A NEW SCHOOL BOARD.

ORGANIZATION TO BE EFFECTED ON TUESDAY, AUGUST 2.

The New Board Appointed Under the Recently Enacted Law—Report that the Present Board Will Resist in Court—The Local News Field—Summer Lectures of the Chautauqua—Other Matters.

The Governor, Friday of last week, appointed election supervisors for the various counties and school commissioners under the new law.

For Howard county the old board of supervisors was retained, the members being Messrs. Frank Shipley, Joshua N. Warfield and Thomas W. Wyman.

An entirely new board of school commissioners was appointed, the gentlemen selected being Mr. Robert A. Dobbin, of the First district, Mr. John T. Hardey, of the Fifth and Dr. J. W. Hebb, of the Third. Mr. Dobbin is appointed for a term of six years, Mr. Hardey for four and Dr. Hebb for two. The new board will organize and appoint a secretary, treasurer and examiner on the first Tuesday in August.

The gentlemen composing the new board are well and favorably known in Howard county, and are conceded to be well equipped for the positions to which appointed. Messrs. Dobbin and Hardey have served Howard county with ability in the legislature and Dr. Hebb has an excellent record as Judge of the Orphans' Court.

The Baltimore Sun is authority for the statement that the present Howard county board will test in court the constitutionality of the law under which the new appointments have been made.

The Baltimore Chautauqua.

An intelligent and appreciative audience listened to the opening lecture of the Baltimore Chautauqua, or Summer Lecture Course of Baltimore University, at St. Clement's Hall, Ellicott City, Monday afternoon. The lecturer was Prof. Hampson H. Biedler, and his subject "First Care of the Wounded, or What to Do in Cases of Accident Till the Doctor Arrives." The professor explained that a wound did not necessarily involve a broken bone or visible bleeding, and treated of the position in which a person found unconscious should be placed with a view to speedy resuscitation.

Prof. H. Biedler's second lecture before the Chautauqua Society was delivered Tuesday. He passed in "First Care of the Wounded" from position to treatment, and treated of the use of stimulants in revival.

In the remaining lectures the Professor treated of local injuries and gave much valuable information for the benefit of non-professionals who might unexpectedly be called upon to assist those in need of surgical aid. Prof. Biedler gave an interesting account of the work of the famous Red Cross Society, of Europe. He favors female nurses on account of their superior tact and gentleness. The last lecture will be given this (Saturday) evening, between 8 and 9 o'clock.

Next week Prof. John R. Larus will lecture on "English Literature." The announcement is made that the lectures will be free to residents of this community. This liberality will doubtless elicit grateful recognition.

NEWS OF THE DIAMOND.

The Stonewalls Defeat the Union Club of Baltimore—Other Games.

One of the most interesting games of base ball played this season was that of Saturday last on the Rock Hill grounds between the Stonewall club of Ellicott City and the Union club of Baltimore. About three hundred people witnessed this game. During the first six innings the visitors had everything their own way but in the seventh inning the Stonewalls, under the good management of Mr. John Bone, took courage and batted three runs and in the eighth two more, which swelled the number to 7. A remarkable fact concerning the Stonewalls is that they always secure the winning run in the eighth or ninth inning. Thus far by hard work they have preserved their name of invincibles. Following is the score by innings:

Clubs.	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	Total
Balto. Union	1	3	0	1	0	1	0	0	0	6
Stonewall	1	1	0	0	0	0	3	2	x	7

Batteries—Stonewall, McGraw and Russell; Baltimore Union, Stevens and Thurle. Base hits—Stonewall, 10; Union, 6. Errors—Stonewall 7; Union, 5. Left on bases—Stonewall, 9; Union, 7. Base on balls—Stonewall, 7; Union, 5. Sacrifice hits—Stonewall, 1; Union, 1. Stolen bases—Stonewall, 1; Union, 1. Struck out by McGraw, 8; by Stevens, 10. Hit by pitched ball—Hillsinger. Umpires Wm. H. Tuohy and Samuel Curran.

The Stonewall club will play a game with the Rapid club of Baltimore today (Saturday), on the Rock Hill grounds. Scaggs and Russell will be the battery for the home club.

A game of base ball was played on Wednesday evening between the Oella Ironclads and the Stonewall Juniors on the Maupin University grounds. The game was not called until late and only three innings were played on account of darkness. Five innings were arranged to be played. The score was 13 to 5 in favor of the Ironclads.

The Oella Ironclads will play a game with the Westchester Brown Stocking club, of Ellicott City, at Oella, this evening, July 23.

Ellicott City Grain Market.

Wheat—Fultz, 83@85; German, 84@86. Corn 56@58.

Weather Crop Bulletin.

Maryland Weather Crop Bulletin No. 15, for the week ending June 18, says: "The weekly rainfall was considerably below the normal in all sections of the State, with the exception of portions of Southern Maryland, where heavy local showers fell. In many places there was a total absence of rain. Although the temperature was slightly above the normal during the first part of the week, in the various sections, the cool wave of the last part brought the average several degrees below the normal. More than average amount of sunshine was given. The wheat harvest is over, except in Western Maryland, where it is approaching completion. Threshing is in progress, and nearly finished in Eastern and Southern sections. A full average yield is reported from most localities; but there are some reports of small yield. Corn, in portions of Southern Maryland, was somewhat injured by rain and wind on the 14th, and it suffered slightly from drouth and worms in other sections of the State, but the general outlook for the crop is reported good. The hay crop is shorter than anticipated and oats are light. Vegetables, as well as other growing crops, need rain. Shipments of potatoes and fruit, light."

Miss Eloise Hood's Condition.

The condition of Miss Eloise Hood, who was accidentally shot at her home in Baltimore, last week, has not materially changed. Except where attention is attracted by others, she seems drowsy and sleeps most of the time. Dr. Tiffany called for the dress she wore at the time of the accident, and after examining it asked to be shown to the fourth floor, where the shooting occurred, and soon discovered and cut the ball from the door facing of the store-room, where it had imbedded itself nearly an inch in the wood work. It was considerably battered and out of shape, but whether this was due to striking one or more bones in its passage through the body, or to the hard wood in which it was so deeply imbedded, is of course unknown. The family was much relieved at knowing that it was not in the young lady's body. From the force the ball is shown to have had when it left the body, it is probable there was no deflection and that it went through in a straight course. It is thought that when the accident occurred Miss Hood was turning the cylinder of the pistol to see if the chambers were loaded and necessarily holding back the hammer which slipped and discharged the weapon.

The Aurora Borealis.

A beautiful display of the aurora borealis, or northern lights, was visible in Ellicott City Saturday night. The phenomenon presented was of fading and reappearing bands of light, rising from the north toward the zenith, and accompanying this was what resembled rapidly recurring flashes of sheet lightning. Some in Ellicott City who saw the appearance thought at first it betokened the burning of Pittsburg and Homestead, Pa. A belief current among some colored folks was, it is said, that the lights had something to do with the near approaching end of the world. The display was the finest seen here in many years. It was at its best about eleven o'clock.

Burglars Operating Hereabout.

Burglars entered the dwelling of Mrs. C. A. Pindell, near Ilchester, Howard county, Monday night, and secured silverware of about $50 in value and other property. An alarm was given, but the intruders made their escape. Their noise in doing this indicated that there were several in the party. The burglars are supposed to be the same who entered the residence of Mr. Thomas H. Gaither, near Ellicott City, Saturday night, before the household had retired, and who escaped. Nothing was taken from Mr. Gaither's house.

Wayman's Grove Sold.

The Sisters of Charity in charge of St. Joseph's House of Industry have purchased from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company Wayman's Grove, about seventeen and a-half miles from Baltimore. It is understood that the sisters will build a branch house which will be used during the summer to afford the orphans a change of scene and pure air. Wayman's Grove has been used for years as a camping ground by colored people.

Mr. Richard Stinson, for forty years a bootmaker, died Wednesday, at the home of his son, William H. Stinson, near Columbia, Howard county, from a stroke of paralysis received on Monday. Mr. Stinson was in his seventy-eighth year and was born in Centreville, Md. He leaves a widow and three children. He was a member of the Odd-Fellows. Mr. Stinson retired from business very recently. His residence in Baltimore was at 110 Aisquith street.

A TASTE OF COUNTRY LIFE.

How Hundreds of Children Are Made Happy.

The casual traveler from Baltimore to Frederick yesterday, says the Baltimore American of Tuesday, probably supposed, from the large number of children that disembarked at Orange Grove, just beyond Relay Station, that the place was another of Baltimore's many charming suburban excursion grounds, although the surroundings were not of the orthodox resort kind. On the right a steep, heavily-wooded hill rose rather abruptly for a hundred feet and then seemed to descend equally as precipitately into a valley on the further side. On the left a little hamlet of some ten or twelve cottages was hemmed in by a narrow ravine winding about another hill with a rippling stream at its base. This seemed rather a strange location for an excursion ground, and yet it was, and a popular one, too, in its way. If curiosity or the wild picturesqueness of the place could have induced the traveler to alight and with the children pursue the arduous pathway up the little mountain, he would have felt amply repaid on reaching the top by a sight of an ample cottage wherein a sweet-faced Sister anxiously waited to welcome the little ones. This was the Country Home for Children, managed by thirty of Baltimore's young ladies. Here every summer for five years six hundred children of the city have each been given a two-weeks' summer residence. No more thoroughly enjoyable country home could be found. The house, old but exceedingly neat, surrounded by twenty acres of orchard and green fields belonging to the home, overlooks a picturesque valley. Over the hills a glimpse of Catonsville may be had. Thus, in the midst of swings, orchards and extensive playgrounds and fed with the best of country food, it is no wonder that the children return to the city reinvigorated and healthily tanned by their two-weeks' stay.

Every other Monday thirty children are taken out by one of the ladies. Yesterday girls were taken out for the first time this summer. Boys have had the place since the first of June, and now, until September, the girls will enjoy its rustic delights. Having arrived at the home, the children are first given a hearty dinner, and, after the novelty has slightly worn off, they are attired in clothing belonging to the home—their own being saved for city life. Each child has a regular bed and washstand, and is expected to keep them in order. Prizes are awarded at the end of the week to the children who have kept the tidiest bed or have excelled in other light work. Shoes and stockings may be doffed during the day and unlimited exercise indulged in. A number of young ladies spending the summer at Catonsville constitute the supply committee, and make weekly visits to replenish the fast-depleted larder. Sister Marguerite, with the assistance of two novices, has charge of the children, each one of whom, before his admission, is examined by Dr. J. H. O'Donovan.

Not necessarily the poorest class alone of children, but many who are unable to leave town, are taken to this resort. The house can now accommodate thirty only; but it is the endeavor of the young ladies to raise $8,000 for the erection of a new home with accommodations for one hundred. Last winter the State legislature opened its heart and, incidentally, the State's pocketbook, and appropriated $3,000 of the sum needed. The remainder is being raised by subscription. A fair will be given by the young ladies next winter, from which they hope to realize at least $6,000. At all events, work on the new building will be begun in the fall, and it will probably be ready for the children next summer.

The officers of the Country Home are: Miss Fannie Wyatt, president; Miss Elizabeth Gilman, vice-president; Miss Bertha Lee Jenkins, treasurer; Miss Emma L. Gary, recording secretary, and Miss Romaine LeMayne, corresponding secretary.

RIOTERS AT IRVING PARK.

A Number of Colored Toughs from Baltimore in Limbo.

Saturday Officer Vansant and Detective John Lloyd, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, brought to Ellicott City Edward Gross, Wesley Owings, Frank Jones and "Shorty" Jones, all colored, of Baltimore, charged with rioting at the colored camp at Irving Park, Howard county. The prisoners were remanded to jail by Justice Wallenhorst for a further hearing. They were very much disfigured, particularly about the face.

On the day preceding Detective John Lloyd, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, turned over to the Howard county authorities William Grimes and Dan Thomas, colored, who were also charged with taking part in the riot at Irving Park. Each was badly wounded on the head, and the blood-soaked condition of their clothing indicated the severity with which their bodies had been carved.

The rioters were before Justice Wallenhorst at the court house Wednesday and their cases disposed of as follows: Dan. Thomas and "Shorty" Jones were acquitted of rioting and William and Wesley Owings were sentenced nine months each to the House of Correction; Edward Gross was acquitted of assault; Joseph Sewall and Frank Jones were found guilty of carrying concealed weapons. The former was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction and the latter fined $10 and costs. E. J. Waring, the colored lawyer, of Baltimore, appeared for Gross, and State's Attorney Joseph D. McGuire for the State.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. COUNTY DATE LINES.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK AT SYKESVILLE AND ELSEWHERE.

Death of a Venerable and Respected Democrat—Runaway Accident in the Third District—Mount Airy Matters—Wheelmen at Glenwood—News of All Sorts.

Sykesville, July 20.—Mr. Zadock Waters died at Kalorama, his residence in Sykesville, on Monday last, in the ninetieth year of his age. Mr. Waters was a native of Montgomery county, but had been a resident of Carroll for nearly half a century. Until the last year he lived on his farm near Hood's Mill, removing from there to Sykesville. He was a sterling Democrat, and a consistent member of the Methodist Protestant Church. He was interred at Oak Grove Cemetery, Glenwood, on Wednesday. He leaves a widow and several grown children to mourn his loss.

On Sunday afternoon, about half past five o'clock, whilst Mr. Frank Glenan, who lives at Berret postoffice, in Carroll county, was crossing the Patapsco bridge into Howard county, at Sykesville, in a buggy with his little son and daughter, a party of colored persons returning from the A. M. E. campmeeting, began to sing, shout and clap their hands, which caused Mr. Glenan's horse to run away. He succeeded in controlling the animal until descending the hill leading to the lane entering the place of Mr. John W. Forsythe, when he sprang out to hold the horse, but was knocked down and run over and the boy and girl carried a short distance and also thrown out. All were more or less injured but the boy was found insensible and carried to Mr. Forsythe's house and Dr. Sprecher summoned, who found a fracture of the skull and other injuries about the face and head. The little fellow was removed to his home, where he is attended by Drs. H. Clay Shipley and Sprecher. The buggy was entirely wrecked and the horse was not recovered until after eleven o'clock Sunday night when he was overtaken by a gentleman, near the scene of the accident, going toward home.

A great deal of sickness incident to the season prevails and the physicians are kept going night and day.

The propitious season so far has secured a fine crop of wheat and hay and promises an abundant yield of corn.

Chihuahua has filled up to its usual quota of this season and applications for board are still coming. A theatrical performance by the guests is on the tapis and its production is looked for with much interest.

Rev. Dr. Purcell and family have returned from Atlantic City, and the rector held services as usual on Sunday last and received a cordial greeting from his flock. He preached a strong sermon in his accustomed eloquent style, and Handel's "Leave Me to Languish," played at the offertory by Mr. Robert Stearns, violinist, and Miss Heffenger, organist, added to the attractiveness of the service.

Misses Belle and Bessie Brooks, of Baltimore, are visiting the family of Mr. Thorndike Brooks, at Elba.

Misses Beatrice and Dolly Patterson, and Master Gustavus Fisher, of Mt. Washington, are the guests of Master Noel Purcell at the rectory.

Misses Nell and Hattie Bennett have returned from a visit to the Eastern Shore.

Mr. Bradley J. Fisher spent last Sunday with his family at Whitehall.

LETTER FROM GLENWOOD.

Wheelmen en Route to the Washington Meet—A Famous Hat.

Glenwood, July 20.—Thirty-seven wheelmen passed through here Sunday on their way to attend the yearly meeting of League wheelmen, in Washington, on the 18th, 19th and 20th insts. Some of the Frederick boys came by very early in the morning. One of them, Mr. Benjamin Rich, a graduate of Glenwood Institute, stopped for a while to chat with his friends, but the others seemed bent on getting on as fast as possible.

Later in the day twenty-five more cyclers from Buffalo, N. Y., members of the Press Cycle club, stopped here and chatted for quite a while. They had been on the road eight days and some of them looked much the worse for wear. One of the party, Mr Charles E. Gates, who was somewhat of a clown (especially in appearance), amused an audience very much by his ghost stories and get up. The writer cannot remember the exact number of years he said he had been wearing the hat he had on, but he had it imported from the southern part of France, a long time ago, he said. It had a little larger brim than most straw hats and the crown was cone shaped and about two feet high. He had never heard the song, "Where Did You Get That Hat" until after he got this one, and no doubt rests in the minds of those who saw him that the song originated from this very hat. Mr. Gates had ridden up every hill from Buffalo here and seemed as fresh as any of the club. He said these roads were a paradise to some he had ridden over and said that it was nothing up in their country to find roads three feet wide, a river on each side and muddy in the middle. It is safe to say that he will thoroughly enjoy himself on the trip and it was hoped here that the boys in Washington would let him wear his hat while in the capital, but make him leave it for little Ruth Cleveland to put in her play house next summer.

Mr. Edward Harban and Mr. H. C. Towers, of Washington, D. C., spent Sunday last in Glenwood.

Mrs. Zollickoffer and Miss Zollickoffer, of Baltimore, are spending a few weeks at Glenwood Institute.

Mrs. M. Roberts and Miss Lutie Roberts, of Richmond, Va., are also on a short stay at the Institute.

A Game at Glenwood Saturday.

Glenwood, July 20.—Quite an interesting game of base ball was played at Glenwood on Saturday last, between the home team and the Sykesville club, which resulted in a victory for the former by the score of 32 to 23. Although the score was large, the game was exciting, owing to the fact that most of the runs were made by heavy hitting. The home team had never practiced together before. They played a good game and hit the ball hard and at the right time. Their opponents put up a good game in the field, but failed to show any hard hitting.

Strong Witnesses.

Among the thousands of testimonials of cures by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, is that of Nathan Allison's, a well-known citizen of Glen Rock, Pa., who for years had shortness of breath, sleeplessness, pain in left side, shoulders, smothering spells, etc.; one bottle of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and one box of Nerve and Liver Pills, cured him. Peter Jaquet, Salem, N. J., is another witness, who for twenty years suffered with Heart Disease, was pronounced incurable by physicians, death stared him in the face, could not lie down for fear of smothering to death. Immediately after using the New Cure he felt better and could lie down and sleep all night, and is now a well man. The New Cure is sold, also free book, at Daley's drug store.

A MONSTER MEETING.

FORMAL NOTIFICATION OF CLEVELAND AND STEVENSON.

Thirty Thousand People Gather in Madison Square Garden, New York City—Mr. Cleveland's Speech of Acceptance—Other Political News.

The great amphitheatre of the famous Madison Square Garden, New York City, which has a comfortable seating capacity of 8,000, perhaps never contained such a multitude as gathered there to the number of perhaps 30,000 Wednesday night to witness the formal notification of Grover Cleveland and Adlai E. Stevenson of their nomination by the Democratic party for the offices respectively of President and Vice President of the United States.

The occasion was thoroughly Democratic, there being no reserved seats, and those who came first were served first.

Mrs. Cleveland was present and almost broke up the meeting with the enthusiasm which a mere sight of her evoked.

Hon William L. Wilson, of West Virginia, presided, and made the address of notification to Mr. Cleveland. Lieut-Gov. Stephen M. White, of California, made the address of notification to the next Vice President.

Mr. Cleveland in his speech of acceptance said:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen: The message you deliver from the National Democracy arouses within me emotions which would be well-nigh overwhelming if I did not recognize here assembled the representatives of a great party, who must share with me the responsibility your mission invites. I find much relief in the reflection that I have been selected merely to stand for the principles and purposes to which my party is pledged, and for the enforcement and supremacy of which all who have any right to claim Democratic fellowship must constantly and persistently labor.

Our party responsibility is indeed great. We assume a momentous obligation to our countrymen when, in return for their trust and confidence, we promise them a rectification of their wrongs and a better realization of the advantages which are due to them under our free and beneficent institutions.

But if our responsibility is great, our party is strong. It is strong in its sympathy with the needs of the people, in its insistence upon the exercise of governmental powers strictly within the constitutional permission the people have granted, and in its willingness to risk its life and hope upon the people's intelligence and patriotism.

Never has a great party intent upon the promotion of right and justice had better incentive for effort than is now presented to us.

Turning our eyes to the plain people of the land, we see them burdened as consumers with a tariff system that unjustly and relentlessly demands from them in the purchase of the necessaries and comforts of life an amount scarcely met by the wages of hard and steady toil, while the exactions thus wrung from them build up and increase the fortunes of those for whose benefit this injustice is perpetrated.

We see the farmer listening to a delusive story that fills his mind with visions of advantage, while his pocket is robbed by the stealthy hand of high protection.

Our workingmen are still told the tale, oft repeated in spite of its demonstrated falsity, that the existing protective tariff is a boon to them, and that under its beneficent operation their wages must increase, while as they listen scenes are enacted in the very abiding place of high protection that mock the hopes of toil and attest the tender mercy the workingman receives from those made selfish and sordid by unjust governmental favoritism.

We oppose earnestly and stubbornly the theory upon which our opponents seek to justify and uphold existing tariff laws. We need not base our attack upon questions of constitutional permission or legislative power. We denounce this theory upon the highest possible grounds when we contend that in present conditions its operation is unjust, and that laws enacted in accordance with it are inequitable and unfair.

Ours is not a destructive party. We are not at enmity with the rights of any of our citizens. All are our countrymen. We are not recklessly heedless of any American interests, nor will we abandon our regard for them, but invoking the love for fairness and justice which belongs to true Americanism, and upon which our constitution rests, we insist that no plan of tariff legislation shall be tolerated which has for its object and purpose a forced contribution from the earnings and income of the mass of our citizens to swell directly the accumulations of a favored few; nor will we permit a pretended solicitude for American labor or any other specious pretext of benevolent care for others to blind the eyes of the people to the selfish schemes of those who seek through the aid of unequal tariff laws to gain unearned and unreasonable advantages at the expense of their fellows.

We have also assumed in our covenant with those whose support we invite the duty of opposing to the death, another avowed scheme of our adversaries, which, under the guise of protecting the suffrage covers, but does not conceal, a design thereby to perpetuate the power of a party afraid to trust its continuance to the untrammeled and intelligent votes of the American people. We are pleged to resist the legislation intended to complete the scheme because we have not forgotten the saturnalia of theft and brutal control which followed another federal regulation of State suffrage; because we know that the managers of a party which did not scruple to rob the people of a President would not hesitate to use the machinery created by such legislation to revive corrupt instrumentalities for partisan purposes; because an attempt to enforce such legislation would rekindle animosities where peace and hopefulness now prevail; because such an attempt would replace prosperous activity with discouragement and dread thoroughout a large section of our country, and would menace everywhere in the land the rights reserved to the States and to the people which underlie the safeguards of American liberty.

I shall not attempt to specify at this time other objects and aims of Democratic endeavor which add inspiration to our mission. True to its history and its creed, our party will respond to the wants of the people within safe lines and guided by enlightened statesmanship.

MR. CLEVELAND ON THE CARDINAL.

Absurd Statements Which Hardly Demand Denial.

A few days ago William Back, of Chelsea, Mass., wrote ex-President Grover Cleveland, calling his attention to this statement, quoted from the report in the British-American Citizen of a discourse in Music Hall, Boston: "When Cleveland became President he had a wire run from the White House to the Cardinal's palace and placed a Roman Catholic at the head of every division of the 15,000 employes in the departments, and permitted nuns, without authority and against the printed instructions hung up in every public building in Washington, to go twice each month through them and command every clerk to contribute to the support of the Roman Catholic Church, and if he or she refused have the yellow envelope sent them. We can see how unworthy such a man is of support." Mr. Cleveland's reply, printed in the British-American Citizen this week, reads as follows:

"Gray Gables, Buzzard's Bay, Mass., July 11.—Wm. Back, Esq., Dear Sir: I am almost ashamed to yield to your request to deny a statement so silly and absurd on its face as the one you send me. However, as this is the second application I have received on the same subject, I think it best to end the matter so far as it is possible to do so by branding the statement in all its details and its spirit and intention as unqualifiedly and absolutely false. I know Cardinal Gibbons, and know him to be a good citizen and first-rate American, and that his kindness of heart and toloration are in striking contrast with the fierce intolerance and vicious malignity which disgrace some who claim to be Protestants. I know a number of members of the Catholic Church who were employed in the public service during my administration, and I suppose there were many so employed. I should be ashamed of my Presbyterianism if these declarations gave ground of offense.

"Yours, very truly,

Grover Cleveland.

Arrests by Detectives—The Commissioners Refuse to Foot the Bill

Alexander Hughes, a magistrate of the twelth district of Baltimore county, presented a bill to the county commissioners Tuesday, which included the costs for sending thirty persons to the House of Correction in the month of June. The commissioners refused to pay that portion of the bill. Commissioner Magruder said the cost to the county for the arrest of the thirty persons and sending them to the House of Correction would be about $300. The arrests were made by special officers of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, the accusation being illegal riding on the company's cars. Those arrested were committed to the custody of the sheriff. Col. D. G. McIntosh, counsel for the commissioners, said the arrests were irregular. Commissioner Rittenhouse said that as the officers who made the arrests were employed by the railroad company they should take their prisoners to the House of Correction, which they could do free of cost to the county. Colonel McIntosh asked on whose evidence the accused were committed to the House of Correction, and Justice Hughes said on the oath of the railroad officers alone. The commissioners held the case under advisement. The Pennsylvania railroad company has since agreed to pay the part of the bill questioned.

John W. Oliver has obtained letters of administration on the estate of Joseph W. Oliver.
