apartment, the number of persons to be employed therein, the street and number of and the full name and address of the owner of the building in which the room or apartment is located, and shall be signed by the applicant. Application blanks shall be prepared and furnished by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry in such form as the Commissioner may determine.

Upon receipt of such application the Commissioner of Labor and Industry shall consult the records of the local health department or board or other appropriate local authority charged with the duty of sanitary inspection, and if such records show the presence of any infectious, contagious or communicable disease, or the existence of any unsanitary conditions in or about such room or apartment, the Commissioner of Labor and Industry may, without making an inspection of the premises, deny such application for a license until such time as the records of the said department, board or other local authority show that the said premises are free from all such infectious, contagious or communicable disease and from all unsanitary conditions. Before, however, any such license is granted, an inspection of the room or apartment sought to be licensed must be made by the duly authorized inspector of the Commissioner of Labor and Industry and a statement must be filed in his office as a matter of public record to the effect that the records of the local health department or board or other local authority charged with the duty of sanitary inspection do not show the existence of any infectious, contagious or communicable disease or of any unsanitary conditions in or about said room or apartment. Such statement must further show the results of the inspection of such premises and must be dated and signed in ink by the inspector responsible therefor. If the Commissioner of Labor and Industry [ascertain] ASCERTAINS that such room or apartment is free from infectious, contagious or communicable disease and is in proper sanitary condition he shall grant a license permitting the use of such room or apartment for the purpose of manufacturing and stating the number of persons allowed to work therein. An inspection of each licensed tenement or dwelling house workshop shall be made not less than once in every six months to determine whether or not the conditions under which such license was granted and all laws relating to such premises are being complied with.

No article shall be manufactured in whole or in part, altered, repaired or finished in any room or apartment of a tenement or dwelling house where there is or has been a case of infectious, contagious or communicable disease until such time as the local department or board of health shall certify to the Commissioner of Labor and Industry that such disease has
