 last year apprehended and committed to a charge of ... that believing ... and for the purpose of relieving him from imprisonment they were induced to enter into the aforesaid recognizance, that before the ... Caulfield absconded and then the recognizance became forfeited as aforesaid. They further state that they are poor, that the penalty would consume nearly all they had, that it was by no means their intention to screen the said James Caulfield from justice, that they neither anticipated nor wished his escape, but in the contrary have used every effort in their power to obtain possession of him: by which means they might relieve themselves from the said penalty. In view therefore, pray a remission of the said forfeiture. And the Court having stated its belief in the truth of the ... representations, and that they merit execution
 ... hereby remit the said forfeiture.
