

Coll<sup>o</sup> Sayer Swore by God that Copley had sent twice for him but said God damn him he wanted to wait upon such a pitiful fellow as Copley was & that there could not be a greater Rebell under Heaven.

And then <sup>he</sup> went to King James's health not Doubting he said but by that time he was come to Whitehall to the Confusion of all that rebellious crew which had destroyed him which was also pledged by all Goulesboroughs except being not then in Company - which was all. I took Notice of at that time the next morning the Deponent had Occasion to pass by him not paying that respect he would have done had he not heard the foregoing Discourse whereupon the said Sayer made Enquiry who the Deponent was & some Body told him he was Coll<sup>o</sup> Blakiston's kinsman they thought he asked the Deponent if it was so the Deponent answered what then when then replied Coll<sup>o</sup> Sayer if it be so I do not question but in a very short time to see that Rogue Blakiston with some other Rogues now at St Marys & you self hanged to w the Deponent made no reply but went out of the Company & further saith not Will<sup>m</sup> Wheeler
