JONATHAN WERDON, Annapolis, Jan. 3, 1822.

The University of Maryland

ST. JOHN'S WASHINGTON COLLEGES.

The reputation and welfare of Maryland have been deeply affected by the fall of this University; and although it is the common duty of every man in the state to endeavour to re-construct it, there seems to be something more than an ordinary obligation upon those who claim to be the Alumni of the Institution, to co-operate, and to make one vigorous, united effort, to re-uscinate and to restore it to its ancient usefulness and fame, that they may be the special means of transmitting to their descendants, and to posterity generally, the benefits of an Institution which the wisdom of their forefathers had created for them.

It is therefore respectfully suggested to the Alumni of this University, wherever residing, to hold a meeting on the first Monday in August next, at St. John's College in Annapolis, (by permission of the Visitors and Governors,) to take into consideration the practicability of reviving this University, the plan, and the ways and means necessary to effect it.

As the Chancellor of the state is upon the spot, and is always one of the Visitors & Governors of the University, it is also suggested that he be invited to attend as President of the Convention.

Should this proposition meet with the approbation of those to whom it is directed, it may be useful to insert short paragraphs in the several newspapers of the state, and of the District of Columbia, favourable to the plan, and urging a general attendance at the Convention—as it is not only desirable that our once distinguished and venerable "Alma Mater," should be re-animated and restored by her Sons, but particularly so that they should form a Brotherhood of every surviving member of the family to undertake the noble work, to which gratitude and duty equally invite.

ALUMNUS.

P. S. The Editors of newspapers throughout the state, and in the District of Columbia, are requested to give this publication a few insertions in their respective Journals.

Notice is hereby Given,

That the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans Court of Anne-Arundel county, short letters testamentary on the personal estate of Elizabeth Battee, late of said county, deceased. All persons having claims against said estate are requested to present them, properly authenticated, to Thos. Franklin, in Annapolis, and those indebted to make immediate payment.

From the Commercial Advertiser. THE ALBION.

Swift across the Atlantic's breast Sped the gallant Albion, When the sun set in the west, And the blush of day was gone— Roodly o'er the billows blue! Spread each wide expanded sail, Then all hearts beat high, nor knew Death was lurking in the gale! Light her stern mantle threw O'er the waters, dark and wild— And the tempest's spirit flew Where so late the sun had smudged the cloud-envelop'd sky! Ruin shewed his awful form, While the seaman's fearful cry Mingled with the raging storm. Then fair woman's dying wail Echoed on the foaming surge, Ringing with the midnight gale, By Hibernia's rocky verge— Then the chief who stood the fight Shook the fated Albion. A that shout of wild dismay— That death groan of agony— As the grave receives its prey In the ocean's devouring sea— See the mountain billows swell O'er the leering Albion—ark! that loud and last farewell, She is heaving—she is gone!

General Desouettes.

From Campbell's New Monthly Magazine for April. TIME.

Canzone, from the Italian of Torquato Tasso. Comes that in the dazzling glow Of your youth and beauty go: Ye who, in your strength, defy Love with all his archery; Conquering others as ye will, Ye shall bend at last before The iron sceptre of my power. Time shall be your glories then, Mine the triumphs of your train, Mine the trophies and the crown, Mine the beauty's waning ray; Shall wax feeble, and decay; And your souls too proudly soaring To see the prostrate world adoring. Time, imperial Time, am I— Time your lord and enemy; Time, whose passing wing can blight With the shadow of its flight, More than Love in all his pride With his thousands by his side. While I speak, the moments fly, And my spirit silently, Creeps into your sparkling eyes, And amidst your tresses lies— Here the wreathed knots untwining There bedimmed beauty's shining, Blunting all the piercing darts Which the amorous eye imparts, And wearing lovely's face away To crumble with its kindred clay. I fly; I speed away, On the ever and for aye— But, alas! ye take no heed To the swiftness of my speed; Bearing, like a mighty river, In its downward course for ever, All your gay and glittering throng, Honours, Titles, Names along— Mortal hopes and mortal pride, With the stillness of its tide. You shall come that fatal hour When, beneath my arm of power, Lowly shall ye bend the knee. Soon shall I leave the palace floor, Where he sits enthroned on high In the lustre of your eye; And their victor standards there, Age and chill Reserve shall rear.
