That House on the House they have Liberty and Freedom to debate on all matters except Capital yet would have them know that when they reason to Mens respective Lessons they are not to give or to declare any thing tending to the disturbance of His Ma[jes]ty's Government by infusing strange notions into the Peoples heads which he thinks fit to Caution them And that they be not so Confident in promising what Great things they would do in redressing Grievances if they were Chose) That the true Grievance of the Country he takes to be the Non Relation of Divine and Humane laws for which he hopes in God all Persons will take Care of not to break them any more so far as humane Nature will Admit of

That his Excellency was not insensible of the Great difficulties he was like to meet with since he has had the Honour of being his most Sacred majesty's Governor of this his Province especially of late but he thanks God of whom he begged assistance and blessed that what he undertook had prospered many are the discouragements and human Oppositions but what he undertook he will have the same mind and hopes what is remaining to be done will have the success that he has endeavoured tho' he confesses but weakly to imitate his so Great a Master who hath so steadily pursued the Glory of God and the Universall good and Welfare of all his Subjects wherefore may justly be Called the Father of his Country

That all the Recommendations and Proposalls of this last Assembly have been no otherwise then for the Glory of God his Majesty's Service and Good of the his Majesty Province and no Particular Interest of his Majesty nor private Interest of his own

That lastly with the Advice of his Majesty's honourable Council he had Considered to Prorogue them until the third day of May ensuing And Accordingly did Prorogue them to that Time
