2969-a McDowell family

Papers, (1700) 1831-1917

ca. 600 items

The letters of Sally Preston Campbell (McDowell) Thomas *Miller [d. 1874] and the Rev. John *Miller form the largest part of the collection. These courtship letters discuss the reluctance of Mrs. McDowell, a divorcee, to marry Miller and are largely filled with her religious doubts and ethical questions as to the propriety and morality of their marriage. The collection also contains an outline for *The two virtues by Miller.

Civil War notes and 1889 unfinished memoirs of Charles Scott *Venable [1827-1900], aide de camp to Robert E. Lee from the outbreak of the war through Antietam contain many anecdotes of the war. This narrative is supplemented by Francis P. Venable's 1917 memoir of his mother, Margaret Cantey (McDowell) Venable, which include many of his father's war letters as well as an account of the family at the University of Georgia, Athens and the University of Virginia. Of interest are transcripts of
