A Wholesale Clothing House being greatly in need of Money came to us and offered us the goods at 40cts. on the cost of Manufacture. We could not withstand the temptation and so bought nearly $75,000 worth of these goods. Now Everybody in Baltimore knows the Empire Clothing Co. for its Reliability and Square-dealing and when we say a thing it must be so. You also know that we manufacture every dollar's worth of our own goods, but these goods being bought at less than 1/2 of what we can manufacture them for we of course pitched in and bought. As we intend to save our customers the difference in price, We are now selling these Goods at 40 cts. on the Dollar. Come early and Get the Pick.

ODDS AND ENDS
A syndicate of cattle men have a perfect right to water their stock.

"Tumbling out of my stock is a paradox; it awakens one by falling asleep."

When a burglar finds a safe and does not find a prize, it is a disagreeable surprise.

"Lamma," said Jamie, "what makes the lamp smoke?" "Because it is wicked my son."

Minister—"Tommy, what is happiness?" Tommy—"promptly"—"It's when you're eatin' pie."

If a church is on fire, why has the organ the smallest chance of escape? Because the engine cannot play on it.

Tommy—"Pa, may I ask you a question?" "Pa—"Certainly my child."

Tommy—"Well, where is the wind when it does not blow?"

Father—"That cat made an awful noise in the back garden last night." Arnold—"Yes, father, I think that since he ate the canary he thinks he can sing."

Which to found a great university on this site. Is it desirable? Experts (doubtfully)—"It will take a lot of grading before foot-ball can be played here."

School Teacher—"What do you suppose was the first thing Columbus did when he reached America?" Bobby—"He gave a reporter his impressions of the country."

"Do you enjoy holidays?" asked Johnny's uncle. "Yes, sir." "What do you enjoy the most about them?" "I'm able to stay home from school without being sick."

Clerk—"What size stocking do you want?" Willie—"About No. 20, I guess." Clerk—"Why, my little man, you can't wear a larger sized than I." Willie—"these are for Christmas."

Employer—"You put that note where it will be sure to attract Mr. Smith's attention when he comes in, didn't you?" Office Boy—"Yes, sir, I stuck a pin through it and put it in his chair."

"First Brawler—"Let's quit this business and become reformers." Second—"I'm a reformer now." First—"Come off!" Second—"Yes, I am a chloroformer." And he proceeded to saturate the sponge as the victim slept.

Duffy—"The man who wrote 'Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes' got his inspiration from Boston, and I will bet on it." Parslow—"Why?" Duffy—"No other place on the globe where they are so well supplied with glasses."

Mrs. Young Housekeeper—(at market)—"And what have you to-day, Mr. Cleaver?" Butcher—"Beef, mutton, veal, pork." Mrs. Young Housekeeper—"I've had all of them quite recently. Have you got a new animal?"

"Look here, Snuggles, are you never going to pay me the $50 you borrowed two years ago?" "I'm not the man who borrowed that money, Diviniddle."

"I'm not the man who borrowed that money, Diviniddle." "My wife claims that she has made another man of me in the last eighteen months."

Mrs. Kalwar—"Will your son be home from his college for the holidays?" Mrs. Punter—"That is what is left of him?" Mrs. Punter—"Yes, you see he was one of the foot-ball eleven this year."

A Brave Soldier.
A hundred years ago the unfortunate people who came into the hands of the surgeons, generally soldiers or sailors who had been hurt in action, were forced to undergo the operations necessary to the prolongation of life without taking either of chloroform, as is now administered to make the patient unconscious, and so free from pain attendant upon the operation.

Subject had to be bound by ropes, so that much as he might desire to wince he was utterly unable to do so. Occasionally patients would show remarkable fortitude at the crises of their troubles, but none ever showed more than a soldier, who, on the morning after the battle of Yorktown (19th October, 1781), was brought into the hospital, having been shot in the leg. It was found necessary to amputate the limb, and the surgeon ordered the nurses to bind the man fast preparatory to the operation.

"Never!" protested the soldier. "You may tear my heart from my breast, but you shall not bind me! Can you get me a fiddle?"

His request was complied with, and he proceeded to tune the instrument, after which he said, "So, doctor, now you can begin." And he played during the whole of the operation, which lasted forty minutes, without uttering a single false note or disturbing his features in the slightest.
