at this

TO THE PRINTERS OF THE UNITED STATES.

J. SPITTALL, WOOD LETTER CUTTER AND ENGRAVI

TOL XC.

Pduted and Published by

Price Three Dellars per annum.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

Oche London, Edinburgh, Foreign, and Westminster Quarterly Reviews-the has Migazine, Penny Cyclopadia, Repub-las Letters, Parley's Magazine, and the fe York Register, received at the "Room"

the subscriber, where specimen Numbers at be sten.
FRANCIS M. JARBOE.

PRUSPECTUS.

ha fais design, with the full knowledge

Church street-Annapolis.

in Brick Building on the Public

JONAS GREEN,

PHILADELPHIA

Printers of the United States, that has commenced the manufacture of Wolfers and LETTERS.

t feature to it optional four to thirty-four lines Pica, or spen made to order on the shortest notice. Ornamental Letters of entirely new most splendid patterns, for Heads of No papers. Title Lines, &cc from two lines of Primer to any size larger.

His type will, be made of materials of best assortment, well searoned and pre-by machinery, invented for the purpose, we ensures the most exact adjustment. scarcery the reprint of Specimens will be passible.
Engravings on Wood, Specimens will be published as par

the Libratery with neatness and prompting with neatness an Old cast metal cuts, ornameuts, &c. stry, which graved over, and made equal to new for their original cost.

A liberal discount for cash. Six no credit on the most approved security, ders from the country promptly attended All letters must be post paid.

to the most will give the above advertisement a few sertions, and forward a paper containing same to the advertiser, will be paid the many of the above mentioned materials.

April 50. April 30.

MARYLAND COLONIZATIO

JOURNAL. ROSPECTUS.—The Board of M gers of the State Colonization Soc and the Board of Managers of the State F have resolved to publish a quarterly pa for the purpose of diffusing information coming the principles and produced to the state of the s punctuality part of the c'Library, uarantee of indertaking. 'ALDIE.

ON AND 'LAND will polis, Cam-to the "Maryland Colonization Journal fice of the Maryland State Colonization ciety, Baltimore."

Anne-Arundel County, & ON application to the subscriber, one of A ng the benepetition in writing of Edward Brooke state of May, and a list in actual confinement, and praying for to his said of Maryland, entitled, An act for the satisfied of sundry insulvent debtors, passed at ments thereto, on the terms therein men his creditors, on oath so far as he can a given bond and the said Edward Brookes having a rinance of field me by competent testimony that he resided two years within the state of M land immediately preceding the time of application, and the said Edward Bro having taken the oath by the said act presed for the delivering up his property given sufficient security for his personant the County Count of Anney An pearance at the County Court of Anne-Adel county, to answer such interrogate on the fourth to the we cause, if

Lowert P. Mer
The manufacture and passive and posses a conveyance and posses to the fourth to the fourth the we cause, if

Lowert P. Mer
The manufacture a trustee, who as a conveyance and posses to the fourth and posses to the fourth and the second and pert T. Mer- sonment, and that he give notice to his co of the said | tors by causing a copy of this order to Arundel county, once a week for three mobeline the 4th Monday in October 11 pear before the said County Court, 1 Court House of said county, at ten o'c of the furenous of that day, for the pur of recommending a trustee for their ben and to shew cause, if any they have, why said Edward Brookes should not have the uefit of the said act and supplements, as p

Given under my hand this 21st day of high; when his working dred and il-bay five. GIDEON WHITE and if taken

FUNERALS.

HB subscriber begs leave to inform friends, and the public in general, he has discontinued the Cabinet Making siness, and intends to confine hisself for Jature altogether to that of an UNDERTARD

RR...
All orders for Funerals will be attended at the shortest notice, either in the usual uper or according to special direction.

Hereturns his thanks to the public for t patronage during the last tweety years, hopes that his naturations and attention continue to merit their favour.

WASHINGTON 19, TUCK

lonization throughout the state will con great favour by transmitting for the Jos any intelligence which may promote thec BF All communications are to be dire and will constitute an ordeal, by which, to The Eliter proposes to adapt his paper to the The Elitor proposes to adapt his paper to the rates of those by whom he is immediately sursided, and among whom he must natural-ful amjority of his patrons: he knows bento be intelligent and inquiring.—The Lerry department, shall, therefore, be assistantly regarded, and the most approved hastic and through periodicals, respected. sinusly regarded, and the most approved bassic and toreign periodicals resorted to facilis lettres notices. He knows them to a ptristic, and that they feel a deep interest a the welfare of our common country. To infir this sentiment to the extent of his abits, his columns shall afford whatever intelligent of a political character may be calculated in interest them. No man, with the factly of thought, is at this crisis neutral in reference to the party distinctions now prevailing in the country, and the Editor does not wish a signise his political sentiments—they are supposition to the measures of the present a signise his political sentiments—they are supposition to the measures of the present disaistration. But having neither the term where the motive of a partisan, his comments impainty movements shall be characterized alasi to nive has been his practice, so shall after become his habit to deal in political mettire or party virulence. He will cheerify lead the aid of his columns to communification from all parties—reserving to himself a privilege of rejecting such as are objectively provided in the most from a library surface of the advantages of appropriate political and literary selectious, he initialse to tempt into exercise whatever of the talent may surround him, and with such the many not presumptuously hope to render sper useful and interesting. He asks the patronage of his friends longer than laters merit and repay it, as he wishes not are that favour to personal feeling, which and be denied to his editorial labors. The BULLETIN will be published on Thurs

y in each week. Terms of subscription 83 er annum. . WILBIAM H. HALL, Upper Marlbro', Feb. 14, 1835.

TINAL NOTICE.

THE underwritten would again respectfully request all persons indebted to be late firm of Messrs. Williamson and sean to call and settle immediately, as this sece may be considered final to all intents be purposes.

FRANCIS M. JARBOE.

Air S TREVILLE.
The Steam Boat MARYLAND, will leave Raltimore, on every Monday morning, at 6 o'clock, for Centreville o'clock, for Jenus and Chestertown, starting from the lawer end as Chestertown, starting from the lower than all wharf, and return the same day. She fill costinue this arrangement for the season. It B. All baggage at the owner's risk.

LEM'L. G. TAYLOR.

LITTELL'S MUSEUM

FOREIGN LITERATURE, SCIENCE AND ART.

PRICE. - Six Dollars a year, in advanceseven dollars and a half, if not in advance. Postage. - Five sheets, under 160 miles cents; over 100 miles, 121 cents.

This work will be sent to any Post Office in the United States, carefully wrapped up, upon receipt of five dollars in part payment. A few complete sets are for sale.

ENLARGED SERIES OF THE MUSE-

R. LITTELL has much pleasure in announcing to the patrons of the Mussure, that he has made arrangements for the future publication of the work in a style much THE Subscriber proposes to publish, in Upper Asrioro', Prince George's county, Lylind, a weekly journal, to be called Titling, a weekly journal, to be called

THE BULLETIN.

Is undertaking to supply this acknowledged desired in which the populous and intelligate district in which the subscriber has the least to less to his hope of ultimate successives not its origin in sanguineness of inspranent, out proceeds from the eminent granages of its location. Published in the strephis of a large and wealthy county, situated equi-distant from the State and Nasuperior to the present—and nearly approaching what he has always desired that it should appear in. The circulation of the work is now so large, as to make it important to the proprietor that he should be able to give his whole attention to it. This has hitherto been prevented by the care and labour attendant upon a multifarious and widely extended business. With the view of completing more gratages of its location. Further the graphs of a large and wealthy country, situatelequidistant from the State and Naminicapitals, facilities of an early communication of whatever may interest its patrons, repricularly afforded to the Editor; and but he may not hope to present to his feels much toreign information through the sedan of his columns, not derivable from the parnals, it is still certain that intelligites at a local nature, interesting to all, primportant to many, and otherwise unattivities, will by this means be communicated. It also offer to those whose means are intent information they contain; and he must that those of literary taste may somewhat in its columns, articles not unworthy the employment of their leisure. As a splan of every publication which is to find innecess in popular support, must first be appel before public patronage can be expect, the Editor would here mark the outlies diss design, with the full knowledge son will constitute an ordeal, by which, to quickly the publication of Lodge's Portraits and Memoirs of Illustrious and Noble Cha effecting a settlement of accounts extending making arrangements in all parts of the country for the vigorous prosecution of the publi-cation of the Museum, he has made a contract with Mr. Adam Waldie of this city to print the work, attend to its distribution, and ing to it after the present year.

Mr. Waldie is a practical printer, not surpassed in taste by any other in the country; and as he is advantageously and generally known as the publisher of the Select Circulating Library, it is supposed that he will have it in his power greatly to promote the sale of the Museum. He has contracted to saue it promptly, and thus will be corrected the greatest fault which has heretofore attended its management. The changes in the appearance of the work will be as follows:

1. It will be regularly and promptly published. 2. Will be uniformly and handsomely print-

3. On better paper.
4 Will be considerably enlarged.

As the sale of the work has increased, Mr. Littell has always been desirous of devoting the enlarged profits to its improvement—and although he does not wish the appearance of the next volume to be considered as entirely carrying out his plan, he truste that the subscribers will be convinced, upon comparing it with any other work, that it is richly worth the price asked for it.

We shall not have satisfied our own wish es, in respect to this work, until it shall be so far enlarged and improved as to make it clear to every purchaser that he will herein receive all that is desirable to an American reader from all the Foreign Periodicals. That we can do so in a single work, by making it contain four or five times as much matter as an ordinary periodical, we have no doubt .-A great part of most of the Reviews and Magazines is composed of interior articles, and ve confidently appeal to those readers of the Museum who have been in the habit of looking over the British Journals, whether we have not already, in a very great degree, succeeded in copying all that was worth pre-

As the work will now be considerably enlarged, we shall be able more fully to accom-

In order that he may, by frequent journies from home, be the earlier able to finish all o-ther business, and devote himself exclusively to the Museum, Mr. Littell has made arrangements with the Editor of Waldie's Lirangements with the Enter of Waldle's Di-brary to edit this work after December, 1834. However deficient the proprietor may be in other qualifications, he has always felt so zealous an affection for the Museum that he would not be willing to commit it, even for a time, to the care of another, were he not confident that the facilities, the experience and the ability of the new Editor, will render it more worthy of the patronage of the public than it has heretofore been. No change takes place in the Proprietorship.

Philadelphia, April 9. & Specimen Numbers may be seen ut the Office of the Md. Gazette.

CASH FOR

ANY NUMBER OF NEGROES, Including both sexes, from 10 to 35 years of PERSONS having likely Servants to dispose of, and wishing the highest prices, will do well to give me a call, as I am determined to buya call, as I am determined to bey-and give higher prices than any o-ther purchaser, who is now or may come into this market. I can at all times be found at Mr. James Hunter's Taverny in Annapolis. All communications directed to me will be promptly attended to. ISAAC F. PURVIS.

Aug. 27-6m.

A FARM FOR'SALE.

THE SECTION OF SECTION

ANNAPOLIS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1825.

HE subscriber will sell at Private Sale his Farm on Broad Creek, about five miles from Annapolis, containing about One Hundred and Pifty-four Acres, more or less. It is deemed unnecessary to further description of the Land, as hose disposed to purchase will no doubt view the above Farm is not sold at Private Sale before MONDAY the 12th day of Octo-ber next, it will on that day, if fair, if not the first fair day thereafter, be offered at Public Sale, on the premises, at which time the terms will be made known.

Sept. 3._.. THOMAS R. BEARD. THE GENTLEMAN'S VADE MECUM;

OR. THE

SPORTING AND DRAMATIC COMPANION,
Interpersed with a multitude of Engravings, including Portraits of celebrated Winning Horses, Philosophical and Natural Phenomena, Logardenain, de.

It is now six months since this publication was commenced in Philadelphia—and although the publishers have used no extraneors means to circulate a knowledge of its merits, yet such is the satisfaction manifest oil by that portion of the public who have been made acquisited with its character and contents, that its list of patrons continues constantly and rapidly to increase. This paper is now distributed regularly every week over a wide portion of the Union, and the most satisfactory assurances are received that it will eventually become one of the most popular among the numerous excellent perio licals which issue from the American press. No exertions will be spared to establish its permanent reputation more extensively; and if the liberal sanction of those for whom it is especially designed shall warrant, its future improvement—both as regards typographical natness and embolishment—will be materially advanced.

The different Plays and Farrees that will appear in

The different Plays and Farces that will appear in the course of a year, of themselves, will be worth more than FOUR times the amount of su' cription. The following is a list of those which has already appear-

Charles the First. Is She a Brigand, The Hunchbick, The Deep, Deep Sea, Cheap Living. The Deep, Deep Sca, Cheap Living,

Shakepear's Early Days,

Henri Quato,

R. P. Smith. ggar of Bethinal Green, J. S. Knowles. Thours Holcroft.
William E. Berton.
Mrs. Inchald.
Benjanin Webster.
F. M. Reynolds.
Planche & Dence. W. T. Monerieff.

akespeare Festival, e East-Indian, My Friend the Governor, The Omnibus, The Child of Nature, The Rencontre,

The Sisters,

The MSS of the Irish Ambassa, or, the favourite and highly interesting drama, in whith Tyrone Power so successfully amused the Public, a. Sir Petrick O'Pleni-po, has been obtained by the publishers, and will be pub-

Mrs. Inchbald.

The Sporting Intelligence, at home and abroad, occupies a considerable portion o our columns, and is collected from the most authentic sources. Among the Portraits of celebrated Winning Horses which have

The American Trotting Horse, Edwin Forrest.
The Imported Racing Horse, Messenger.
The favourite Racing Mare, Ariel, and her foal, by Eclipse.

Bond's celebrated Trotting Horse, Norfolk Phenome-The well known English Race Horse, Touchstone, A correct Picture of a Raco Course, occupying the width of seven columns.

Among a variety of other Embellishments of subjects of interest, which have been published, are the following:

ing:
A complete Treatise on Riding, with fourteen Illustrations, for the improvement of Ludes in that most healthy of all exercises. Explination of the Antomaton Chess Player, illustrated by cleven engravings.

trated by cleven engravings.

The subjects which are particularly embraced in the Vado Meeum, will be more distinctly understood fgm the following summary of them:

The Turf and all matters connected therewith. On the Structure and Character of the Herse. On the Improvement of Horned Cattle.
Rules for Novices in Shooting.

Methods for Feeding and Training Dogs.
Biographies of celebrated Horses, with their Portraits.

raits.
Hunting, Fishing, Fowling, &c.
Approved Games, from Hoyle and others.
Criticisms on Plays and Actors.
The most popular Songs, set to music.
The art of Legerdemain illustrated.
A variety of Recipes adapted to Domestic Econom
An Epitome of important passing events.
Gentlemen's Quarterly Review of the Fashions.

The Vade Mecum is printed on large imperial paper, of a beautiful white texture, and is published every Saturday, at Three Dellers per annum, in advance. Orders from abroad, postage paid, will be promptly attended to, and the paper carefully packed to provent it from rubling by my bing by main

The Modern Acting Drama, a volume of about 300 pages—containing the Plays, Farces, &c., which appear in the Vade Mecum, neatly printed, and bound in elastic covers, for transportation—is published every six weeks.
Eight volumes will constitute a ext, so one year's subscription, the terms for which is Three Dollars, payable in advance.

Subscribers to the Vade Mecum are entitled to a de-duction of one-third. An order for four settl will be thankfully received, and the work forwarded to any direction, by enclosing a ten dollar note—postage paid.

direction, by enclosing a ten dollar note—postage paid.

A premium, consisting of two volumes, 500 pages each, of the Novelists Magazine, containing eight different Novels, by the most popular authors, will be presented to the Agent, who shall procure four names to the Modern Acting Drama, or the Gentlemen's Vade Mecum, and remit the amount of one year's subscription for each.

Gentlemen wishing to subscribe to either of the above works, will address CHARLES ALEXANDER, No. 3, Athenian Buildings, Franklin Place—Philadelphia.

July 30.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE GERMAN STUDENT'S STORY.

From Norman Lealis, a new novel by T. S. Pay, now in the Press of Harper & Brothers, New York. "I have myself," said Kreutzner, "witnessed many duels; but we are not so blood thirsty, generally speaking, as you moral Americans. We usually settle these natters with a sword, a better method, by the way, and tol.firing. Any poltroon may pull a trigger, but it rethe steel. However, as I was saying, when I was at Jena they called each other out as merrily as beaux and the brushing of an elbow; nay, an accidental look that a clash of steel, and the stamping of feet on the green sward; and the kindling and flashing of fiery eyes—and plunge and perry, and cut and thrust, till one or both lay stretched at length; a pass through the body—a gash and the blood bubbling and gushing forth like a rill of mountain water. There were more than one of those fellows-devils, I must say, who, when they found among them some strange student, thind or retired, with whose character they were unacquainted, or whose courage they doubted, would pass the hint out of mere sport; brush his skirt, charge the offence upon him, demand an apology too humble for a hare, and dismiss him from the . dventure only with an opened shoul.

"There was among us one follow named Mentz, who, assumed, and wore with impunity the character of head bully. He was foremost in all the devilry. His pistol was death, and his broadsword cut like the scissors of accome to me, poor child! Bring with thee they gos. let—bend at my foot—quaff it as I said, and—out of pifate. It was curious to see the ferror in the friendship three, and good by to his antigonist. His friendship ty—I spare thy joung head. "What was floured by all; for to be his enemy was to lie in a bloody grave. At length, grown feerless of being cal-holding Arnold, as if effectually awed by a moment's holding Arnold, as if effectually awed by a moment's and the feerless of the second state of the company of the second state of the company of the second state o burry giana, with shaggy black hair, hugo whiskers, and grim must ches, three inches rong, twirled under his iese. A sort of beauty he had too; and among the woed themselves every opponent abandoned the ground. I make love to the lovy, frighten her recein, and either terrify or fascinate herself. Should the doomed lover offer any resistance, he had no more to do but call a surgeon; and h ppy enough he considered himself if he escaped with the loss of his teeth or an eye. He had eventeen, and fought twenty duels. He once challengd a whole club, who had black-balled him anonymou ly; and was pacified only by being re-admitted, though ill the members immediately resigned, and the club was slender, quiet, and boyish-locking, with a handsome face, though somewhat pale. His demeanour, though been but a short time among us, however, before he was the devils broke loose, as the gang of Mentz termed thursely s. The coy youth shunned all the riots and revels of the university—insulted no one; and if his mantle brashed against that of another, apologized so immediately, so gracefully, and so gently, that the devil hans it could not have fixed a guarrel upon him. It of the Baron de Saule-the toast of all the country-upquite above us-it soon appeared that the girl loved this youthful strenger. Now Mentz had singled Certrude out for himself, and avowed his preference publicly. Arnold, for thus was the new student called, was rarely, if ever, tempted to our feasts; but once he came unexpectedly on a casual invitation. To the great surprise and interest or the company Mentz himself was there, and scated himself unabastied at the table, though an to witness the result, for Mentz had sworn that he would compel Arnold, on their first meeting, to beg par-don on his knees for the audacity of having addressed his mistress. It had not appeared that Arnold know any thing of Mentz's character, for he set cheerfully and guyly at the board, with so much the manners of a high-born gentleman, that every one admitted at once his goodness, his grace, and his beauty; and regretted the abyss on the brink of which he unconsciously

"What, ho!" at length shouted Mentz, as the evening had a little advanced, and the wine began to mount: 'a toast! Come—drink it all; and he who refuses is a pol-troon and a coward. I quaff this goblet—fill to the brim to the health and happiness of Gertrude de Saalo—the fairest of the fair! Who says he knows a fairer is a black liar, and I will write the word on his forehead with a red hot brand."

"Every goblet was emptied but one, which stood unasted-untouched. On perceiving this, the ruffian lean ed forward, fixed his eyes on the cup, struck his brawny hand down, fiercely on the table, which returned a hundering crash and rattle, and then repeated, in a woice husky with rage—

"There is a cup full; by St. Anthony: I will make the owner swallow its measure of molten load, if it remain thus one instant longer."

· Drink it, Arnold-drink it, boy; keep thy hand out of useless broils,' whispered a student near him, rather dvanced in age.
Drink, friend! muttered another, dryly, or he not be slow in doing his threat, I promise thee. "Empty the cup, man!" cried a third; 'never frown and turn pale, or thy young head will lie lower than thy eet ere to-morrow's sunset.' "It is Ments the duellist," said the fourth -- Dost hou not know his wondrous skill. He will kill thee as if thou wert a deer, if theu oppose him in his wine. He is more merciless than a wild boar. Drink, man-

"Doring this interesting seens, the fourth had remainmotionless, cool, and silent. A slight pallours but ne features; and his eyes dilated with emotion, resting full and firm upon Mantz.

'By the mass, gentlemen! he s men! he said at length, I am a stranger here, and ignorant of the manners prevalent in universities; but if yender person be some, and this no

"Joke" thundered Mentz, foaming at the lip.
"I must tell you that I come from a part of the come try where we neither give nor take such jokes, or such

"Hast thou taken leave of thy friends?" said Mentz, partly hushed by astonishment; 'and art thou tired of' life, that thou hurriest on so blindly to a bloody pillow! Boy! drink, as I have told thee, to Gertrude, the fair." And his huge round eyes opened, like those of a bull, upon a daring victim.

"That Gertrude do Saale is fair and levely," cried the youth, rising, may not be denied by me. But-I demand by what mischance I find her name this night common at a board of rioters, and polluted by the lips of drunkard and a ruffian?"

"By the bones of my father," said Mentz, in a tone of doep and dire anger, which had ere then appalled many a stout heart-by the bones of my father, your fate is sealed! Be your blood upon your own head.—But,' said he, observing that the youth, instead of cowering, bore himself more loftily, 'what folly is this! Drink, lad, drink! and I hurt thee not! I love thy gailant hearing, and my game is not such as the u."

"He added this with a wavering manner which had never been witnessed in him, for never before had he been opposed so calmly and so fiercely; and, for a moment, he quailed beneath the fiery glances darted at him from one whom he supposed meeker than the dove. But, ashamed of his trans ent fear, he addid:

reflection, and the records on may of so corected and reflection, and the records on may of so corected and even women. His appearance was formidable; a great deadly a fee, actually do as was commanded.—He rose, reflection, and the ferocious enmity of so celebrated and took the cup, slowly approached the seat of his insulter. knelt and raised the rim to his lips. Murmurs of shame, shame, poltroon, coward! came hot and thick from the group of spectators who had arisen in the excitement of their curiosity, and stood eagerly bending It was, at last, really dangerous to have a sweet-heart; for our of pure br vido Mentz would push forward, contempt. A grim, smile of savage triumph distorted the features of Mentz, who shouted, with a hourse and drunken laugh'Drink deep-down with it-to the dregs!"

"Arnold, however, only raised the rim to his lips, and waited a moment's silence, with an expression, so scornful and composed that the hisses and exclamations were again quelled; when every sound had ceased to a dead of a name I once loved and honored-Gertrude, fairest of the fair! But, he added, suddenly rising and drawing up his figure, with a dignity that silenced every broath for thee, thou drunken, bragging, foolish beart! I scorn-I spit upon-I defy thee? and thus be punished thy base, brutal insolence, and thy stupid presump.

"As he spoke he dashed the contents of the ample goblet full into the face of Mentz; and then, with all his strength, hurled the massy goblet itself at the same mark. The giant recled and staggered a few paces back, and, amid the shining liquor on his drenched cluthes and dripping features, a stream of blood was observed to trickle down his forehead.

"Never before was popular feeling more suddenly and violently reversed. The object of their vilest execrations flashed upon them with the immediate brightness of a superior being. A loud and irrepressible burst of applause troke from every lip, till the broad and heavy rafters about their heads, and the very foundation of the floor, shook and trembled. But the pail of joy and approbation soon ceased: for although this inspiring drama and so nobly commenced it was uncertain how it might terminate. Before the tyrant recovered from the stunned and bewildered trance into which the blow, combined with shame, grief, astonishment and drunkenness, had for silence usual on such oceasions, addressed the youth, who stood cool and erect, with folded arms, wait. ing the course of events,

**Brave Arnold! Noble Arnold! A gallant deed!-The blood of a true gentlemen in his "But, canst thou fight,' cried one.

"I am only a simple student, and an artist by profession. I have devoted myself to the pen cil-not the sword.'

"But thou canst use it a little-canst not?" asked another. "But indifferently," answered the youth.

"And how art thou with a pistoll' demanded a third.

'My hand is unpractised,' replied Arnold.
I have no skill in shedding human blood. "Fore heaven! then, rash boy, what has tempted thee to this fatal extremity? "Hatred of oppression," replied the youth, in all its forms, and a willingness to die rather than submit to insult. "Die then thou shalt! and that ere to-morrow's sun shall set! thundered Mentz, starting up in a phrensy, and with a hoarse and broken voice that made the hearts of the hearers shudder as if at the howl of a dog or a demon. I challenge thee to mortal combat. And I accept the challenge.

of the for thee to name time, place and weathan to-morrow night, or I shall burst with rago and impatience.'- o'I love thee not, base dog!' replied. Arnold; but thou shall not die so inglorious a death. I will fight with thee, therefore, to-night.'

"By heaven, boy!' cried Mentz, mere and more surprised, thou art in baste to sup in hell!