AMEND THE CHARTER.

The city council held a meeting Tues day night to consider the award of franchises to Mr. Joseph Schreiber in connection with the electric light plant which Mr. Schreiber is placing here.

It is desired, and rightly too, to encourage the enterprise with which Mr. Schreiber is identified. It is desired to do this in the cause of public improve ment. In fact the council has already assured Mr. Schreiber of its support, and acting upon this assurance, he has gone to work in good faith and is now ready to put in the street lamps, having finished his work in equipping private houses.

Some doubt now arises as to the powers conferred on the council under the present charter of Ellicott City, and City Solicitor Reuben D. Johnson is looking into the matter.

It is a notorious fact that the present charter is an antiquated and moss-grown instrument and not adapted to the needs of a town that desires to grow. It should not be allowed to interfere with Ellicott's City's material welfare, and during the present legislative session is the time to so amend it as to confer some actual as well as nominal author ity upon the city council. This is a very easy thing to do, and we feel sure that Senator Rogers will be very glad to introduce a bill in the Senate looking to any amendments of the charter that present exigencies may demand. The problem is quite a simple

We may say something at another time in regard to needed changes in the charter beyond those which will give the proper control of lighting facilities, streets etc. For the present we say amend the musty old charter so that El licott City may get a move on her.

It is absurd to charge the Democrats in Congress with being opposed to the World's Fair because they adopted a resolution asking for full information as to what money had been spent and as to what it is intended to spend. The Democrats are as deeply interested in making the fair a success as any other citizens of the country, but they do not propose to endorse extravagance in any form. Nor do they know or charge that there has been any extravagance, but it is just as well to get all the attainable facts before making the $5,000,000. appropriation that is now asked for.

Senator Quay confines his "vindica tion" to Republican judges and juries. Why does he not tackle the New York Worldi which has charged him with almost every known crime, and has begged him in double, aye, and triple leaded editorials, to give it a chance to prove them all in court, by bringing a formed promptly, instead of postponing libel suit? Evidently the vindication he ter Democratic Advocate. seeks is only intended for home consumption. A broken promise is a broken promise, turn it and twist it as you will. The last Republican national platform promised one cent letter postage, but its party has not given it, nor is there even a remote prospect of getting it from a Republican administration.

It makes little difference where the Democratic convention is held so that a good ticket is nominated and a sound +latform adopted.

Representative Holman voices th Democratic sentiment of the country when he said of the Chilian affair: "One thing is certain. The administration will receive the unqualified support of the Democratic side of the House in any measures necessary to uphold the honor of the Government."

Wings are at times and in certain places very useful attachments, but they can result in nothing but injury to the najority of the House of Representatives and the Democratic voters have a right to expect unanimity of action from the nen they have sent to Congress.

Baltimore and New York papers have been raking up the private affairs of family in the publication of sensational stories regarding Mr. T. Swann Latrobe's shattered condition of body and mind. Why cannot the journalistic

That those three eminent Democratic Senators Gorman, Hill and Brice, should be charged with being personal friends as well as political allies appears to have given every Republican editor in the land a horrible nightmare.

Osborne, to visit mining districts in Pennsylvania to cation at the Centreville Academy and at ascertain the effects which the large immigration of last year from Eastern Europe had upon mining interests. The inspectors have submitted their reports, and state that their investigations in the mining regions show that the padrone system yet flourishes; that cheap imported labor is used in about 80 percent. of the mining contracts, and that the aliens are demoralizing the whole region. Of his visit to the Scranton region Mr. Conkling says:

"I learned that there has been a decided change in the character of the labor employed in the mines during the last few years. Heretofore the workmen employed were intelligent, Englishspeaking men and citizens, either by birth or adoption, of the United States and taxpayers. Their places are almost ltogether taken now by aliens, who are not taxpayers or citizens of the United States, and my information is that they do not intend to become either. "The aliens who have hustled out the American workingman from the mines by offering their labor for small pay, I found are very vicious and hard to control by the civil authorities, and are dangerous to the communities near which they live. They come to these mines impoverished, and are willing to work for wages on which the American miner would starve. The Americans are, in consequence, gradually driven from the work by this competition, and they are earnest in demanding that the spirit as well as the letter of the acts of 891, restricting immigration, should be enforced against those aliens who are degrading and absorbing the labor of the country. "I am convinced that the letter and spirit of the alien contract labor laws are being constantly violated by managers and operators of the mines and by he steamship agents.'

ENGLISH AND AMERICAN HORSES. The First's Better Work Due to Better

Says a correspondent (Dr. Holland) of the Springfield Republican, writing from England, after describing the kind of horses in use there:

"The point which I wish to impress upon my American reader is simply this, that the English horse, employed in the streets of the city, or on the roads of the country, does twice as much work as the American horse similarly employed in America. This is the patent, undeni able fact. No man can fail to see it who has his eyes about him. How does he do it? Why does he do it? These are issied I will now make two hundred and important questions to an American? Is the English horse better than the Amorican horse? Not at all. Is he overworked? I have seen no evidence that he is. I have seen but one lame horse in London. The simple explanation is that the Englishman has invested in perfect and permanent roads what the American expends in perishable horses that require to be fed. We are using to-day, in the little town of Springfield, just twice as many horses as would be necessary to do its business if the roads all over the town were as good as Main street is from Ferry to Central. We are supporting hundreds of horses to drag oads through holes that ought to be filled, over sand that should be hardened. through mud that ought not to be permitted to exist. We have the misery mized road is more easily supported than a poor horse." It Would Be the Proper Thing Governor Brown, it is reported from Annapolis, favors publishing the important laws in the newspapers as soon as passed by the Legislature. This is what ought to be done. The people are entitled to know the laws they are expected to obey, and they should be in-

SENATORS GORMAN AND HILL.

The Attention They Attract in Washington-Mr. Gorman's Leadership. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, writing under date of January 17, says:

Senator Hill divides with Senator Gorman the distinction of being the most prominent and the most sought after Democrat in Washington, although the Maryland Senator easily retains the lead. Indeed, adept as he has proved himself in the science of fine politics, the New York Senator has quietly and most cheerfully dropped into line as chief of staff to his Maryland colleague. Mr. Gorman undoubtedly has more callers than and next to him comes Mr. Hill. Persons, male and female, who desire office. appear to think Mr. Gorman is as influential as he was under the last administration. Then his associates on the Democratic side think no action of party movement can or should be taken before submission to him for his approval. It is a fact recognized without juestion that the Democratic side of the Senate was never more compact than house. now, owing to the capital leadership of Mr. Gorman. It is a remark constantly falling from the lips of members of the huge majority in the House, "Oh, that we had a Gorman on our side." House Democrats are constantly coming to the lows: two Senators for consultation and advice. Much of the political talk here at this time naturally touches upon the presidency, and frequent efforts are made to extract some expression on this subject from Mr. Hill or Mr. Gorman. Such efforts are, however, futile, as neither one of them can be pursuaded or entrapped into the utterance of an opinion. This reticence does not apply to many other Democratic Senators, who give their views without qualification or reservation. He received his early eduafterwards entering Washington College, at Chestertown, where he completrevenue for the Eastern Shore district by President Johnson, but his appointment was rejected in the Senate by one

He was re-elected to this position for four years in 1871 and again in 876. He declined a renomination for fourth term.

Senator Gibson was a member of the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses, and was last year a candidate for renomination, but was defeated, by Col. Henry Page, who now represents the district. Last year he was a prominent candidate for one of the most prominent offices in the gift of the House of Representatives and was believed to have an excellent chance of success, but he retired from the contest for the place on being appointed by Governor Jackson to serve as United States Senator in place of the Hon. E. K. Wilson, deceas ed, until the General Assembly should fill the vacancy.

Senator Gibson was married in Louis ville, Ky., about five years ago to the widow of the late Richard C. Hollyday, Secretary of State of Maryland for number of years. Mrs. Gibson, by her charming manners, has made many friends in Washington. She will render undoubted assistance to Senator Gibson in sustaining Maryland's reputation for refined hospitality.

THERE WILL BE NO WAR.

Chili Is Willing to Make Amends for Her Bad Conduct. WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The war cloud has entirely disappeared and Chili has eaten humble pie. President Harrison informed Congress yesterday of Chili's retraction in a special message and all is now serene, Chili will make reparation. No action by Congress will be necessary, as the relations are so simplified and Chili is so willing to make amends that diplomacy may now be depended upon to settle the difficulty. So there will be no war. President Harrison transmitted Congress Monday his promised message relating to the trouble with Chili, growany other member of the Senate, either ing out of the attack on the sailors of on the Democratic or Republican side, the cruiser Baltimore on the streets of Valparasio in October last, in which two Americans were killed and a large number wounded. It was admitted at the State Department Tuesday that a cablegram had been received from Mr. Egan submitting propositions of the Chilean government to withdraw the socalled Matta circular, which gave such offense to the United States, and apolo gize for having sent it. It is said that this proposition is entirely satisfactory to the President, and that the incident of the Matta circular may be regarded as practically closed. It was also pro posed to submit to arbitration the question of whether an apology and re paration should be made for the Baltimore affair. This proposition would not be considered by the United States for an instant. The only point that the United States will consent to arbritrate, tis said, is as to the amount of indemnity to be paid by Chili, and before this can be done the Chilians must admit their liability to pay indemnity. The committee was composed of Senators L. L. Wa ters, of Somerset, James P. Gorter, of Baltimore city, and Delegates Martin R. Joyce and Conway W. Sams, of Baltimore. Col. James G. When the applause which greeted his remarks subsided Senator Gorman, said: 'I deeply appreciate this high mark of esteem and confidence which the represectatives of the people of Maryland have reposed in me, and it will be with pleasure and all the ability I can command that I shall endeavor to serve them faithfully during the next six years in the United States Senate.
