

- 23d. No motion for reconsideration shall be received unless made by a member who voted in the majority on the question in the first instance.
- 24th. The assistant clerk of the senate shall lay upon the desk of the President every morning, as soon as the Senate is formed, all bills, resolutions, and motions, depending before the Senate, in the order of time in which they were reported, or presented for consideration; and at all times while the Senate is sitting, when no motion is under consideration, the President shall, without any motion, take up said bills, resolutions and motions, in the above order, and propose them for the consideration of the Senate; and they shall then be considered and acted upon, unless postponed by the order of the Senate.
- 25th. Whenever any bill, resolution, report, or other proposition, shall have been read through a second time, with or without amendment, the President shall propound the question, "Shall this bill (resolution, report, or other proposition,) be engrossed for a third reading?" If decided in the negative, the bill, &c. shall be rejected; if in the affirmative, it shall be engrossed and read a third time according to the rules of the Senate.
- 26th. No amendment shall be received at the third reading of any bill, resolution, report, or other proposition, originating in the Senate, unless by consent of two-thirds of the members present; but it shall at all times be in order, before the final passage of any such bill, resolution, report, or other proposition, to move its recommitment; and should such commitment take place, and any amendment be reported by the committee, the said bill, resolution, report, or other proposition, shall be again read, and such reading be considered a second reading; and then the question shall be put whether it shall be engrossed and read a third time, and if decided in the negative, the bill, &c. shall be rejected; if in the affirmative, it shall be engrossed and read a third time, according to the rules of the Senate.
- 27th. That all committees shall consist of three members, to be appointed by the President, unless otherwise ordered.
- 28th. No motion to rescind a rule shall be received, unless notice of the motion shall have been given on a previous day.

By order,

SOLOMON SCOTT, Jr. Com. Clk.
