HEAD QUART French Mills, adjoining of Lower Can in No.

Sig. 1 beg leave to refer you to the journal which accompanies this letter, for the particulars of the moves ments of the corps under my command down the St. Lawrence, and will endeavour to exert my enfeebled mind to detail to you the more striking and important incidents, which have ensued my departure from Grenadier Island, at the foot of Lake Ontario, on the 3d instant. The corps of the enemy from Kingston, which followed me, hung on my rear, and in concert with a heavy galley and a law gun-boats, seemed determined to retard my reemed determined to retard my process. I was strongly tempted to halt, turn about, and put an end to his teaching; but, alas! I was confined to my bed. Major General Lewis was too ill for any active exertion, and, above all, I-did not dare suffer myself to be diverted a single day from the prosecution of the views, of government. I had written Maj. Gen. Hampton on the 6th inst by his Adj. General, Col. King, and had ordered him to form a junction with me on the St. Lawrence, which I expected would take place on the 9th or 10th. It would have been unpardonable, had Most sight of this object a moment, is litermed it of vital importance to the issue of the campaign.

The enemy deserve credit for their zeal and intelligence, which he active universal hostility of the male inhabitants of the country enbled them to employ to the greatest advantage. Thus while menaced by a respectable force in the rear, the coast was lined by musquetry in front, at every critical pass of the giver, which obliged me to march a detachment, and this impeded my rogress.

On the evening of the 9th inst. he army halted a few miles from the head of Lounge Saut. In the morning of the 10th, the inclosed order was issued. General Brown narched, agreeably to order, and aout noon we were apprized, by the eport of his artillery, that he was ngaged some distance below us. At the same time the enemy were bserved in our rear, and their galty and gun-boats approached our 12, and opened a fire upon us. hich obliged me to order a battery i 18 pounders to be planted, and a not from it compelled the vessels the enemy to retire, together ith their troops, after some firing the advanced parties. But by its time, in consequence of disemarking and re-embarking the heavy iles and came to for the night. en. Brown, I was still delayed, as ammitted the flotilla to the Saut half past 10 o'clock, A. It is impossible to say with accuracywhat was our number on the field -because it consisted of indefinite detachments taken from the boats in order to render safe the passage of the Saut. Generals Covington and Swartwout voluntarily took part in the action, at the head of detachments from their respective brigades and exhibited the same courage that was displayed by Brig. Gen. Boyd, who happened to be the senior offi-cer on the ground. Our force en gaged might have reached 16 or 1,700 men, but actually did not exceed 1800; that of the enemy was estimated from 1200 to 2000. but did not probably amount to more than 15 or 1600-consisting as I am informed of detachments, from the 40th, 84th, and 104th regiments of the line ; with three companies of the Voltigeur and Grengary corps, and the militia of the country, wno

are not included in the estimate.

It would be presumptuous in me to attempt to give you a detailed account of the affair, which certainly reflects high honour on the valour of the American soldier, as no examples can be produced of undisciplined men, with inexperienced officers, braving a fire of two hours and an half, without quitting the field or yielding to their antagonists. But, sir, the information I now give you is derived from officers of my confidence, who took active parts in this conflict; for though I was enabled to order the attack, it was my hard fortune not to be able to lead the troops I commanded. The disease with which I was assailed on the 21 of September, on my journey to Fort George, having with a few short intervals of convalescence, preyed on me ever since, and at the moment of this action I was confined to my bed, and emaciated almost to a skeleton, unable to set on my horse, or to move ten paces, without assistance. I must however be pardoned for trespassing on your time a few remarks in relation to the affair. The objects of the British and American commanders were precisely opposed -the last being bound by the instructions of his government, and the most solemn obligations of duty, ins, the day was so far spent, that I have not dare, enter the means, because this being effected, one of the greatest difficulties operefore we fell down about two posed to the American arms would be surmounted ; and the first, by arly the next morning, every thing duties equally imperious, to retard, as in readiness for motion; but and, if possible, prevent such developerate and in readiness for motion; but and, if possible, prevent such developerate with the latto be accounted victorial. rious who effected his purpose. . The next morning the flotilla passed through the Saurand joined that excellent officer, Brig. Gen. Brown at Barnhart's, near Cornwall, where he had been instructed to take post and wait my arrival, and where, I confidently expected to hear of Mai. Gen. Hampton's arrival on the op-posite shore. But immediately after.I halted, Col. Atkinson, the inspector Gen. of the division under Maj. Gen Hampton, waited on me with a letter from that officer, in which, to my unspeakable mortification and surprise, he declined the junction ordered, and informed mehe was marching towards Lake Champlain, by way of co-operating in the proposed attack on Montreal. This letter, together with a copy of that to which it is an answer, were immediately submitted to a council of war, composed of my general officers, and the colonel commanding the Elite, the chief engineer & the adjutant general, who unanimously gave it as their opinion, that, " the attack on Montreal should be abandoned for the present season, and the army near Cornwall should be immediately crossed to the American shore, for taking up winter guarters, and that this place afforded, an eligible position for such quarters." . I acquiesced in these opinions, not from the shortness of the stock of provisions, (which had been reduced by the act of God) because that of our meat had been increased five days, and our bread had been reduced only two days, and because we could in case of extremity, have lived on the enemy; but because the loss of the division under Major Gen. Hampton weakened my force too sensibly to justify the attempt. In all my measures and movements of moment, I have taken the opinions of my general officers, which have been in accord with my own.

I remained on the Canada shore until the next day, without seeing or hearing from the " powerful force, of the enemy in our neighborhood. and the same day reached this posttion with the artillery and infantry. The dragoons have been ordered to Utica and its vicinity, and I expect are 50 or 60 miles on the march.

You have under cover a summary abstract of the killed and wounded in the affair of the eleventh instant which shall spon be followed by particular return, in which a just regard will be paid to individual merits. The dead rest in honour, and the wounded bled for their country, and deserve its gratitude.

With perfect respect, 4 I have the honor to be, Sir, Your ob'dt. humble servant. (Signed) AMES WILRINSON.

FROM GEN. WILKINSON TO GENERAL HAMPTON. H. Quarters of the army, 7 miles about Ogdensburgh, Nov. 6th 1813, (in the evening.)

Laddress you at the special instance of the Secretary of War, who by bad roads, worse weather and ill health, was diverted from meeting me' near this place, and determined to tread back his steps to Washington from Antwerp on the 29th aft. I am destined to & determined of the attack-of Montreal, if not prevented by some act of God ; and to give security to the enterprize, the division under your command must co-operate with the corps under my immediate orders; the point of reudesvous is the circumstance of greatest interest to the issue of this operation, and the distance which separates us, and my ignorance of the practicability of the direct or devious roads or routs by which you must march, make it necessary that your own judgment should determine the point; to assist you in making the soundest determination, and to take the most prompt and effectual measures, I can only inform you or my intentions and situation in some respecis of first importance. I shall spass Prescott to night, because the stage of the season will not allow me three days to take it, shall cross the cavalry at liamliton, which will not require a day. I shall thence press forward and break down every obstruction to this river with Grand river, there to cross the Tale Perrot, and with my scows to bridge the narrow inner channel and thux obtain foothold on Montreal I-in an action fought at traumph or provide us honghrable Enclosed you have a memorality Enclosed you have a nemorandum of field and battering train pretty well found in fixed ummunition, which may enable you to disquesyour own; but we are deficient in loose powder and musker cartenages, and therefore hope you may be abunand therefore hope you may be abused antily found. On the subject of provisions I wish I could give as far yorable idormation your whole stock of bread may be computed about fifteen days, and our mear at twenty. In speaking on this subject to the secretary of war, he informed mo ample magazines were laid up on the champles of the laid up on the Lake Champlain, and therefore I must request of you to order forward two or three months supply by the safest rout, in a direction to the proposed scene of action. Thave submitted the state of our provisions to. my general officers, who unanimously agree that it should not prevent the progress of the expedition gand they also agree 'a opinion, that if you are not in force to face the enemy, you should meet us at St. Regis or its vicinity.

- I shall expect to hear from, if not see you at that place on the 19th And have the honor to beat respectfully your obedient, humble servant,

(Signed), JA. WILKINSON. Maj. Gen. Hampton.

HOM OEN. HAMPTON TO GEN. WIE KINSON. Head Quarters, Four Corners, November 8th, 1813.

I had the honor to receive, at a late hour last evening, by col. King, your communication of the 6th, and was deeply impressed with the sonso of responsibility it imposed of deciding upon the means of our co-operation. The idea suggested as the opinion of your officers of effecting the junction at St. Regis, was the most pleasing, as most immediate, until I came to the disclosure of the amount of your supplies of provisions. Col. Atkinson will explain the reasons that would have rendered it more than each man could have carried on; his back ; and when I refielded that throwing myself upon your scanty means, I should be weakcoing you in your most vulnerable point. I did not hesitate to adopt the opinion, after consulting the goneral and principal officers, that by throwing myself back on my main depot, when all the means of transportation had gone, and falling upon the enemy's flank, and straining every effort to open a communication from Plattsburgh to Coghnawaga, or any other point you may indicate on the St. Lawrence, I should more effectually contribute to your success than by the junction at St. Regis .-The way is in many places blockaded and abatted, and the road impracticable for wheel carriages during winter, but by the employment of pack horses, if I am not overpowered, I hope to beable to preventyour starv-ing. A have ascertained and witnessed that, the plan of the enemy ia to burn and consume every thing in our advance. My troops and co-ther means will be described to you by Gol. Atkinson. Besides the rawness and sickliness, they have endured fatigues equal to a winter campaign, in the late snows and bad weather, and are sadly dispirited & fallen off: but upon the subject I must refer you to Col Atkinson.

With these means, what can be accomplished by human exertion, I will attempt-with a mind devoted to the general objects of the campaign,
I have the honor to be,

Very respectfully, Sir, Your most obd't servant,
