The 21th, a great number of the brigands of the Plain entered the city by a principal post (la Possette) of which the free nulattoes were in possession. The negroes set fire the same evening, to the house of la Peore, in the street called Confeil: the fame brigands forced into different houses, beat up the whites who were there concealed, and conducted them to the barracks, where they kept them prisoners: the brigands pillaged the same houses, and carried their plunder out of the city, through the Fossette. The 23d, the engagements were more obstinate, and more considerable. They say, that this (ame evening all the whites who had been theitered in the barracks, where they had been conducted, were namercifully murdered by order of the chiefs of the brigands; neither women nor children were spared; to escape the ferocity of the insurgents, were killed. day-break, and continued all the night.

François. On the approach of the seventeenth anniversary of the declaration of American independence, the citizens of Annapolis met, to make arrangements for the commemoration of that glorious event, when the heat of the weather determined them to hold the festival in Mills's garden, a pleasant situation within view of the town. Accordingly, on Thursday last, a very numerous company of gentlemen partook of an handfome entertainment prepared by Mr. Mills, and the following toalts were drank with a degree of enthulialm that clearly evinced the strong republican principles, the ardent love of liberty, and the warm and grateful attachment to our first friends and allies, that prevail among the inhabitants of this place.

JUST PUBLISHED And to be SOLD at this PRINTING-OFFICE, That celebrated little book, entitled, SURE and CERTAIN METHODS of attaining a long and healthy life;

Written by Lewis Cornaro, an Italian nobleman, when he was near an hundred years of age, with a recommendation by the hon. Joseph Addison (author of the Spectator) in the following words:

Cornaro was of ar, infirm constitution till about forty, when he fleadily perfifting in the course of life recommended in this book, he recovered a perfect state of health, infomuch, that at four score he published this work. He lived to give a third or fourth edition of it, and after having passed his hundredth year died without pain or agony, like one who falls alleep. The treatise I mention has been taken notice of by several eminent authors, and is written with such a spirit of cheerfulness, religion, and good fenie, as are the natural concomitants of temperance and lobriety.-" The mixture of the old man in it is ra-

THE subscribers propose opening in this town, should sufficient encouragement offer for that purpose, a CIRCULATING LIBRARY. The adseveral parts of the city were laid in ashes: the same vantages arising from such an institution, to the pubday a number of whites, who ran towards the harbour lic, are too obvious and well understood to make much recommendation on the subject in this way The whites were equally weakened by the brigands, necessary, to induce a discerning, enlightened public, and the fires were general: the conflagration began as to patronile it: Let it suffice to say, that of all methods generally used for communicating know ledge, this is the easiest, most advantageous, and least expensive to the generality of readers. This library is principally collected already, and will confift of 2500 volumes, judiciously chosen, in the different branches of religious, entertaining, and polite literature, and shall be augmented from time to time, by fuch new publications, and other works, as may be found agreeable to the taste, and will add to the entertainment of the patrons thereof.

From the Boat E A G L E,

TOW-BOAT, about nine feet long, of cedar to be taken up by a schooner coming down from Baitimore, between the mouth of Magothy river and the ifle of Kent, off the windsmill of Aquila Brown, Esquire, who saw the schooner put out her boat and take the drifting boat up, and carry her on board. The schooner, from the wielence of the wind, and a beauty sea, was obliged to put into Magothy river for a barbour. From the appearance of a number of people on deck, (supposed to be passengers) the schooner was conceived to be a packet-boat, either from Miles or Choptank rivers. A suitable reward will be given for the return of said boat, perfectly to the satisfaction of the taker up, upon her being delivered here, or to Mr. GEORGE MANN, in Annapolis, and the favour thankfully acknowledged, by

THAT this board be adjourned to Monday the 5th inft: 10 o'clock, and that public notice be given by advertisement in the Maryland Gazette, and in the Maryland Journal, that on that day the board will take into confideration a proposal for instituting a school for grammar English and oratory, and determine whether or not an affidant to the professor of languages shall be appointed.

EX JOHN THOMAS, Pref. pro tempore.

THE subscriber has engaged a number of MULBS to gentlemen in Charles county by the 1st of September next, and proposes extending his orders, provided further application is made—Likely two year olds will come from 60 to 65, and one year olds from 40 to 45 dollars. Little need be faid to recommend those valuable animals, their hardiness and longevity must give them a decided preference to horses for the cultivation of light sandy foils. Letters of application, left with Mr. Simpson, residing with Charles Carroll of Carrollton, Esq; by the 25th of July, with directions to whom the mules be delivered, in Annapolis, will be attended to. --- One or two elegant full blooded young stud horses will be received in payment.
