The Religious Magazines which have, been heretofore published by members of the church, are, some of then, very useful as far as they go. My objection to them is, that they do not attempt to give us information, of which the laity, and indeed clergy, stand in much need, and which is with usually discussed in them have already been explained and enforced by pious and learned divines, with as much ability as could be expected from more modern wri selections, as by any original matter which ve might be able to offer to them. From vavs to be met with, even in possession of the clargy, we shall most nequently collect what it is deemed necessary to give on christian doctrine and day. The magazine will aim to be useful, and desires no other

I am induced to hope that, her des furnishing the laity with us ful information in regard to the duties which are imposed up on them, some heats, worthy of their atten-tion, may occasionally be given to the cler-While they act up to their ordination we: endeavour to frame and fashion their make themselves wholesome examples of the flock of Christ, and reverently obey their Bishops, following with a glad mind and will, their godly admonitions, they deve, and there is in the laity of the church Maryland generally, every disposition to honour and support them. If, however, at any time, any of them forget to pay due their own solemn engagements. and instead of loving to adwell together in droduce disorder and misrule into the church, to oppose its legitimate authority to them, then it is not only the right, but it becomes the imperative duty of the hity, to animadvert upon such conduct with unsparing severity.

Approving entirely of the forms prescribed, and of the doctrines agreed to by our Church, it will be no part of the business of the Magazine to recommend or even to consider at, any new inventions, whether in tenests or discipling or working. tenets, or discipline or worship. TERMS.

The Repository shall be published twice a month, each number to contain sixteen pages royal e vo-Price two dollars per annum, one half payable in advance, and the other half upon the delivery of the 12th

The first number shall appear on the third Saturday in January next, should a suffici-ent number of subscribers be obtained to jus-

Subscriptions received at the office of the Maryland Gazette and at George Shaw's

The Undersigned

Respectfully represent to the citizens of Annapolis and of Anne-Arundel county, that they suffer much income nience from the want of a good collec-tion of English Books which might be put into the hands of the youth committed to their care' The Library of the College consists almost exclusively of the Latin and Greek Classics, the writings of the ancient fathers, and some ponderous tomes of Scholastic Theology and Canon Law. The best of these works can be of no use. except to the Professors themselves. They therefore take the liberty of soliciting, from the alumni and other friends of the College, donations of such useful Books as can be conveniently spared. Almost any thing will be acceptable. Books of travels, biography and history; treatises of logic, metaphysics and ethics; systems of natural philosophy, or dissertations on any subordinate branch; elementary works on international and municipal law and political economy, and any publication of the numerous Societies of Literati in Europe or America will be gratefully re-

Mr. Boyle, Dr Ridgely, Mr. Magruder, and Mr. G. Shaw will take charge of any Books which may be sent to their respective offices. The donors are requisted to inscribe their names on the covers or the blank leaves, in order that the undersigned mays brow the individuals, to whose kindness they are indebted, and to whom they owe a public acknowledgment of the obliga-

NOTICE.

MR. P. GUIGON respectfully informs the inhabitants of Anna polis that, from the encouragement he received in this town last summer, he intends recpening his Dancing Academy as soon as his school in Baltimore will be over. Nothing will be neglected for his pupils improvement; and hopes to have the same confidence bestored up on him both in Baltimore and this City.

March 16.

March 9.

ing of Abraham is a medical country in a cettal contains for the benefit of the set of t land, immediately preceding of his application; and the ham G. Hammond having the oath by said act prescribed for ing up his property, I do herely and adjudge that the said Abril

Finammond be discharged from a ment, and that he give notice to creditors, by causing a copy of der to be inserted in some new printed in the city of Anapolic a week for three months because

a week for three months belon third Monday in April next, ten before the said county count, a court house of said county tour, a in the foremon of that day, far purpose of recommending a frac-

their benefit, and to shew cauch they have, why the said Abnh

Hammond should not have the he of said act as prayed. Given a my hand this 9th day of Oct

CENTRAL TAVER

That well known establishment

Central Tavern, formerly kepthy

Thomasin the City of Annapolis

lately been purchased and put in plete repair, and is now occurred

JOSEPH DALE

1: ho has opened a large and an

where Boarders and Traveller receive the most unremitted atten

and the best of every thing which seasons afford. Gentlemen atte the Legislature, and the public general, will find it to their at tage to give him a call, as he pi es himself nothing who lest done to render every satisfaction his customers. The best Liquers fare of every kind that can be produced, shall be offered to his caster and the greatest attentionard care en of their Mores. He therefore licits a share of their patronage.

July 29.

dious

TAVERN,

Gremials Townley Ches

WM S. GREEN, O

1819.

Jan. 13.

ANNAPOLIS, THURSDAY APRIL 6, 1860

TANKED PURCHARED

ONAS GREEN, CHATERET, ANHAPOLIS.

Alers Hollars per Annum.

WAIL ROBBERS. confessions of Hutton and is fall and particular. The Gerence which appears in oftssions is, that Hull avows inintention was to kill the thite Hutton declares that is not intend to kill him. bothim, and Hutton stabbed with a view of ending his They both agree that rer made no resistance—but edered to prevent him from gradaced as a witness against Balt. paper.

ferion of the Mail Robbers. a full confession of one of the Robbers recently apprehended himore, has been obligingly tous for publication. [Nat. Int.

examination and confession

regrine Hutton, taken before Theodorick Bland, Judge of the it Court in and for the Mary-Burict, this 28th day of March, year eighteen hundred and 15, after being cautioned that has wledgments and confessinest be free & voluntary, withother hope or fear, saith, that nhis 28th year, is a native of ere, and was raised in Mary. hat he has been heretofore iged 28 2 stage driver between and Baltimore, until August and ju the same employment there before that time; that in but the month of December he went to Philadelphia; that est there to be restored to his th, and from thence returned to more, and thence to Richmond, the 17th December last; thence dimpton, thence to Norfolk, see to Petersburg, thence to the ch, to a Mr. Gholson's, an ownistages, for the purpose of obing employment; thence to Pekhooner Phænix; where he met a Morris N. B. Hull alias Norand became there first acquaint. with him; he was introduced by name of Hull, and represented uell as a Druggist, who wished tome on to the southward to seek wment; where he saw a flat adpiece of lead in his pocket; y, Hull and Hutton, lest Phila-

the they arrived in Baltimore, & summenced boarding at Kecks, when is following plan was digested: it

Bigreed that, as Hutton was town, he should wear a mask, made erson to be concerned or let into a secret; & nothing farther should thone than to rob the mail of the oney found therein; that Hull hoald also wear a mask, which was sho made of an old cap, one side of thick was hairy; that they had a common screw barrel pocket pistol, with the groard broke off from be-hing the cook. Hull had a stout talle, the blade of which was about there of that Inches 1 ng; common-ly called . Spanish knife; Hutton and common two bladed pauknife bey had each a stout walking stick but they had no other, arms of any selection. Thus equipped, Hall and Haiton left the city of Balt.

BLANKS

For Sale at this Office. Declarations on Promissory Nets. bills of exchange against lim first, second, and third Escone assumpsit generally.

Debt on Bond and Single Bill,

Common Bonds, Appeal do. Tobacco Notes, &c. &c.

Sale of Furniture, On Thursday 30th inst. at 10cd will be offered for Sale, at the resi of the law Dr. Upton Scott, sunt tiples of Physical Suppliers ticles of Household Furniture; which are two large Mabogan Di Tables; two Can Tables; Mshq and other Chairs; Mahogan, & Bedsteads, both high and low po Looking Glasses; a pain of ept patent Lamps; a Chariot and lisa a Harpischord, and various ater cles. Terms to be made known time of sale. March 23.

NOTICE.

The subscriber having obtained terstes tamentary on the personal of Lewis Griffith, late of Angel del county, deceased, requests all sons having claims against said to to bring them in, legally authorice and these in any way indebted to immediate anyment, to CASAWAY PINDELLE Nov. 11.

For Sale, A STUD HORSE, Seven years old of fine figst Chesnut Sorrel his pedigree equa any in the Unit States.

NOTICE.

Union Manufacturing Company Maryl ind. al meeting of the Steel ers in this Company is directed to held at the Micrchants' Coffee B in the city of Baltimore, on the st Monday in May next, 8th, at 11 or AM. of which all interested is company are hereby notified. By order, MILLLE, Jr. Pro

ton, again left Baltimore, and went out as before on the Philadelphia road, with the design to meet, stop, and rob the mail, and were in all respects equipped and armed as on the first going out, and about eight or nine miles from the city, on this side of Buck's tavern, they took their stand in the woods; Hutton threw into one branch of the road two or three bushes, where they aacknowledgments and confessions waited the arrival of the mail; they must be made without hope or fear, neither of them were dressed as they are now, or when they left Baltimore, from the shirt out; their clothes having been changed some distance from town, where they were left on the first sally; when the mail wagon came up, the driver saw them by the moon light, and said, "what does this mean." Hutton said, "It is not you we wish to hurt; we only want the contents of the mail." Hull having seized the horse by the bridle, Hutton said to the driver, "follow that man." He accordingly drove out into the wood and got off the box; Hutton took one of the reins and tied the driver by one arm to a sappling, and Hull tied him by the other arm to another sappling, about ten feet from the other; Hull and Hutton then took out the mail bags, having first given Hull the pistol; they then opened the mail bags and took all the money they could find, all of which has since been found on Hull, and in their trunk at Kecks, and some of it on Hutton-while they were pillaging the mail by moon light, for they had no fire light, Hutton told Hull that he had better unharness the horses to be ready for a retreat in case of an alarm-after they had finished the collection of the money, Hutton requested Hull to untie the driver; Hull replied that he would know them; Hutton said they were sufficiently disguised, and he could not know them; Hull went to and came back from the driver and repeated the same thing. Hutton again desired he might be untied .-Hull returned to the driver, and when Hutton was about fifty yards off, he heard the pistol go off, and phia together, in the steam boat, immediately Hull returned, and said Wilmington, and arrived there the driver had kicked IAn while he ther; thence to Newport; where was untying him, and he (Hull) had shot him, (the driver.) Hull again Hutton, left an order for his it to go to New Castle, there to returned to the driver, on Hutton's left until further order, and from asking if he was dead, to see if he wport they, Hull and Flutton, Red down to Baltimore, & from was actually dead, and soon joined mesent for the trunk by the him again, saying that his pulse beat member, which was brought acdingly. When they left New dead. Hutton told Hull, it was a the Hutton permitted Hull to put bad thing, it ought not to have been done, and that that of itself would dothes into his trunk, and when etrunk arrived in Baltimore, he certainly lead to their detection .-Hull said it was better so than othe that Hull had a key which fittherwise, as he would have been sure to have recognized them by ad from New York, Hull propostheir sizes, if nothing else; they then mounted the horses and rode to Hutton to stop and rob the all, wherever it might be most avenient; that he had arms and off towards Baltimore along the main road, and left the horses in the woods this side the Herring munition, and thought it could run; thence they walked into the done without any danger; but, city, and brenkiasted together at that time, no plan or arrange-Kecks, where they remained until th was digested or made, and it Saturday evening, when they went out together and were apprehended n decasionally talked of until they fired at Baltimore. This day fort

in Gay street-They looked over the money in the afternoon, at Keck's, but did ne count it or make division or make any entry in any pocket book, or any other memorandum of the amount, but guessed there might be about twenty five hundred to three thousand dollars; after they, Hut. ton and Hull, dismounted near Herring Run; they changed their clothes in which they committed the robbes ry, brought them to town with them attempted; they immediately re-attempted; they immediately re-turned, and reached Baltimore, a this twenty ninth day of March, eighteen hundred and twenty. On Friday-last, after supper, arbout 8 o'clock, they Hull and Hut-

Hadge of the District Court, in and for the District of Maryland.

From the Washington City Gazette. The examination and confession of Morris Norton Bartholomew Hull, Judge of the District Court in and for the District of Maryland, on this 28th day of March in the year 1820. After being cautioned that his

and perfectly voluntary and free, the said Hull'saith, that he was born in New-Hartford, in the state of N. York: that he is now 20 years of age, and that he studied physic, and was principally raised to the business of a druggist, in the druggist shop of his father in Utica, N. Y. that he was sometime out of employ in N: Y. where about five weeks ago he met with, and for the first time became acquainted with Peregrine Hutton; about two weeks after they became acquainted, they left New-York for Baltimore together; Hutton complained that he was out of money, and proposed to come to Baltimore, where, as soon as he arrived, he could lay his hands on as much as he wanted immediately; he did not say how it was to be got, but expressed great confidence in getting it. Hull borrowed of Miles Hitchcock, his father's cousin, 25 dollars, with which he bore his (Hull's) and Hutton's expenses-they travelled together from New-York to Philadelphia in the mail-stage; thence to Wilmington in the steam-boat; thence to Newport in the stage. Hull left his trunk under a pretence that it was Hutton's, in N. Y. at Capt. James Whelpley's, in pledge for Hutton's debt, with some of his (Hull's) clothes in it, the rest of his clothes being put into Hutton's trunk; the keys of the two trunks happened to be alike; but which he did not discover until they arrived in Baltimore. Hutton proposed for the first time to him (Hull) in Wilmington, to stop and rob the mail, but specified nothing distinctly as to time, place or manner: then it was, that Hull first suspected that Hutton had all along alluded to the mail robbery, from Newport. They (Hull and Hutton) travelled togetner on foot to Baltimore, and in the course of their journey, the sub. ject of the mail robbery was frequently spoken of; Hutton said he knew of three or four good places for the purpose, if they could make mail. Hull then tied the other arm of the driver to another sappling. de-Grace was mentioned; Hull said he would leave the place entirely to Hutton as he knew the country. They had made up their minds upon the robbery of the mail before they reached Baltimore, and agreed that it should be perperrated beyond the Falls of Gunpowder; but recollecting that there was a bridge in the way, which Hutton believed was a toll bridge, over which they would not readily make a retreat, it was given up, and they came on to Baltimore, where they arrived on this day two weeks, and put up at George Keck's, in Old-Town. On Thursday or Friday, after they arrived in Baitimore, they left this city and went out on foot about 30'clock in the afternoon, on the Philadelphia road, with a design to meet, and rob the mail; and travelled out into a wood, about a mile beyond the big Falls of Gunpowder, when they stationed themselves, and threw some rails atross the road, and about two hours after, that is, about 2 o'clock, A. M. the mail waggon coming up, when, Hull perceiving it had lamps, said they had better not attempt it; which, af-

pistol; the guard back of the cock was broke, which was loaded by Hutton-and each of them had a stout knife with a blade about 4 inches long, commonly called a Spanish Knife, which they bought in New York, at the recommendation of Hutton; they had no sticks or clubs, or other weapons, the first night .- Hutton had a mask made of an old leather cap, and Hull had a mask made of the hairy part of the same oid cap, which was put on about his neck and chin more like a handkerchief than a mask; when they went out of town they put on other clothes over those they had on. They were out again, on Thursday last, on the Philadelphia road, with a design to rob the mail, about eight miles from the city, equipped in all respects as on the first night-but | threw them into the falls, at the upwhen the mail wagon came up there were two menin it; they heard them talking and therefore let it pass; they then threw nothing into the road.

They returned to Baltimore, and coming in Hutton said, "I will go every night until I have it." On Friday night last, after they had got their supper at Keck's, about eight clock, they again set out on the Philadelphia road, with intent to rob the mail, and were armed and equipped in all respects as on the first occasion, but had cut each of them a stick to walk with. They stationed themselves in a wood about eight miles from the city. Hutton threw 2 few bushes into one branch of the road; -when the mail wagon came up, they were standing near the road, Hutton more in it; before the mail got up, Hutton said to Hull there was but one person in it; the first word spoken was by Hutton, addressed to the driver, I command you (said he) to stop: there are four of us old offenders;" the driver said nothing but we to his horses, and stopped .- Hutton told Hull to take hold of the horses and lead them into the woods, the driver remarked as he got into the woods, "gentlemen this is far enough, you have got every thing, I give up, you may have all, I make no resistance. dont injure me, I have a wife and children; I do not know either of you, and I can't be an evidence against you."-Hutton said nothing, Hull said "it is not you we want, we dont want to injure you." The driver had by this time jumped off the wagon, and Hutton was tying him with the reins, first behind by the two arms, and then tied his right arm to a sappling. Hutton then with his knife, ripped open the Hutton then threw the mail bags on the ground and they pillaged the letters, and collected the money as fast as they could, one of the bags had in it meal or something of the kind: before they had collected the money, Hutton told Hull to unharness the horses ready for a retreat; after they had done pillaging the mail, Hutton told Hull, in a low voice, "now you must go up and shoot him." Hull said "no, he don't know us, we had better let the man go, if we do do it, we shall surely be hung." Hutton replied, "It must be done, he knows me, you must shoot him or shoot me." Hull beg. ged of Hutton to let the man go, but he said not, and insisted on his being shot. Hull then went up to the driver and shot him; he jumped up, hallooed, and thea fell and groaned, Hutton told Hull to go up again and feel his pulse, which he did, and found him still alive. Hutton then went up to him, and stabbed him twice with his knife and killed him. Hutton and Hull then mounted the horses, and rode on towards Baltimore as far as the wood Hutton threw his clothes, into the cer's little, was agreed to. They fills at a street terminating on the withdrew the rails from the road withdrew the rails from the road the was agreed to. They withdrew the rails from the road the was agreed to. They withdrew the rails from the road the horses and left them, and the was agreed to. They withdrew the rails from the road the horses and left them, and the was agreed to. They withdrew the road the horses and left them, and the was agreed to. They withdrew the road the horses and left them, and the was agreed to. They withdrew the horses and left them, and them, and the was agreed to. They the them, and the was agreed to. They withdrew the road them came into Baltimore. Butter, Baltimore, Sunday, 11 o'clock, AM.

Mail ROBBERY.

A young man by the name of the road the first toom, are apprehended in Bridge street. They counted the name of the road the supposed previously, as money in their toom, at Keek's and the supposed previously, as there was about five the supposed precised.

ore early in the afternoon, dusting Saturday after they arrived in this going gasmination and confession opportunity, and we might an easily and out interest of the many to stop, and rob the mail; and for that purpose plated the same was catefully good mind to attack it himself.

The being correct throughout. It is made to be said Perenally and for the new bridge on the big falls of the new bridge on the big falls of Gunpowder, and when the mail was being correct throughout. It is made to attack it stone. The word was much the cate of the word was attempted; they immediately related the many proper hand, in my presence.

The being correct throughout. It is made to a specific the same was catefully good mind to attack it stone. The big fall of the many proper hand, in my proper hand, in my presence.

The being correct throughout. It is made to be a specific to the post-notes and put up again at Keck's—when and the rest, with the post-notes had a small iron screw barrel pooker. The guard back of the cock finding a 50 dollar note in his pocket august day and treached Baltimore, a this twenty ninth day. of March, pistol), the guard back of the cock. book some one remarked it was a forged note, when Hall stepped up near him, and Hutton struck Hull's hand and slipped into it the cut note which he then thought had been pur into the trunk,! Hull, not knowing what to do with them, slipped them into his pantaloons, where they were found. Before and after they had robbed the mail, Hutton proposed they should go to the southward, to Petersburg in Virginia, and there set up the druggist and grocery busi-

They had disposed of none of the money before they were apprehended. The over-clothes in which they perpetrated the robbery, and their knives, were thrown away. Hull tied a stone to his clothes, and per side of Market-street Bridge. Hutton's trunk was sent from Newport to New-Castle, and thence brought to Baltimore in the steam boat by an order from Hull, under the name of Norton, which he then assumed, and also by another order from Hutton.

(Signed) MORRIS N. B. HULL.

I do hereby certify, that the foregoing examination and confession was written entirely by me, and after the same was corefully read over by me to the said M. N. B. Hull he assented thereto, as being correct throughout, and freely and voluntarily signed the same with his own proper hand in my presence.

Given under my hand and seal this twenty-ninth day of March, eighteen hundred and twenty. (Signed) Theodorick Bland, Judge of the District Court, in, and for the District of Maryland.

Another Robbery of the Eastern Mail-the Robber apprehended and confined-the property all secured, and proof ample.

It will be seen, that yet another ttempt has been made to plunder the mail from New York. The frequency of these occurrences, grows truly alarming; and would almost seem to indicate a concerted plan of operations. This last instauce, indeed, is distinguished from the recent one in our vicinity, by the very different fate of the carrier. In the one case, the driver, by ingenious finesse, led to the detection and defeat of the attempted illainy-in the other, he was the victim of his fidelity.

If the repeated occurrence of crimes of this kind is calculated to awaken our utmost vigilance; and in some measure to weaken public confidence in the safety of this important channel of common communication; the repeated detection of the miscreants must have a tenden. cy, we think, to discourage and deter from the repetition of the offence. Punishment most condign has hitherto overtaken, and now awaits, the recent perpetrators of these crimes. We have been fa-voured with the following letter and accompanying statement, in addition to the article, from our correspondent, which appears under the New York head...

Balt. Patriot.

Post Office, New York, 26th March, 1820.

Dear Sir, : I have only time to enclose you handbill of a transaction this morning; and to say that the robbery was fully perpetrated, though without loss the robber was unarmed. Evidence against him is complete, and our Circuit Court sits next week. Yours sincerely, THEODORUS BAILEY, PM.