MEETING OF THE ROAD COMMITTEE. The several Howard county district committees appointed at the meeting of farmers here on the 25th ult., in the interest of the good roads movement met at the courthouse here Tuesday to take additional steps looking to legislative action in the matter. The meeting was presided over by President Henry O. Devries, of the Howard County School Board, with R. C. Norris as secretary. the benefits that would be realized by the farmers and others from the carrying into effect of the propositions inaugurated by the promoters of the good roads lining of the plans to be presented to the [

After an exhaustive discussion of the will be necessary to help the counties roads, and the following was drawn up and approved: "This committee, appointed to consider what legislation is necessary, and how to accomplish it, for the building of good the State, decides that State aid is absolutely required to cheaply build the roads of the counties, and for this reason the matter is not one involving the interest of one county alone, but the entire State.'

"We deem it best to obtain an expression of opinion from the whole people of our State, and to this end we extend an invitation, and urgently call upon the people of each county, and Baltimore city, to hold meetings in their several communities to name five persons to be sent to a convention which will meet at Annapolis February 24th, 1898. This convention will decide what State aid and legislation is necessary to make a good and perfect system of macadamized roads for Maryland, and will have drafted for this purpose suitable bills and present the same to our Legislature "

The delegates appointed from Howard for that purpose are ex-Senator John G. Rogers, W. S Powell, Dr Arthur Williams, H. O Devries and William II. Forsythe, with B. C Sunderland, J. N. Miller, James H. Gaither, Benjamin F. Hess and John M. Delashmutt as alternates. A committee was appointed to draft the circular letter, composed of Dr. Arthur Williams, Dr. Thomas W. Linthicum and Richard Norris. In view of the uncertainty existing as to the constitutional right to appropriate money for internal improvements, a committee, composed of ex-Senator John G. Rogers, Daniel M. Murray and Edward T Jones, all of the Ellicott City bar, was appointed to examine the law relating thereto.

The following members of the com-Johnson, John G. Rogers, J. B. Clarke, James H. Gaither, Frank Parlett, C. P. Brosenne, W. H. Forsythe, Dr. T. W. Linthicum, C. B. Zepp, W. S. Powell, and Henry O. Devries. The County Commissioners were also present by special request; and a number of others.

Struck by an Engine.

A Decidedly Cool Bath. Ex-Tax Collector John W. Forsythe, of the Third district of Howard county, met with a rather chilly experience Tuesday morning at Sykesville. Just as President Benjamin F. Hess, of the Howard county commissioners, alighted from his buggy on the bridge over the Patapsco to take the train for Ellicott City a sudden gust of wind lifted his hat from his head and landed it in the middle of the river. Mr. Forsythe, who was standing by, ran down the bank, and in reaching for the hat lost his footing and fell headlong into th freezing current. He was extricated by one of the onlookers from his uncomfor table bath. The lost headgear floated or down the river and President Hess came bareheaded to Ellicott City, where he at once provided himself with a new hat.

Work Blocked.

Progress in widening the public road from the Frederick pike in Ellicott City to Jonestown, in the Second district, has been blocked, owing, it is stated, to the refusal of some of the property owners along the route to grant the right to pass through their lands. In some instances the widening of the road would necessi tate the removing of buildings or place them too near the road line, which, under the provisions of the law, could not be done without the consent of the owners. The surveys have already been made for widening the road, and the examiners appointed to lay out the road will probably report to the county commissioners on Tuesday next.

Sudden Death of Superintendent Slack. House of Correction, died Sunday after- | timore. noon at that institution. His death was inexpected, and none of the members of the family were present when lifedeparted, but were immediately telegraphed for. Superintendent Slack had been ill since Tuesday, his ailment having been attributed to indigestion. He had improved so much that on Saturday his physician, Dr. H. C. Gant, decided that it would be unnecessary for him to visit the patient any more. But Mr. Slack suffered a sudden relanse late on Saturday night, and died | ple much of their favorite pastime. Sunday shortly after noon. His death is supposed by his physician to be due to perforation of the bowels and internal hemorrhage. Mr. Slack was elected superintendent of the House of Correction in May, 1896, to succeed Mr. Jesse J. Moore after a lively contest among the friends of three candidates. Mr. Slack was forty-four years of age and was a native of Ba timore county. He was born near North Branch, in the Second district, and was taken to Carroll county by his parents when about three years old. He was educated in the public schools of the county, and spent most of his days as a practical farmer. His home was near Eldersburg, Carroll county. He held no other public office, but was the Republi-roll county, and was defeated by about twenty majority. A wife and daughter, Mrs. Devries, of Freedom district, Carroll county, survive him. Mr. Slack was considered a most capable and efficient officer, and had the respect of the entire hoard. As superintendent of the institution he made many mprovements, providing employment for nearly all of the immates, painting the buildings, grading the grounds, etc. It is quite probable that Mr. King, the assistant superintendent, will be made

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Miles, of Washing ton, D. C., are visiting Mr. Miles' parent at Daisy. We were surprised that our facetious friend, "Tim Trickett," allowed his temper to be ruffled by the remarks of "J W." He must have been suffering from an attack of indigestion. "It is better to overlook trivial offenses than to quarrel for them; by the last you are even with your adversary, by the first above him." Mrs. J. T. Flynn made a flying visit to LISBON, Feb. 1.-Lisbon is still impromised in the spring.

The Presbyterian Mite Society will meet at the home of Mrs Oliver Hutchins, near Morgan, the second Tuesday in No doubt the expression, "Charity begins at home," is a very familiar one to all the readers of THE TIMES, but my opinion is that this proverb can be changed, as, I think, last week "charity" began at Lisbon high school, for about eight of our young lads entered a Lisbon yard with an ax on their shoulder and a saw in their hands, and quickly demol ished a large pile of wood for the sick occupants who lived within. And although some of them are the sons of honorables, they were not afraid to swing the ax, remembering as on they worked swung a "hatchet," but not to as good a purpose as they did.

OBLLA NOTES

Application will be made to the county school board for the erection of a new house for the accommodation of school No. 4, about one mile east of this place, known as the Devier school, of which Mr. William H. Upman is principal.

The first meeting of the Oella Ald Society since September last was held Tuesday night in the hall here, Mr. Joseph H. Holmes presiding. It was decided to meet regularly hereafter on the first Tuesday night of each month, and at the March meeting a musical and literary program will be rendered. The treasurer reported a balance on hand of over $30. The dues of the association are ten cents a month and the money is used in relieving those in want about the village. The protracted meeting which has been in progress in Patapsco M. P. Church here for several weeks under the charge of Rev. Wm. S. Simms, has caused a great awakening among our people, and the church is crowded nightly. A large number have professed conversion and each night new faces are seen around the altar seeking salvation. Mr. Calvin B. Green has shown us an egg, dropped by one of his hens, on the larger end of which is the letter G as if embossed. The letter is five-eighths of an inch in diameter and well defined. Mrs. Annie Ober, of Baltimore, has been here this week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schotta. Mrs. C. B. Green and Mrs. Edward L. Webb were visiting friends at Alberton Saturday and Sunday last.

OAKLAND MILLS.

OAKLAND MILLS, Feb. 3 .- Tuesday last here was by far the coldest day this winter and also the most disagreeable. The ast fall of snow has drifted very much and blockcaded the roads in some places. Mr. Wm. O'Neill, of this neighborhood, has moved his steam saw-mill to the forest of O'Donnell Bros. near Carroll's mill, where he will be busy sawing building frames and lumber. This has been a hard winter on the wheat crop, but there is now a change in ts favor. The last guild of Christ Church, before lent, was held at the parsonage Wednesday evening last. There was a large attendance notwithstanding the night was quite cold. G. W. G.

THANKFUL FOR THAT. The following lines are a few of the topics of the day set to the song, "Thank ful Every Time," the first verse being the original:

Now, an old colored preacher, while warning his flock, Said meanness was Satan's best hook: You can never be sayed 'till your purse yo unlock,
And then a collection he took.
The deacon passed faithfully through the dark erowd. But all he brought back was the hat.

The preacher he took it and said quite aloud Now we ought to be thankful for that. CHORUS. Thankful for that, yes, thankful for that; Now we ought to be thankful for that; if we've got nothing else we can still keep th

And we ought to be thankful for that. Rapid transit's a thing we would all like to see. Let us hope that we will before long, And from railroads' extortion we soon will be free, And hear the electric cars gong.

To North, South and East the people all flock,
To all places but where we are at. And if we cannot all ride we're still able to And we ought to be thankful for that. Chorus. The subject of good roads appeals to us all, whether we walk or we ride. The rich and the po-r, the great and the smal Are carried along on the tide of public opinion when its at the flood,

Is still very hard to combat.
If we cannot get stone we still have the mud,
And we ought to be thankful for that. Chorus. Down at Annapolis at last they have found A man to succeed Arthur Pue. But though he's beaten, he will still hold h ground, As all true Democrats do. He'll "bob up serenely" in some future plan. You can bet your last dollar on that. If we havn't got the Senator, we still have the And we ought to be thankful for that.

Chorus. Elkridge, Feb. 3, 1893, A Steer Without Water 99 days. The Frederick correspondence of the Baltimore Sun gives the following: On October 20 last, James Houck, vice president of the Franklin Savings Bank, of DAISY, Jan. 31 .- Mr. Editor: - Please Frederick, advertised that a young steer be more careful with my manuscript in | had strayed away from his farm, tenanted by Harlan Ramsburg, near that city. Nothing was heard of the animal and i was Liven up for lost, until Friday, when one of the colored men noticed several hens frequently going into a hole in straw stack in the barn yard. Thinking they had a nest he crawled in about fifteen feet in search of the eggs. He came out much quicker than he had gone in, declaring the stack was haunted, as something had kicked him. Another man was sent in to investigate, and he too came out exclaiming that something was alive in there, as he felt a hairy leg, and it had also kicked his hand. An investigation was then made and s large hole cut in the straw stack, when the missing steer was actually found under the straw, where it had been impris oned for ninety-nine days without food or water, excepting the straw which it had subsisted on, as it had made a hole about ten feet square in the stack. The hands on the place now recall the fact that on the second day's threshing they observed the steer standing against the stack which had been made the first day. and saw the straw falling over the animal. but thought it had moved away. When rescued it was very weak and emaciated.

SHOOTING SHAFTS AT TIM TRICKETT BALTIMORE, Feb. 3, 1898.

EDITOR OF THE TIMES: George Melville Boynton, the insane bedestrian, who has walked from San Francisco without handling a cent of money, and who proposes to spend five years of his life in a trip around the world without touching a cent, was in this city a few days ago, begging Mayor Malster to give him a certificate as proof of his arrival here. ## RANDALL'S APOLOGY.

EDITOR TIMES. The election of United States Senator in the General Assembly of Maryland has been watched with much interest by the people of Virginia. The election of Mr. McComas, it would seem, places in office a quondam supporter of the infamous Fo ce Bill, a measure disgustingly re puggant to all freeman of the Anglo Saxon race. But for the ever memorable fight made by your senior Senator, the Chevaller Bayard, the Knight, sans puer, sans reproache in that contest, the American people would now exercise their right of suffrage only beneath the glitter of the partisan bayonet.

Had Mr. Gorman in his long and brilliant career as Senator performed no other act than that of defeating the passage of the Force Bill, he would still deserve the sincere gratitude of the nation. But it is to be noted that Mr. Gorman received the vote of the entire legislative delegation on the Democratic side, in your State Senate. That delegation re presents the taxpayers and the intelligence of Maryland. Hence, the infamous slander promulgated, and the direct insult offered to the white people of Maryland by poor Mr Randall in his studied oratorical crusade. But he heard the mutterings of an approaching storm and apologised! The idea of the president of Maryland's Senate apologising to the people's representarives!
