great Powers of Speech or not; tho' any Gentleman who might be affected by it, is not to be blamed for his Apprehension, that a sudden Impertation of a certain Commodity, might hurt the home Market.

The Sum of the Taxes, paid in North-America, will appear enormous to those, who, having been told that these Colonies pay only 7 or 800 l. per Annum, in Consequence of Taxes laid there, might be led, in their Depen-; but dence upon Ministerial Candor, to believe, that they paid no more elsewhere; -but to others, who are better acquainted with the Subject, the Computare fera tion will appear too low.—From these Observations it may be inser'd what vast Wealth, in Taxes only, the Mother-Country has, in the Course of a Hundred Years, drawn from her Colonies; and how profoundly well-inform'd the Writer is, who, with equal Pertinency and Confidence, pronounces, " that it is now high Time for England to draw some little Profit from her Estin of the " Colonies, after the vast Treasure she has expended on their Settlement." ll not

I confess that the above Computations are conjectural, but I believe they are probable. I mean that those, who are best acquainted with the Subject, will think the Charge upon North-America is not exaggerated, and which I think very naturally accounts for the enormous Debt she at present labours under to the Mother-Country.

Dr. Davenant observes, that, " if ever any Thing great or good be done " for the English Colonies, Industry must have its due Recompence, and

" that can't be without Encouragement to it, which, perhaps is only to be " brought about by confirming their Liberties, and establishing good Discipline " among them; —that, as they fee they are a Free People, in Point of Go-" vernment, so they may, by Discipline, be kept free of the Mischiess that

" follow Vice and Idleness. And, as great Care should be taken in this " Respect, so without Doubt, it is adviseable, that no little Emulation of " private Interests of Neighbour Governors, nor that the Petitions of hun-" gry Courtiers at home, shou'd prevail to discourage those particular Colo-" nies, who, in a few Years, have raised themselves by their own Charge,

" Prudence and Industry, to the Wealth and Greatness they are now arriv'd " at, without any Expence to the Crown; upon which Account, any Innova-" tions, or Breach of their original Charters, (besides that it seems a Breach of " the Public Faith) may, peradventure, not tend to the King's Profit."

Excellent Observation! but how little it hath been regarded, the present deeply-affliching Distress of the Inhabitants of North-America demonstrates -a Distress sufficient to drive Men into Despair, who are not animated by the Hope, that—Deus dabit his quoque Finem.
