Tuesday, Dec. 16. Mr Winder submitted the following pre amble and resolutions, which were read and made the order of the day for Thursday

The senste and house of delegates of the The senate and nouse of desegates of the general assembly of Maryland, contemplate with great satisfaction, the state of their country and government, as exhibited in the full and luminous message of the president to the present congress.

The prosperous condition of the treasury, the admirable system of prompt & accurate accountability in the disbursements of the war and navy departments, the augmentation and efficient condition of the navy, the perfection attained in the organization, ar-rangement and dissipline of the army in all its branches and appendages, the judicious and rapid progress in securing against hos-and rapid progress in securing against hos-tile attacks, the most important points of our maratime frontier, by adequate fortifi-cations, and the profound and provident at-tention directed to our foreign relations, evince the visitance, ability and wisdom of the administration of the general govern-ment.

But while we feel a lively sense of gratiin looking at the rapidly improving and happy condition of our country, and a just pride in contemplating the high stati-on which the wisdom of the government, and the enterprise and patriotism of the

and the enterprise and patriotism of the people have given to our country in the estimation of the world, yet we entirely reciprocate the sestiment, what there never was a period; ince the establishment of one revolution, when regarding the condition of the civilised world and its bearing, on us, there was great necessity for devotion in the public servants to the free people of the people."

A confederacy of certain monarchs of Europe has existed for some years past.

Europe has existed for some years past, with avowed purposes of hostility against the system of representative governmentnot as a mere speculative proposition, but as a practical principle of conduct; and which has already been carried into action in several recent instances in Europe; and in the last of them under such circumstan-ces as manifests a fixed and settled purpose ces as manifests a flace and section purpose to deny to the people any share or participation in government, excepts of area their hereditary sovereigns may, of their own mere will and pleasure choose to permit.

meie will and pleasure choose to permit.

The people of the United States while they appreciate the wise and salutary maxim of their government, of Keeping aloof from the political agitations of Europe, have, nevertheless been unable to hear the arowed principles of this tremendous conspiracy against the liberties of mankind without strong and indignant feelings; and have been awakened to in apprehension, that their own happy notice system, viewed as it is by these monit che sath a secret-but ill disguised enmity, at the practical and animating example to the rest of mankind, of the happiness of a representative government, may when the opportunity occurs be considered by them as a necessary victim to ensure the final triumph of their project of universal despotism project of universal despots m.

Under these circumstances, the senate and nouse of delegates of the general assembly of this yland, perceive with lively sensibility; that there is just ground to be lieve that this confederacy already contemplates to extend the practical tapplication of their principle beyond the boundaries of Europe, and meditale an attempt to reduce our sister republicy, in America from their present independent condition, to their former state of subjection to their faithless syrant—thus distinctly admonishing the Syrant—thus distinctly admonishing the people or the United States, that their local position is no security against the application of a principle which in its terms em-
