Mr. Dane, chairman of the committee on ways and means delivered the following report:

The committee of ways and means, to whom was referred bill, entitled, A supplement to an act, entitled, An act to mend the lottery system, with the amendment proposed. with instructions to inquire whether the revenue arising herefrom, which constitutes the sole inducement to the whole system, will not be materially increased, and the pe-cuniary interests of the state materially subserved, by farm-ing or letting out the lottery franchise, or by authorising the sale of lottery tickets generally, under an increase of li cense money, and a payment of a per centum upon the proceeds of the sale of foreign lottery tickets, have had the said pills and order under their consideration, and make the following report:

In a moral or political view, few persons are found who approve of the lottery system, either as a source of revenue to the state, or a means of receiving funds for any particular purpose. So long, however, has it been suffered She other named BEN SNOWHEN shout 19 years old five feet 8 inches high, very black and walke a little lame. It is supposed that these pegroes went away in company with a bright multital man named. Henry habitual has become the practice of venturing in luttery schemes, that it is almost, if not quite, impossible, to abolish, and difficult even to control it.

It is, however, the serious duty of every state to render this system as little-mischievons as possible in its operation. and if practicable, to circumscribe its operations; and although Maryland has as yet failed to reduce the evil which all complain of, and to confine its operation to the limits of our own territory, the obligation on the legislature till remains with increased strength, to interpose all the power of the state to effect that object.

Other states to the north and cast, have, it appears, completely excluded the Marfland lottery tickets; while millions of dollars continue to be drawn from our citizens, and embarked in the schemes of the same states, and an important portion of our capital is thus continually drained, without novequivalent whatever. The farming out the franchise of drawing lotteries within the state, would of course include the right of selling indiscriminately, tickets in any lottery whatever, and without such an extension of rights, no dealer, it le presumed, would embark in the contract. The effects of such a community, are at ouce to be seen what is now done by art and contrivance, to clude detection and prevent prosecu ion, would become legalized, and the restraint in selling foreign tickets heing removed, the amount of money carried off would be greatly increased. Your committee, however, deeming it a duty to make every inquiry, soon after the subject was referred to them sought from every source of information within their reach what could be the largest amount that might be raised by farming out the franchise; they have it in their power to say tarming out the trancaise; they mayer it in their power to say, that not more than $15,000 can be obtained unless the right of licensing dealers is also surrendered as any far from the ing art equivalent for the sacrifices which would be the con-mence of such a measure. With regard to licensing the sale of foreign tickets, from which it was presumed that a considerable resemb might be received your committee are of opinion, after investigation that it would fail in effecting any increase wherever that would be easily evaded, and would extend the evil we do suffer under; and the proposal has been chappened of his every person who has been coquired of, and who are increase could do doubt be formed upon the subject.
