ains 84 acres, and bounds with out 35 acres thereof are in wood, in meadow-ground. This lot is by the meandering waters of the is stream is a fall of 21 feet, and ies of excellent building stone. eautiful fituations for houses. tains, 39 acres, and bounds with t contains 20 acres of wood, and eminence for a house as a country in George-Town are at that end advantageous and beautiful fitua. each, dollars at 73. 6d. is [.7000]

s contiguous to the city of Wash.

107 acres of land at f.20 per 214000 84 do. do. 1680 o o

39 do. do. 780 0 0 eorge-town, 910 0 0 cash, 100 0 0

46 0 0 40s. each, 1294 00

N A G E R S.

el William Deakins, Benjamin Stodf George, John Threlkeld, and Sares, George-Town. George Walker, bington. Wallace and Muir, and ires, Annapolis.

tains several very valuable lots of he city of Washington, whose inkeep pace with the growth of the United States of America—Hence, iny further definition, it will be mall sum of one Guinea a valuable ry seat may be obtained in the viof America; or anot in a town enfive commerce. roposes drawing this Lottery in he first Monday in May next, or s are all sold, which he flatters case from his present prospects. al warranty, will immediately be land, and the money for the cash n demand. Notice will be given the public papers, and a list of the will be immediately published. e lots is reserved to the subscriber. ay be seen at Mr. George Mann's. ay be had of Messrs. Wallace and

HN THOMAS BOUCHER. the severity of the winter the drawtery is postponed to the first of August

on, Esquires, and Mr. George

Jary's county, April 10, 1792. y wife ELIZABETH ATTAWAY eloped from my bed and board nd. influenced by ill advisers, relive with me, this is to forewarn ing her on my account, as I will contracting after this date, and and secrete her shall be prosecuted

THOMAS BOND.

Mary's county, Agril 9, 1792. lebted to the estate of GEORGE te of St. Mary's county, deceased, e immediate payment to THOMAS e-town, or the subscribers, and claims are desired to bring them

PLATER, Executors. USBY PLATER, S

very and of GREEK BOOKS, ADAMS's Office, Baltimore.

APOLIS: EDERICK and SAMUEL GREEN.

STOCKHOLM, March 20. HE following account of the attempt to assassinate the king, in the night of left hip and touched the back bone.

me round, the other beat square, besides with twelve grain of shot and seven small nail points; that the other pistol had been loaded nearly in the same manner; and that he held besides a knife in the other

"Though the wound has not been fully cleared jet of the many parts of the charge, the furgeons avertheless have been able to assure the distressed myal family, as well as the aftonished inhabitants of his capital, that the shot did not touch those parts whose violation might have produced more dangerous unsequences for the life of the king.

of the wound, and other pains with that perfect ferenity and strength of mind, which have distinguishof so many accidents of the life of the king, but he likewise received the royal family, numbers of the court, officers of state, and foreign ministers at his bed-side. His majesty in the same manner himself regulated the royal regency, dictated their instructions, and figned both instruments with his own hand.

"The examinations respecting this horrid deed, her with considerable damage. and all that has any connection therewith, continue in The Resolue had 25 men killed and 40 wounded, the forenoon and afternoon before the royal court of several of whom are since dead, and the first captain chancery, and the public will receive in this manner dangerously wounded. possible elucidation respecting an event, which univitis important moment, never had been heard of fince dead, and Mr. Wilmot, midshipman, wounded. in the tingdom of Sweden."

LONDON, April 3.

the Thames frigate, captain Truebridge, brought inledigence to the admiralty and India house, that that vessel had arrived at Portsmouth about one o'clock referday forenoon, with dispatches from commodore Cornwallis.

She left Tellicherry on the 28th of December, and the Cape of Good Hope on the 2d of February.-She did not touch at St. Helena.

The intelligence brought by this vessel is as singular very disagreeable consequences between this country an immediate attack, and his army in the highest ty may be exposed to insultant

She brings an account of the Phœnix frigate, captain Sir Richard Strachan, having taken, on the 19th of government in this unexpected and ex-Gaordinary business.

The following account we have been favoured with a gentleman of rank in the Thames frigate, which may be depended on is strictly authentic:

haded with ammunition and ordnance stores from thrope, were to arrive there for the use of the Sultan's

Hiely to examine all vessels they might fall in with. Good-Hope and the mother country, is become, we their utmost endeavours to restore to the crown of the followed him fall vessels they might fall in with. Good-Hope and the mother country. It is become, we their utmost endeavours to restore to the crown of the followed him fall vessels they might fall in with. He followed himself with the Crown and Phoniz short- fear, too wide ever to be united. The recal of Mr. France the ancient rights and prerogatives which justly on the boats return, hearing of their resistance, he ary aid they may in suture think proper to grant. reclined on a sopha, and conversed with some of the being effected, they were found laden with merchan- of desence.

palace, and at 4 o'clock in the morning he was bled. 19th with two merchantmen, at two A. M. from the John Grimshaw, of Manchester aforesaid: "Immediately after the shot was fired there were same port, which it is conjectured was a scheme to "Sirs," and some points of cut nails. them in the Offing, he made signals to the Phœnix comes unknown to my companions."

pany with her, and would send an officer on board of unknown.

and, which he had bought but a week before, and the French frigate then made a fignal, which the offenders. quarter of the Phœnix, fired two guns shotted to Manchester, cotton merchant. windward, which was thought to be at the boats: the Phoenix next hoisted out her jolly boat, and sent the "His majesty is as well as his circumstances will third lieutenant, Mr. Burt, to board one of them, broadside into her and commenced the action.

The engagement lasted twenty-sive minutes, and ed for you we will be better off than as we are. terminated by a happy manœuvre of Sir Richard Strachan, who, on observing the Resolue crossing her hauses, luffed up, went under her stern, and raked

The Phoenix had fix men killed and eleven wound- offenders. mariny concerns every faithful subject, and which, ed, among whom is lieutenant Finley, of the marines,

By the commodore's orders the French frigate was conducted into Mallee Roads and left there, her own officers and seamen refusing to do any thing with her, This morning, about one o'clock, a lieutenant of faying the Resolue struck, and was a prize to the Phœnix, and the commodore might dispose of her as he might think proper. The commodore answered them, that he must refer the determination of the af-him to fettle.

doctor Willis gave every hopes of her speedy re- tion whatsoever.

is expected early next spring.

ly after. Hitherto no ships that were described to Vangrave, the popular governor at the Cape, occasionhim had been seen. ed much discontent, and the departure of the greater On the 23d of October, at fix in the evening, the part of the garrison to protect their Asiatic possessions, the 16th of March, was read in the commodore being on a cruize to the northward, and afforded more ample room for those who before had Toyal chancery and published by au- the Phoenix and Atalanta in Tellicherry Roads, two been sowing the seeds of dissension. The determinathority in the public papers of the French ships and a brig were discovered in the Offing. tion of the states to send commissioners, empowered to It being the Atalanta's guard, she got under way to examine and punish the instigators of the disturbances; Last Friday the 16th of March, at three quarters board them, and was followed by the Phænix; but being known at the Cape, those most guilty redoubled mil eleven o'clock at night, a short time after the king having little wind, they got into the Mallee Roads, a their activity, and the burghers at length unanimously had entered the masked ball in the royal opera-house, French port, and close to Tellicherry. agreed, that should the commissioners assume any arbian unknown mask forced his way through the crowd Captain Foot, of the Atalanta, sent a boat with an trary power to repel force by force, they also deterof makes which surrounded the king, and fired a pistol officer to them, but they resuled to be examined, al- mined, that all taxes imposed by the mother country at him, the charge whereof entered a little above the leging, they were in their own port. Immediately should be left to their own discretion for every pecuni-

"Although so severely wounded, the king had yet sent an officer of marines, with a party, with orders Col. Gordon, the vice-governor, has been obliged frength enough to walk to the next closet, where he to force the hatchways, and examine them; which to retire to the castle, where he is putting it in a state gentlemen of the court, as well as some of the princi- dise only. This irregular proceeding was, however, It having been humbly represented to the king, that pal officers of state, who had obtained leave to follow hushed up by the commodore's arrival and interposition, on or about the 7th day of February last an anony him, with the greatest cheerfulness until the surgeons in captain Foot's behalf, with the governor. mous threatening letter, of which the following is a grived, when the wound was examined and the first Early in November, the Resolue French frigate, of copy, was received from the post-office in Manchester, dreffing laid on .- His majesty was then carried to the 32 guns, arrived in Mallee Roads, and sailed on the in the county of Manchester, by Messrs. Robert and found in the opera-room two pistols, one of which discover whether commodore Cornwallis would board "We have sworn together to destroy your factory if the affassin had made use of; but the other was yet the merchantmen under his protection, an unlucky we dye for it and to have your lives for ruining our laded with two buck-shot, a quantity of small shot experiment in the event; for at five A. M. on seeing trade & if you go on you know the certainty which "The affassin, a discharged captain, John Jacob and Perseverance to board them; they got under way, That on the night of Thursday the 15th day of Anterstrom, was discovered the next day, the 17th of and chased to the northward, as sar as Mangalore, March, instant, the weaving sactory of the said Robert March about 10 o'clock in the forenoon and arrested. before they came up with them. and John Grimshaw, situated at Knot mill, in Man-Reconfessed his crime, and acknowledged that the When the Phænix came within hail, she was asked chester asoresaid, was destroyed by fire, and that there pillo he fired had been loaded with two bullets, the what she wanted? Sir Richard Strachan answered, is reason to suspect that the said premises were wilfully that he had orders to board the merchantmen in com- and maliciously set on fire by some person or persons him to explain the reason. His majesty's most gracious pardon, and a reward of The first lieutenant, George Parker, went on board; two hundred guineas, are promised for discovering the had caused it to be ground with an edge on each side. merchantmen answered, and made sail; the Phoenix It having been humbly represented to the king, that making sail also, to intercept them, leaving the cutter on Saturday morning the 17th of March, instant, an with Mr. Parker some distance a-stern, and firing at anonymous threatening letter, of which the following the ships on the larboard bow and beam, to bring is a copy, was received from the Manchester post-office them too.—The French frigate being on the starboard by Francis Haywood, of Manchester, in the county of " Manchester, March 17th, 1792.

"SIR, "You are Anopoliser you have a deal of warehouses permit, and has enjoyed now and then some rest in the Perseverance at the same time boarding the other. full of cotton if you dont lessen the prices very much At this time the Phœnix, in backing a-stern, to in next week they shall all them be in flames depend "His majesty not only sustained the examination keep one of the merchantmen from making off, had on it fince we have begun our design we intend to carher ensign staff carried away by her jibb-boom. The ry it on and have less proud Devils in the town that French frigate kept firing at the boats, and upon the impoverish us so ill by keeping up the prices of cotton Phœnix wearing to keep close to her, she fired a wool you life shall go also depend upon it, with 4 others we intend-A Weaver. P. S. If we are hang-> (Superscribed) "Mr. Francis Haywood, "Cotton Merchant, " Deanegate,

" Manchester." His majesty's most gracious pardon, and a reward of five hundred pounds, are promifed for discovering the STATE PAPER. CONVENTION figned at Vienna the 18th of February, between his excellency the count Coloredo, commissioned for the purpose by his Imperial majesty, and the baron de Bischoffswerder, minister plenipotentiary of his majesty the king of Prussia.

1. IT is agreed that there shall subsist between his majesty the emperor, and his majesty the king of Prussia, a firm and lasting concert, as well in behalf of fair to this nation, being of too much importance for themselves as of their respective allies, for the purpose of taking suitable measures at all times, when occasion Tippoo Sultan was come out of Seringapatam, and may require, to support the honour and dignity of had entrenched himself strongly about ten miles from crowns, against any attempts made by wicked persons it-Lord Cornwallis and the grand army were ad- in rebellion, whether they be their own fubjects or vancing towards him, and it is probable their meeting those of their friends or allies, or of any prince or poas unexpected, and may eventually be productive of has been decifive; his lordship being determined on tentate whatever, in whose person the sovereign digni-

2. The two high contracting parties guarantee to Yesterday some dispatches were received at the se- each other in their respective estates, as well as to their cretary of state's office, from Mr. Walpole, his ma- different allies, the possession of all the rights, prero-November last, after a well fought action, the Resolue, jesty's envoy, at the court of Lisbon; they are dated gatives and powers, which they enjoy in the said Mench frigate of 32 guns, and is come home for the the 24th of February, and contain an account that found to belong thereto engine any change of inforce the queen of Portugal was much better, and that found to belong thereto, against any change or innova-

3. Their said majesties promise for themselves and The Belmont Indiaman is taken up for the express their allies, not to take part in any rebellion or revolt purpose of bringing home sugars from the East. She which may break out in any neighbouring states, but August the commodore lying in Trincomalee, is to fail early in May for Calcutta;—and, what will on the contrary to use their utmost endeavours to supappear very extraordinary, notwithstanding the affer- press it, for which purpose they will not receive any Malabar coast, and going shortly after to Madras, tions of the monopolists of this great town, that sugar subject of other states into their territories without the the Minerva also, having received intelligence that is not to be procured in quantity in the East-Indies, knowledge and approbation of the sovereign of those me neutral ships, under Imperial and French colours, it is well known that this ship is expected by the direct states; they will apprehend and deliver them up when tor to be ready to return, completely laden with that required, and prevent, as much as in them lies, agms article, fix weeks after her arrival; so that her return and ammunition from being exported out of their do-

The breach between the colony of the Cape of 4. The two high contracting parties agree to use