DEATH OF DR. DALEY.

A DISPATCH FROM TENNESSEE AN NOUNCES THE SAD NEWS.

Mis Taking Off the Result of an Overdose of Laudanum-A Man Gouerally Respected and Having Many Warm Friends Here-The Death Record and Local Oc-

A dispatch was received in Ellicott City Thursday afternoon from J. T. Shipp, proprietor of Shipp's Hotel, Chattanooga, Tenn., stating that Dr. Alexander G. Daley, a well-known druggist of Ellicott City, had died at the hotel shortly after midday from the effects of an overdose of laudanum taken Wednesday afternoon. The shock occasioned here by the intelligence is profound as the deceased was one of Ellicott City's most highly-esteemed citizens.

Inquiry develops the fact that Wednesday morning of last week Dr. Daley left here, announcing his intention to John Bond, of near Lisbon, died Saturvisit a brother in Alexandria, Va. Since day of last week, aged fifty-two years. that time nothing was known of his movements. The deceased was forty John E. Norwood, formerly of Sykesyears of age and unmarried. For the ville, died at his residence in Baltimore, past eleven years he had been proprietor last week, in the 85th year of her age. of one of the two leading drug stores here. For ten years his only companion trict, Carroll county, died last week at had been his aged father, Alexander Daley, to whom the son seemed devoted. Over a year ago his health began to suffer from close confinement and overwork. After a serious illness from the grip he was advised to abstain from work and take as much recreation as possible.

At times Dr. Daley seemed despondent and had expressed himself as tired of the life he was living. He also said recently that what means he possessed was doing him no good. His father advised him ta make judicious investments and says that he has learned that when his son departed last week he had a thousand dollars on his person.

A well-known physician said that there was no doubt of Dr. Daley's mind having been affected last summer. Confinement and overwork are assigned as the causes.

The deceased was born in Orange county, Va. In early life he went to Philadelphia and conducted successfully a drug store there. Later he came to Ellicott City and prospered here. In addition to his business here he owned lands and other property in Virginia. His mother, who died some years ago, was Miss Sarah Bient, of Virginia, and a relative of the Maryland Brents. Despite Dr. Daley's retiring disposition he had many warm friends. He was an officer of Patmos Lodge, No. 70, A. F. and A. M., of this city, and a member in good standing of Fidelity Lodge, No. 61, Knights of Pythias. In politics he was a Democrat.

Mr. Frank Daley, brother of the dead man, who lives in Alexandria, was wired at once of what had occurred, and left Alexandria immediately to take though unexplained interest in their charge of the body, which will be buried in Virginia.

MARRIED AND HAPPY.

Auspicious Termination of a Romanti

Courtship-Cartwright-McManus. Mr. C M. Cartwright, well known in Ellicott City, and Miss Katie T. Mc-Manus, daughter of Mr. John C. Mc. Manus, were married at the home of the bride's parents, 317 Girard avenue, Baltimore, Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, in the presence of a company of relatives and immediate family friends.

The bride wore a handsome dress of white silk grenadine and lace, with diamond ornaments. She carried a bou quet of Marechal Neil roses. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. R. Cowardin, of St. Ignatius Catholic Church. After a reception, lasting until 9 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Cartwright left Baltimore for a tour.

The groom is a bright newspaper worker and is on the staff of the Baltimore Sun. There is a pretty bit of romance connected with his courtship. When in the navy, attached to the South Atlantic squadron, Mr. Cartwright contributed frequent interesting letters to the Sun descriptive of places visited, the movements of the squadron and doings on shipboard. Among the many readers of these charming letters was his future wife, in whom was awakened a strong T., Miss Fannie B. Marsh; C., Miss Eva writer, although at the time she never Ellon Jones; G., Andrew J. Gorman; S. dreamed of meeting him. But the meeting was destined to come about. Mr. Cartwright came home from sea. His abilities had been made apparent to the discerning management of the Sun, and he was offered a position on the staff. He accepted, and in plying his vocation as pursuer of the elusive item in the northeastern district, he was brought face to face with his fate. The presents received were numerous and handsome, and the couple well re- brilliant cotillion in Baltimore, at night; orers on the Sun. One unique gift, which elicited much merriment was a reception in Washington, and a large good, substantial broom. A card attached bore the admonition to the bride: "In sunshine use the brush end, in time attended each of the events.

of storm the other." Among those present at the wedding either resident in Ellicott City or well known here, were Mrs. James Cartwright and Misses Cordelia and Mary Cartwright, mother and sisters of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McManus, parents of the bride, Mrs. E. P. Duffy, Ex-Judge John William Montgomery Kiger, of the Sun, and J. E. Hill.

ANNAPOLIS LETTER.

OUR HARD-WORKED AND BRAIN-FATIGUED LEGISLATIVE SOLONS.

They Got Down to Work for the Week by Wednesday-Some Good Things That They Have in Mind-They May Work Faithfully from Now On.

Annapolis, Jan. 28 -The week here The departure of Senatorial boomers, following the collapse of Senatorial booms, Ancient City. Our hard-worked legislature did not get to the State House until Tuesday and by Wednesday had hardly buckled down to law-making.

STATE BANK SUPERVISION.

In the line of needed legislation is bill for the introduction of which in the simply because it gives us work, keeps House, Mr. Joyce, of Baltimore, obtained leave Tuesday. It is to compel each firm, individual and corporation, not incorporated under the act of Congress, the public school, was unable to teach | doing a banking business in Maryland, to make semi-annual reports to the comptroller of the treasury, and providing for the better protection of those depositing money with such banks. The object of the bill, said Mr. Joyce, is to prevent as far as possible the happenings of such disastrous failures as that of Nicholson & Sons, in Baltimore, by which some Howard countians have suffered.

Dr. Frank T. Shaw, of the State tax commission, brings up the same question in his statement that nearly thirty-eight millions of dollars are on deposit in the savings banks of the State, two-thirds of which is in two banks of Baltimore. The failure of these, says he, would be appalling and far-reaching, and the bare statement of the case is sufficient argument for the necessity of State surveillance. Under the laws of Maryland, Mr Shaw continues, savings banks exercise all the powers and privileges of national banks, except to issue paper money, and it would seem to be altogether reason able for the General Assembly to surround them with all the safeguards which Congress has provided for nation-

THE LISTING SYSTEM.

Another thing brought to mind by Dr. Shaw's report is the listing system to which THE TIMES has several times alluded. He suggests that a system of returns be required from each taxpayer annually which shall disclose property acquired during the year.

His suggestion is good, but the listing system is only a step further and provides for periodical returns in the same vay of the taxpayer's entire belonging. TO RELIEVE PRESSURE ON SPRING GROVE

Senator Hubner, of Baltimore county, has a bill which he will introduce for the establishment of another State insane asylum. He considers such an additional provision necessary in view of the overcrowded condition of the institution at Spring Grove and the inadequate provision for patients in the almsliouses or jails, where some unfortunates are necessarily kept for lack of poses to make the Governor, Comptroland six other persons, to be appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate, the board of directors of the new asylum. It is proposed to appropriate $75,000 for the purpose of land and construction of buildings, and Mr. Hubner seems to think that the direct tax money, when refunded to the State by the fed eral government, should be applied, at least in part, to this humane, work. It is proposed that the land shall be about five hundred acres, conveniently accessible by rail and water routes. Provision is made for sending insone patients to the institution through the Circuit Court of Baltimore city and the counties of the State. It is proposed also to appropriate $25,000 a year for its maintenance. BALTIMORE COUNTY PRIMARY ELECTIONS Senator Hubner has charge of a bill to regulate primary elections in Baltimore county. It requires all nominations to be made under the provisions of the law and that the election be held by precincts or districts. Notice of the election shall be published for two weeks and the polls are to be selected according to prevailing party methods and usage, the ballot-boxes to be placed in a window or elsewhere in full view of the voters; the rooms to be of reasonable size, and a challenger to be selected by each ticket or a majority of the candidates thereon; candidates themselves, and such other persons as the judges may admit, to have the right to be present, and a challenger for each ticket to be in the room from fifteen minutes before the opening of the ballot-box until the returns are signed. THE CHILD LABOR LAW. Senators waxed eloquent Wednesday over the proposed law to prohibit the employment of children under sixteen years of age over ten hours aday, except for household or farm labor, and the bill was finally given to the committee on Sipe, Messrs. Robert Groomes, Clinton Agriculture and labor. In the arguments Peddicord, Rowles Peddicord, James it was claimed on the one hand that it would hamper boys who had destitute parents to support, on the other that it was in the interest of overworked shop

PEOPLE WHO STEAL RIDES. Something of a debate sprang up in the House Wednesday when Mr. Seilman's bill aiming to punish tramps who steal rides on freight trains by sending them to the House of Correction came up for second reading. Mr. Sellman explained the condition as he knew it. Mr. Ellegood said the bill made a criminal of every person guilty of riding on a freight train without a proper permit, and failed to express what such proper permit should be. He offered an amendment leaving it optional with the court before which any case might come as to whether a fine or imprisonment should be imposed. Mr. Ellegood's amendment was accepted.

THE EASTERN SHORE SENATORIAL LAW. By superior parliamentary tact the Mountford. opponents of the obsolete law, requiring that one United States Senator should come from the Eastern Shore and one from the Western, got the bill to repeal the same through its second reading in the House Wednesday, and it came up for a final reading Thursday. Thursday the bill was postponed to next week JONES AND SCHRYVER. The caucus of the Democratic members nominated Mr. Spencer C. Jones for State treasurer. Mr. Jones received 67 votes and Mr. Edwin H. Brown, 22. Mr. Edson M. Schryver was nominated for police commissioner.

The Growth of Crystals. Some crystals, it is believed, have had their growth suspended during millions of years, after which enormous lapse of time the growth has been renewed. Such a process would be impossible to animals and plants, although some imaginative story writers have treated their readers to wonderful accounts of suspended ani-

In one respect crystals possess a great advantage over living beings like ourselves—they are able to renew their youth! This is not because they have discovered a counterpart of the marvelous fountain that Ponce de Leon so vainly searched for, but because the forces of crystallization are able to renew their action even after the greater part of a crystal has been destroyed through age or accident .- Youth's Companion.

Was This Parrot a Bad Friend? A friend of mine once had a gorgeous African parrot, a bird so handsome and so accomplished that everybody petted him. but so sure as we held out a lump of sugar, a bit of fruit or candy with "Here, Polly! Pretty Polly? want some sweeties!" he would dart his head aside and savagely nip not the lump of sugar but the fingers that held it. It seemed to rouse all his worst temper to feel that he was obliged to receive the gift from one who had the power to withhold it. I have often fancied that if reincarnation is a possibility, that parrot had been one of the jealous and venal souls some poor innocent had taken for a friend, and from whom a wound had been received not in the fingers, but in the heart.—Mrs. Frank Leslie.

Women Doctors in England. "In Great Britain," said Dr. Elizabeth Blackwell, "our seventy-three registered women doctors are few compared with the three thousand in the United States. Yet with the nine students in our London school and the addition of the Edinburgh classes and the fact that the Glasgow Medical college has lately opened its doors to women, clearly indicate that the movement has taken sturdy growth in our country, and when our English work has been carried on for forty years there is every probability that our British woman doctors will equal numerically our kinsfolk across the water."
