Samuel Adams, having on the 29th of October last been in the institution five years, the full time allowed by the law for any pupil to remain, we presume, has been discharged, and that the number now there is eleven.

The foregoing will afford you all the information requested by your resolution, but it may be useful to add other facts in relation to the subject, and we, therefore state, that the following deaf and dumb persons were selected and sent to the institution in Philadelphia, who are not there now, hav-
