

prohibited the issuance of licenses to practice property line surveying after July 1, 1990. It seemed, therefore, that, if the Board declines to reinstate a license that is not reinstated within 2 years of its expiration (as authorized under former Art. 56, § 336(c)), the individual never would be allowed to obtain a license to practice property line surveying.

In subsections (a) through (c) of this section, the word "reinstate" is substituted for the former word "renew[ed]", to clarify distinctions between renewal of a license under § 15-314 of this subtitle and reinstatement of a license under this section. Therefore, the eighth sentence of former Art. 56, § 336(c), which provided for renewal to "be evidenced by ... a biennial registration card", is deleted.

In subsection (a)(3) of this section, the reference to a "reinstatement fee of $10" that is "in addition to the renewal fee required under § 15-314 of this subtitle" is substituted for the former reference to payment of a fee of "$100 for professional land surveyors and $90 for property line surveyors", to clarify that there is a $10 reinstatement fee that is paid in addition to the renewal fees of $90 for a professional land surveyor and $80 for a licensed property line surveyor. As to the renewal fees, see § 15-314 of this subtitle.

In subsections (b)(2)(iii) and (c)(2)(iii) of this section, the specific amounts of $135 and $100, respectively, are substituted for the former general language that provided that the reinstatement fee "is the same as the registration fee for professional land surveyors or for property line surveyors". As enacted by Ch. 20, Acts of 1988, the "registration fees" under former Art. 56, § 336(a) and (b)(1) were $135 and $100. See § 15-312 of this subtitle. Although the title of Ch. 20 did not refer specifically to reinstatement of expired licenses, it seemed to be the intent to increase these fees also.
