CONSTANTINOPLE, April 20.

&HR 14th Inftant, at it at Night, a dreadful Fire broke out in the Suburbs of Saly Ba-zar and Eneduckli, which; notwithstanding every proper Measure was taken to extin-guish it, burnt with such Fury, and continued fo long, that it reduced to Ashes above 1000 Houses. These Suburbs being fituated on the Borders of the Sea, the Plames reached the Passage Boats which were ranged along the Shore, and confumed upwards of 400, with all the Effects on board them. This Disaster would have been still more fatal, if a Land Wind bad arisen, for in that Case the Flames would certainly have been communicated to the Fleet, just gone out of the Port, and at Anchor at Peschiktasch, from whence it is to set fail to protect the White Sea.

From the Confines of Tunkey, May 18. We just now received Advice from Conftantinople, that the Army of the Grand Vizir, which confifts of So,000 Men, was ordered to pass the Danube immediately; that Ibrahim Pacha, who is at Juriova, acts separately, at the Head of a Corps of 27,000 Men; and that another Corps of 20,000 Men is posted under Vidin, in order to protect the Convoys of Provision. According to these Accounts, the Russian Troops have been obliged, on Account of a Scarcity of Provisions, and epidemical Dif-tempers, to draw towards the Frontiers of Poland.

OTRANTO, May 30. They write from the Levant, that during the Course of this Month, Admiral Elphinfton's Squadron arrived at the Morea, and that Eight Alexandrian Vessels, and roo little Dulcignotian Corfairs, are cruizing in its Environs. They add, that a Seraskier has entered the Morea with 30,000 Men of different Nations, and that as he advances into the Country, he kills all the Greeks, who are able to carry Arms, that their Wives and Children are generally fold as Slaves, and that a Turkith Fleet is expected there.

PETERSBURGH, June 6. This Court has received an PETERSBURGH, June 6. This Court has received an Account from Count Orlow, dated before Coron, in the Morea, the 9th of April, mentioning, that he arrived at Vitula, the Sea-Port of Maina, the 28th of February, with Three Ships, One Pink, and another Vessel; that Captain Barkow, from Bardania, had routed 1000 Turks, and pursued them to Mistra, and attacked that Town; that the Enemy had retired from the Town and Castle; that Captain Barkow had plundered the same, after Two Days Siege, and taken 2000 Turks Prisoners; that Prince Peter Dalgorucki has taken Arcadia, and 2000 Prisoners, with Three Pieces taken Arcadia, and 2000 Prisoners, with Three Pieces of Cannon; that after this the Fleet sailed to Coron, where Count Orlow landed, and attacked the Forfrei which defends itself still; and that all the Morea is in the utmost Confusion. The Day before this Account eame away, we had an Account that there had been a Battle between the Greeks and Turks in the Streights of Corinth, in which the Turkish Commander Derewes

Aga was taken Prifoner.

June 14. Yesterday Morning, at Nine o'Clock, came on in the Court of King's Hench, at Guildhall, before Lord Mansfield, the Trial of Henry Sampson Woodfall, the original Printer of Junius's Letter, in the Publick Advertifer of the 19th of December last. Only Seven of the special Jury which was summoned attended; wiz. William Bond, Merchant, Foreman; Printer Carling Mars. tended; viz. William Bond, Merchant, Foreman;
Peter Cazalet, Merchant; Alexander Peter Allen, Merchant; Frederick Commerell, Merchant; Hermen
Meyer, Merchant; John Themas, Merchant; Barrington Buggin, Merchant; Upon which the following Five Talesmen were taken eut of the common Jury; viz. William Hannard, Paul Verges, William Shley, William Willet, William Davis.

The Attorney-General addressed the Jury with a The Attorney-General addressed the jury with a speech, on the Importance of Juries; but confined them to the bere Fad of the Defendant publishing a Paper, which the called a Libel; and then made an Apology for bringing on Mr. Almon's Trial for felling early before the original Printer's, and promifed to projecute all the Printers and Publishers of this celebrated Paper. He called his wildeness. He called his Evidences, who were, Nathaniel Crow-He called his Evidences, who were, Nathaniel Crowder, the pretended Newsman, employed by the Minifery, the pretended Newsman, employed by the Minifery, who swore he bought the Paper of Mr. Woodfall's publishing Servant, whom he named; Mr. Harris, of the Stamp-Office, who proyed, that the Duty for the Advertisements and Stamps were paid by Mr. Woodfall; and a Clerk of Sir John Fielding's; who, being called, proved, by a Receipt of Mr. Woodfall's, his Centern in and for the Paper.

The Publication and Direction of the Paper by Mr. Woodfall being thus pasted, Mr. Serjeant Glynn, la a very eloquent and learned speech to the Jury, defended the Paper, as no Libel; as being very respectful to the King, personally, but arraigning the Conduct of the Ministers; and if such Discussion was not allowed in this Country; he said; there must be an End of the Liberty of the Press; adding, that there was no Intention in Mr. Woodfall to publish a Libel, and if the Intention was not proved, he hoped, and arusted, they would find Mr. Woodfall not guilty.

Mr Lee, who was also Counsel for Mr. Woodfall, defended the Paper upon the same Principles; and defended the Paper upon the fame Principles; and likewife added a good deal about the Intention, which not being proved, and which he thought effential to confitute the Crime, they must find him met guilty.

Lord Mannfeld, in his Charge to the Jury, faid; they Lord Mansheld, in his Charge to the jury, taug toey had nothing to do with the Intention, nor with the other Words in the Information, such as malicious, feditious, &c. which, he affirmed, were all Words of Course; just as it is said in an Indistment for Murder, that the Person did, &c. at the Instigation of the Devil. Then he remarked, as upon Mr. Almon's Trial, that there were but Two Propositions for the Consideration of the Jury; one was, the Fad of publishing the Paper; the other, whether a proper Confination was put, in the Information, upon the feveral Blanks in the Paper; and as to the Coutents of the Paper, whether they were true or false, he said it was wholly immaterial.

At Teu Minutes before Twelve the Jury withdrew, and returned about Nine, finding Mr Woodfall guilty of the printing and publishing only. The Court had broke up about Four b'Clock, so that the Jury, by Order of Lord Mansfield, attended his Lordship with their Verdict, at his House in Bloomsbury square.

Yesterday the following Address, Petition, and Remonstrance, from the Freeholders of the County of Surrey, was presented to his Majelty at St. James's, by Sir Francis Vincent, Bart, one of the Representatives of that County in Parliament, attended by the Hon. Peter King, Sir Robert Clayton, Sir Joseph Mawbey, Barts. and Benjamin Hayes, Effig

To the KING's moft Excellent MAJESTY. The bumble Address, Petition, and Remonstrance, of the Freeholders of the County of Survey.

May it please your Majesty,. E, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Sub-jects, the Freeholders of the County of Surrey, in full Confidence that your Majetty will at length turn a favourable Ear to the just Complaints of your Sub-jects, beg Leave, with all Humility, to renew our earnest Supplications to your Majesty, in Behalf of your much injured and afflicted People.

We humbly hope, that our strenuous Endeavours for the Restoration of our constitutional Rights, will not be deemed inconfident with our Zeal for your Ma-jefty's Government, nor our ardent Love of Liberty, contradictory to our dutiful Affection for your royal

We consider the Right of Election as coeval with the first Forms of Government in this Country; a Right which has been rendered dearer to us, by the happy Exercise of it at the great Æra of constitutional Liberty, the glorious Revolution; in consequence of which your Majesty's royal Ancestors were established on the Throne of these Realms; and we cannot but think, that the Proceedings respecting the Middlesex Election are a flagrant Violation of the Rights of the People, are a flagrant violation of the Rights of the People, fubverfive of all legal Liberty, and utterly irreconcilable to every Principle of the Confliction.

We fincerely lament that any Measures mould have been taken to discountenance the conflictional Mode of Complaint to the Throne by Petition, as it is one of the most indisputable Rights of the Subject, and no less the Interest of the Prince to moourage, than the less the Interest of the Prince to encourage, than the People to prefer.

Bound as we are by Duty, as well as by Inclination, to support your Majesty, we consider ourselves no less bound to support the Constitution; a Constitution which has hitherto been preferred by the Blood, and Treasure of our Antertors, and which, in Justice to our Posterity; at the Risk of all than is dear to us, we will transmit unimpaired to our Descendents.

The prefent national Discontents lead in to look back with Horrer on the general Consustan in the Isli Age, which arose from the persicious Connels of wicked and corrupt Ministers, who, asset violating the Liberties of the People, sighted their just Petitions and Remonstratores, and, by those Means, brought on the Calamities which at length involved Prince and People

Calamities which at length involved Prince and People

Calamities which at length involved Prince and People in one common Ruin.

A brave, and free People, postelling the highest Notions of Liberty, and Venteration for their Privileges, can never be at reft, whilst sheir quastree t hoice at a Representative is taken from them. This is the only Instance of any Man being imposed upon them with a confessed Minority of Votes; If One Man can be so imposed, all may, and we dread the Consequences, unless your Majelty has he pleased to like to the Crief of your People, and raileve them in their present distributed Situation.

Deign then, most gracious Sourcing, to like to the carnels Remenstrances of a loyal though misreprefented People; remove those Ministers, who advised a Violation of our Privileges; discountenance that over-ruling Influence, which has been the secret source of all our Grievances, and, by diffolving the prefeat Par-liament, afford us an Opportunity of returning such Representatives, as will be equally attentive to the Ho-

Representatives, as will be equally attentive to the Honour of the Crown, and the Rights of the People.

And your Majesty's Petitioners shall ever pray, &c. Signed by Eleven Gentlemen, in the Name of the Freebolders assembled, at a County Meeting at Guildford; on Wednefday, May 30, 1770.

June 25. The Verdick of the Jury on the late Trial of Mr. Woodfall, for printing and publishing what was called in the Information a falls, feandaloss, and scalled to Mind a not unsimilar Verdick of a Jury in the Reign of King Charles the Second, when some Quakers were tried at the Old Baily, fortholding unsawful Assemblies, and preaching Doctrines contrary to the commonly received Opinions of the Church. Jefferies, who then fat as Judge, after aggravating the Zeal of that truly pious People into a Crime of a very heinous Nature, recommended it strongly to the Jury to nous Nature, recommended it strongly to the Jury to find them guilty. The Jury accordingly withdrew, and, after being out some Time, brought in their Verand, after being out some Time, brought in their Verdict guilty of preaching. The Judge reprimanded them: and feat-them back again.—They returned the fecond Time, and brought in the fame Verdict as before, guilty of preaching. He was then provoked, and fent them back a third Time, with Threats, which, however, had no Effect on the honest Jury, who brought in their Verdict exactly in the same Words as the Two former, guilty of preaching; and no other could the Judge obtain. As preaching, therefore, was no Crime, the Prifoners were released from the Bar without Punishment.
