proposed that there was still something wanting—that many occurrences in the literary world must pass unknown, as regarded our agency, without an extension of the plan.

To establish a fuller medium of communicapublic. To establish a fuller medium of communication and supply the desideratum, the Journul of Belier Lettres was added; which we have reason to believe has afforded general satisfaction. The very liberal patronage extended to the Library induced the proprie-

the present subscribers and the public at large. It is believed that with the "Library," the "Journal," and the "Companion," such Vol. III. (to be published on the 1st of March) an acquaintance with the literature of the age may be cultivated as to leave little fur ther to be desired. Being all published from the same office, more facility offers for subscribing, and having fewer people to deal with, mistakes are less liable to occur, and more readily corrected when they do. short interval of two weeks between the publication of each number, it is thought too, will be an advantage over monthlies and 4 As the work will not be commenced unless a sufficient patronage be obtained, no payment is required at present, only the name, sent free of postage. These wishing to support the publication will be pleased therefore to announce their intention as early, as possible, as it is intended to commence the work on the first of January next. the issuing of the second number payment will be expected, as its appearance will evince a sufficiency of patronage.

The proprietor of the "Select Circulating Library," fully aware from experience of the edvantages to the public of the rapid diffusion of cheap and select literature, has been induced to add the important feature to the work, and of course leaves it optional with the present subscribers and others to take it or not.

It is confidently believed, that, with the attention on the part of the Editor, who has already at hand the material for such a work, all the realty valuable matter of the English literary and amusing publications may be comprised in this form at a rate of subscription and postuge, so trifling as scarcely to be felt. It will form the cheapest reprint of reviews and magazines ever attempted in any country: a comparison with others it were uncless here to enter up -., the 'Library' itself being the best test by which to judge of the difference between an octavo and a quarto page. It will be the study of the Editor to embody a record of the day, adapted to the wants of this country, which can have no competitor for value or cheapness; how far he is likely to do this he mus leave at present to the decision of his readers.

Clubs of five individuals, who subscribe to the 'Library' and 'Companion' both, will obtain the two for six dollars, the postage (a very important consideration) to the most distant post office, on the two, will be one dollar and ninety-five cents, divided into dollar and ninety-five cents, seventy eight payments, and hulf that sum for 100 miles or a less distance from Philadelphia, while the same matter, in the usu al American reprints of reviews and magaazines in octavo form would be eighteen dol lars, and the postage as three to one. make this assertion advisedly.

The proprietor trusts that his punctuality and exactness in executing his part of the contract in the publication of the 'Library,' will be considered a sufficient guarantee of the completion of his proposed undertaking. ADAM WALDIE. 41. Nov. 8
