fortitude which was manifested in its attainment.
I am sensible of the time and expence which the officers bestow in the discharge of their duty, and if any power should exist in the Executive by which they can be remunerated it will give me great pleasure to do it. - at any rate let them lodge their accounts and I will give them all my weight with the Legislature, and I am satisfied that the whole Council will chearfully yield them. indeed it is so just and reasonable, to my apprehension, that they only require to be fairly laid before the Legislature, to be satisfied.
Your intimation of Resignations Recommendation &c has not come to hand; as soon as your leisure will permit I shall be happy to hear from you.

I am &c
