

(if such ordinary be kept at the court house in any county) six good leather beds, more than sufficient for the private use of such ordinary-keeper, with sufficient covering for the same, and Indian corn, oats, hay, straw, and stabling for ten horses at least; and if at any place in the county other than the court house, three spare beds, with covering, and sufficient stabling and provender for six horses at least, under the penalty of 800lb. of tobacco.—ibid. § 5.

6. But no person shall be admitted to keep an ordinary, other than the master, principal, or head of the house in which such ordinary shall be kept.—ibid. § 6.

7. If any ordinary-keeper shall keep a disorderly house, upon complaint made thereof to the justices of the county court, they shall suppress such ordinary; and during the recess of the court, upon complaint made to any two justices of the peace, or upon their own observation of such misbehaviour, contrary to the directions of this act, they may suspend such ordinary-keeper, until the next court, who may hear and finally determine the matter, and either entirely suppress, or permit the continuance of such ordinary.—ibid. § 7.

8. If any person, so suspended, shall presume to keep ordinary, such person shall incur the same penalty and forfeiture, as persons keeping ordinary without licence are subject to by this act.—ibid. § 8.

9. If any keeper of an ordinary which shall be so suppressed, or other person, that shall presume to keep ordinary, without licence first obtained, shall, for every month he or she shall so keep ordinary, forfeit 1000lb. of tobacco, and so proportionably for a longer or shorter time.—ibid. § 9.

10. Every licenced ordinary-keeper shall sell only by sealed measures, except bottled cider, perry, quince drink, and strong beer, of the produce of this state, and such liquors as shall come into this state in bottles; and any ordinary keeper, who shall neglect to keep a sealed quart, pint, half pint, and gill measure, and shall refuse or neglect to sell by the same, shall forfeit 600lb. of tobacco.—ibid. § 10.

11. Any person, not being licenced to keep ordinary, who shall presume to sell any rum, brandy, cider, or other spirituous liquor, mixed or unmixed, and suffer any part thereof to be drank in or about the house or plantation of such person, or who shall sell any spirituous liquors, at or near the court house of any county in this state, or at or near the place of any muster or training of the militia, or on board any vessel within this state, and suffer the same to be drank in such vessel, except to sailors, or persons belonging to, or employed to labour on board such vessel, shall forfeit 600lb. tobacco for every such offence.—ibid. § 11.
