Gazette and Advocate.

The Centinel of August 28, 1819, esemia long statement of a similar spectacle for Samuel Cabot, addressed to Coh. T. H. Pakins. A letter from Marshal Prince to JaDavis, to the same effect, also appeared, and advantage from the Hon. J. T. August, to another from the Hon. J. P. Austin, Mr. Price saw him at Nahant. He says:--head appeared about 5 feet out of water, thought there 15. He crossed three times moderate rate across the bay, but so flets to occusion a foam in the water. My fast and self, who were in a carriage, judged a he was from 30 and not more than 60 feet As he swam up the bay, we and to other spectators moved on and kept near abreast of him. I had seven distinct the of him from the long beach, and at some of them the animal was not more than 100 years distant. On passing the second beach, to were again gratified beyond even what we we in the other bay, which I concluded he by left in consequence of the number of boats the offing in pursuit of him." The Ergar Gazette furnished some additional document authenticated by Mr. Bradford.

We will add to this history a paragra from the Kennebunk Gazette of July, 1833.
"The coast in our immediate vicinity has g last received a visit from the far famed to Serpent. He was seen by three men, we were fishing a few miles from the short, we Tuesday atternoon last. Two of the men were so much alarmed at his nearness to boat, that they went helow. The third have. er, Mr. Gooch, a man whose statement or be relied on, remained on deck and retand the glances of his serpentship for a considerable length of time. He gives the follows account of the interview.—The fish was far seen at a short distance from them, and surely after came within six feet of the boat, and poked directly into the boat, and so remain ed for several minutes. Mr. Gooch actived him attentively, and thinks he was sity feet n length, and about six in circumferent,"

The reader will find farther, details in Gny and Bowen's edition of Buffon. We are fitt to say that they have little doubt on our wa mind of the existence of a Sea Scrpent I the present our belief must be singular. The recent additions remains to be discussed.

THE JOURNAL

BELLES LETTRES.

A NEW AND STRIKING CHARACTER ADDED TO WALDIE'S

CIRCULATING LIBRARY. THE Proprietor of this work, anxious to gratify his readers to as great an extent as his means will allow, respectfully announces to the public that the very liberal patronage he has received has enabled him to add a new feature to prove interesting and valuable.

The Journal of Belles Letters, embrac ing three to four pages of additional new mat-ter, will be given every week as an accompaniment to the Circulating Library, and will to this periodical, which he believes cannot fail

1. Early reprints of the reviews and notices of new books, from the weekly and monthly periodical press of London, &c. These reviews will be carefully selected with reference both to imparting correct information respecting such new books as are reprinted in America, and to convey literary intelligence in regard to works which rarely field their way across the Atlantic. As great exertions will be used to make this department instructive and entertaining, the proprietor is confident that it will be considered an important addition, by means of which his numerous subscribers will frequently avoid the expense of purchasing such books as are printed on the calculation that their titles or the reputation of their authors will sell the edition. This part of the Journal will embrace a considerable amount of extracts from new books of travels, memoirs, biography, novels, and in fact present a bird's eye of new publications, early diffused through the Union, by incans of the facilities of mail transportation.

The London Literary Gazette will be culled for this purpose, while the "Critical Notices," of the London Metropolitan, the Monthly, New Monthly, the Gentleman's, Blackwood's, Tait's, Edinburgh, Fraser's, and other Maga-zines, already regularly received by the editor, will be freely used.

2. Varieties, embracing literary anecdotes, new discoveries in science and the arts, sketches of society and manners abroad, literary and learned transactions, short notices of new books, and every species of information interesting to lovers of reading, with occasional speci-mens of the humourous departments of the London press, which are within the bounds of good taste, and are now published in no other journal in America.

3. A regular list of the new books published and in progress in London and America.

4. Occasional original notices of new American publications, with extracts embracing their prominent features of excellence or de-

No additional charge will be made for this great increase of reading matter. It will be contained on the pages of the cover of the Library, and ifferefore subject subscribers who receive their numbers by mail to no additional expense of postage.

A. WALDIE. Several applications having been made to ascertain the manner in which the original department of notices of new books will be con ducted, we take the present early apportunity of stating that, at least they shall most une quivocally be—UNBOUGHT. The presentation of a copy by the publisher shall not be a passport to praise, when the merits of the work do not warrant it; so that our readers may be assured of two things: First-books shall not be noticed the next day after they are received; be noticed the next day after they are received; and, secondly, they shall not be reviewed before they have been read. We have no royal road to puffing, and will be the less likely, therefore, to fall into the error of an unlucky wight, who, in his anxiety to be the first to blow the bellows of criticism, read the preface only of a duodecimo, and gravely entered his ap-probation of two chapters which, unfortunately for his critical acumen, had been omitted, while the prefatory reference to them had been by mistake, retained! This predicament was worse than that of the London editor, who criticised some passages of Cooke's acting, and found when he rose next morning, and his pa-per was all over London, that the play had been postponed.

For the rest, time must develope our course and our capabilities; in cases where the usual courtesy of the trade is not extended to this journal, unlike most of our cotemporaries, we hall buy what books we want, and give to such as deserve it a careful perusal.

The prospectus, and some technical difficulties always attending the first issue of a; new ournal, make the present number but a partial specimen of its future promise.
