FRIDAY, MARCH 7, 1919.

PASSING THE BUCK TO COLORED OFFICERS Our own boys of the 372nd, who have been mustered out recently from Camp Meade are rather puzzled over the circumstances that caused the removal of their colored officers.

From the time they embarked at Newport News for France March 30, 1918 until September 18, 1918, they were under the command of their own officers including Lt. Ryan, Captain Pryor and others. Then suddenly on the eve of the great offensive, which began September 26th, white officers took the places of the colored.

The General Staff of the A. E. F. like the Wat Department gives orders without stating any reason therefore, so that until now the colored officers in command of the 372nd have no idea of the reasons for their removal.

dearly for the change. One of the 372nd reports these committees to "do something" at once. The white officers, who supplanted them paid that of the white officers, who led the regiment over the top the first time, at least 30 of them were shot, an unusual casualty list considering the number of

THE LONG ARM OF THE VOTER

No Governor of Maryland has misused and abused his authority as head of the state as has Governor Harrington in the Snowden Case.

The Court of Appeals stated specifically in its of the accused but only passed upon the procedure. This higher court further designated the original jury as the only authorized authority to pass upon the merits of the case.

With the case up before him for signing of death warrant or commutation of sentence, it would seem that if the trial jury and trial judge (Judge Duncan) should reverse themselves and ask for clemency, the Governor would not have reasonable

Governor that the ends of justice would be served by tude. changing the sentence, because they were convinced that an innocent man was being punished, it would appear that no stronger argument for favorable action could be brought.

With the lower court reversing itself and the public backing them up, the only person or persons clamoring for Snowden's death was Governor Harrington himself or some one whose influence was greater than public opinion. Herein lies his abuse and misuse of his office.

As governor he is expected to represent all the people, certainly a majority of them. He is expected to lose himself in the office and act not as he himself personally wills but as the people who placed him in office would have him act.

In riding roughshod over the wishes of the people properly expressed, Governor Harrington has shown ils unfitness for the office he holds. By the will of the people he was elected and by the will of the people he can be cast out into utter political dark-The long arm of the voter reaches even to the State House at Annapolis.

The penalty as fixed by the bill provides for the forest of a minimum of $5,000 for any fallure on the part of the railways and steamship companies, and a $1,000 fine and one year in jail for other persons, who should be found guilty by the courts of attempting to bring about jim crow conditions.

While there is little fault to be found with the bill the following the penalty as fixed by the bill provides for the time to us. There have been lots of unpleasant things to make us unhappy at times but they have to be taken as a part of life and endured. The war is over now and we will soon be home again.
